BOTH SIDES SIGN TREATY FOR CANAL

Panama Grants United States More Liberal Conditions than Colombia; Will Go to Senate Soon.

HITT DEFENDS COURSE.

Declares Recognition of New Republic Has Ample Precedent — Insurrection Was Not Aided.

[BY RAYMOND.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—In the library of Secretary Hay's house, where the treaty with Colombia was signed last January, an entirely new agreement on behalf of the United States of America, and by Mr. Bunau-Varilla on behalf of the new republic of Panama, was signed tonight just before dinner, between the hours of 6:30 and 7:30. The treaty will be transmitted to the senate within a short time and will be ready for action by that body without any further negotiations.

The new treaty is a much more liberal one than that which was negotiated with Colombia and finally rejected by the government at Bogota. The new treaty increases the width of the canal strip to ten miles instead of six, and the United States is granted the use in perpetuity of the canal zone from ocean to ocean, with exclusive control for police, sanitary, and governmental purposes, but is to have no actual political sovereignty. The republic of Panama is to receive $10,000,000, with an annual payment from the United States of $250,000, beginning nine years after the ratification.

Panama Controls Terminals.

The government of Panama is to control the courts and police of the terminal cities of Panama and Colon, but if the administration proves unsatisfactory the United States may assume the police and judicial control. The new Panama canal company is specifically authorized to transfer to the United States all its properties, including its shares in the Panama railroad. The island in the bay of Panama is included within the canal zone. The United States is given complete authority to police and protect the canal. The republic of Panama agrees not to cede or lease to any foreign government any island or harbor for the purpose of establishing fortifications, naval stations, or military posts. The United States agrees to guarantee the integrity of Panama territory, so far as it relates in any way to the canal zone and specifically disavows any desire to exercise or extend its own political control at the expense of Panama or any other republic on the American continent.

Other Features of Treaty.

Other features of the treaty include those relating to the freedom of the canal to the commerce of the world; the rights of Panama in the collection of the customs at Panama and Colon; the free importation of material for use in the construction, maintenance, and operation of the canal, and the maintenance by the United States of the neutrality of the isthmus of Panama and the canal zone, similar to those in the treaty with Colombia.

An outline of the proposed treaty was submitted to a cabinet meeting yesterday and fully approved, so that Secretary Hay was enabled to make much more rapid progress than had been expected in agreeing upon the actual treaty. It has not been definitely decided just when it will be submitted to the senate, but it probably will go over to Capitol hill without any delay.

The actual signing of the treaty was a source of intense gratification to the president and his advisers. They are fully convinced the people will entirely appreciate the promptness with which the administration has recognized the new government and negotiated the new treaty, the whole proceeding, from beginning to end, having been dictated by the desire of the president to start the actual work on the interoceanic canal.

Hitt Gives Administration Policy.

No man in this country ranks with Robert R. Hitt of Illinois, the chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the house, as an authority on international law and custom. In view of the fact that Secretary Hay and M. Bunau-Varilla today signed a canal treaty which will be certain to provoke discussion among international lawyers, I feel fortunate in having secured from the great-est American authority on the subject an elaborate interview which will, in all probability, be taken as expounding the settled policy of the administration in anticipation of democratic attacks.

When I asked Mr. Hitt: "Was the recognition of the new republic of Panama by our president hasty or any sooner than is usual in such circumstances?" he answered: "Not at all. When a new government is established after a revolution, with the manifest assent of the people, without substantial opposition, and capable of maintaining order, we have always held it the duty of our government to recognize it as soon as it applies.

Precedent in Other Cases.

"For example, when a revolution occurred in Rio Janeiro Nov. 17, 1889, Minister Adams, by instructions, opened diplomatic relations with the new government Nov. 19, after only two days' delay. When the last revolution occurred in Paris Sept. 4 and 5, 1870, Minister Washburne was instructed to recognize the new government, and did so Sept. 7, with three days' delay. When the revolution occurred in Paris on Thursday, Feb. 24, 1848, Minister Rush, within two days, intimated on Saturday, the 26th, to the provisional government that he was ready, and on Monday, the 28th, he formally recognized it, delivering an address of congratulation, and he wrote to La Martine as minister of foreign affairs. He did this without instructions, for there was no ocean cable then, and our government heartily approved my action.

"The revolution at Panama occurred Nov. 3, and on the 7th, after careful consideration, the Washington government instructed me to enter into relations with it when satisfied that a de facto government was established. This was within five days longer than in the other cases I have mentioned. The unanimity among the people of Panama in support of their new government was far greater than in any of the other cases. Our government acted carefully on full information and deliberately according to precedent."

"Was our government bound by treaty to guarantee the sovereignty of Colombia over

ANGER IN DEBATE OVER CUBAN BILL.

TELLS OF MONEY USED.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The opposition to Cuban reciprocity in the house today was led by Congressman Fordney, republican of Michigan, who became so violent in his denunciation of the treaty and of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, and of other men who have worked for the Cuban reciprocity, that his remarks are considered libelous by most newspapers.

Congressman Fordney accused Gen. Leonard Wood of "reaching his long fingers into the Cuban treasury" and taking "from those poor, starving Cubans" $20,000 which he paid to Francis Thurber of New York to be used in influencing legislation in congress.

The Michigan congressman followed Grosvenor of Ohio, who, while urging Cuban reciprocity, took occasion to predict the election of a republican president and congress in 1904, giving the names of the states which he declared would surely be republican. He declared that the democratic nominee in 1904 would have to carry New York City by double the vote given McClellan for mayor in order to carry the state. He claimed a total of 263 electoral votes for the republican candidate, with sixty-two additional votes in the doubtful column. He did not include the state of New York in the republican column, and admitted that Delaware, Idaho, Maryland, and Montana were doubtful states.

Fordney's Sensational Speech.

After Grosvenor had made his forecast for 1904 and Messrs. Loud and McMorran of Michigan had spoken in opposition to the Cuban reciprocity bill, Congressman Fordney took the floor to make his sensational speech.

Mr. Fordney described the measure as an "infernal bill," which he said would wipe out the sugar industry in Michigan. He reviewed the history of the beet sugar industry and pointed out how, in his opinion, it would be injured by the passage of the bill. Continuing he said:

"Some one has said that it makes no difference whether you put this measure into law or not. If that is so, why was Mr. E. F. Atkins of Boston here nearly two years ago? Why was that —— (Here Mr. Fordney used adjectives which are considered libelous in most newspapers) Thurber here? Why has he been here, as he has, sneaking around this capitol ever since I have been in congress—who afterward admitted that he was paid by the sugar trust and lied when before the committee on ways and means when asked if he had received any money from Havemeyer of the sugar trust. He said no, but when placed upon oath, testified that he had received money from Havemeyer, and also testified that he had received money directly from Maj. Gen. Wood, military governor of Cuba."

Attacks Maj. Gen. Wood.

Mr. Fordney said he wanted to criticise Maj. Gen. Wood, for it had been proved that he had extracted "from those poor, starving Cubans" $20,000 which he had paid to Thurber to influence legislation.

"O, what action by a high official," continued Mr. Fordney. "He claimed that the Cubans were starving, and then reached his long fingers into the Cuban treasury and handed out $20,000 to this——" and here Mr. Fordney again called names which might be considered libelous uttered anywhere save in congress.

Mr. Fordney said Gen. Wood had testified before a senate committee that he had searched the whole island and that all the sugar he could find that belonged to the trust was 3,285 tons.

"A few days later Mr. Havemeyer testified that the trust had 93,000 tons of sugar in Cuba. Wood only missed it by 90,000 tons. That is not much for a military officer. The average American soldier is a better marksman than that. I could beat it myself."

Fears for Beet Sugar.

Mr. Fordney said that with the reduction on the tariff on sugar which would follow this bill the trust at its will would reduce the price of sugar to a point with which the beet sugar manufacturers could not compete, and when they had crushed them out raise the price. Speaking of beet sugar production he said:

"What they want is to wipe this out. They have come into the state of Michigan and have become interested in ten of our twenty factories, and what for? It is cheaper to buy up those factories and sell them for scrap iron than it is to fight this competition."

Mr. Gardner (rep., Mich.) explained why he had changed his views and now favors the passage of the bill. In the first place, conditions had changed in the last two years. He said the president of a beet sugar plant in his district favored the bill.

Grosvenor for Protection

Mr. Grosvenor in his remarks earlier in the day said he would not permit his vote on this question to be challenged as affecting his attitude on the dominant question of protection to American industries. Speaking of tariff revision, he said the republicans would revise the schedules when they got ready to do so, and in their own way without any aid from the opposite side of the house, and that the revision would be with special reference to the upbuilding of American industries without disturbing present conditions.

Names Republican States.

Mr. Grosvenor, replying to the statement of Mr. Clark [Mo.] as to the probability of the democrats gaining control of the next congress and electing the next president, said the democrats would carry Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.

He gave the democrats 151 votes and 62 doubtful. He then named the following republican states: California, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming, with a total of 263 votes.

MR. LUGUBRIOUS BLUE AND MR. SMILEY GLADD DISCUSS THE SITUATION.

Mr. Blue—"Mark my word, we're going to have a terrible winter. The autumn has been so fine that we'll have to pay dearly for it this winter."

Mr. Gladd—"O, I think not. The fall was pleasant to pay up for the bad weather we had two winters ago."

Mr. Blue—"And we'll have dreadful suffering and sickness and sorrow. The street car strike will spread to all lines and will be long and bitter, with a horrible reign of terror and bloodshed."

Mr. Gladd—"O, I reckon not. Walking's healthy exercise, and nobody'll suffer except the innocent bystander, and he can go into a saloon and get warm. And, besides, I think the strike will be settled in a few days."

Mr. Blue—"Everything seems to be going wrong. Labor difficulties everywhere, winter coming, coal strikes probably, and I read that the sun is gradually cooling, which will cause frightfully cold weather. I sometimes feel as if I might as well give up the struggle."

Mr. Gladd—"O, cheer up. Spring is only four months away, and you'll be glad next summer that the sun is cooling off a bit."

QUEER FEATURES IN CASE

Police Unable to Learn How Chloroform Was Administered.

Mrs. Lulu W. Brennan, 27 years old, died yesterday afternoon in the Chicago hospital a few hours after she was found unconscious in the Del Prado hotel from the effect of chloroform. The police are endeavoring to find out how the drug was applied and to solve mysterious features in the case. The woman's husband is Robert Brennan, an insurance man in Denver.

Mrs. Brennan came to Chicago six weeks ago, and was taking treatment from Dr. James Nevins Hyde, 100 State street, for a skin trouble. At 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning her maid, Miss Prudence McKinley, who accompanied her on the trip from Denver, failed to obtain an answer when she called her. She summoned guests from rooms across the hall, and a physician was notified. He advised that the unconscious woman be taken to the hospital, where she died.

The police were not notified until late in the evening, and then detectives failed to learn the means by which the chloroform had been applied.

Always Heavily Veiled.

It was reported at the hotel last night that Mrs. Brennan had been despondent during the last two days. She had mingled little with the other guests since her arrival, Oct. 1. Her meals were served in her room. Accompanied by her maid, she left her apartments at 10 o'clock each day and entered a closed carriage in waiting at the door to go to her physician's office.

Mrs. Brennan was tall and of striking appearance. She gave evidence of being a woman of wealth.

No Record of Chloroform Sale.

When notified of the woman's death the police were informed that it was a case of suicide. Inquiry was made at drug stores in the vicinity, but no record was found of a recent sale of chloroform.

James E. Pettit, 145 Campbell avenue, chief operator for the Postal Telegraph company, was Mrs. Brennan's uncle. He declared last night that he believed she had committed suicide, and said there could be no ground for a suspicion of murder. The bottle which contained the chloroform was found under a couch, he asserted. With the label scratched off, it is now in the possession of the manager of the hotel.

"Mrs. Brennan had been acting queerly," said Mr. Pettit. "It is possible, however, that she might have taken the chloroform to deaden pain. Last evening she visited me at my office. The body will be taken back to Denver by Miss McKinley, her maid, who is an old playmate of my niece."

A telegram received last night from Denver stated that no reason is known there for Mrs. Brennan to commit suicide.

Two Suicides of a Day.

Two suicides yesterday were:

PRIEST VS. MISS GOULD

PASTOR SHOWS RESENTMENT

Tarrytown, N. Y., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Sandwiches on Friday at a reception given by Miss Helen Gould to her sewing school at Irvington have caused no end of a controversy with the Rev. T. J. Earley, pastor of the Roman Catholic church of Irvington.

The story of the affair is told as follows by a citizen of Irvington: "Miss Gould takes great pleasure in the sewing class for young girls which she conducts at Lyndhurst. The school started when she was a young girl and has grown so that now over 300 girls are instructed by Miss Gould's teachers. She defrays all expenses.

Gives Annual Party.

"It is Miss Gould's custom annually to give a party to the children and also one to the mothers of the children. No line was drawn this year, and the children's reception happened to be held on Friday. There were many Roman Catholic children in the class, and the refreshments consisted, among other things, of sandwiches. These the Roman Catholic children ate along with the rest of the refreshments, and when they went home their mothers were interested and wanted to know how Miss Gould had entertained them and what they had had to eat. The children said sandwiches and the Roman Catholic mothers remembered it was Friday. They told Father Earley."

He was angry, so it is said, and the next Sunday morning openly attacked Miss Gould. He is reported to have said that Miss Gould had placed a sin on the souls of his church. His congregation was astonished. Father Earley forbids parents to send their children to Miss Gould's class and has openly defied them to do so.

Miss Gould Makes Statement.

Miss Gould tonight gave out the following statement: "Among the refreshments were sandwiches, and when the Irvington Roman Catholic priest heard it he placed a ban upon Miss Gould, thus taking out quite a number of children. Of course, they need not have eaten the sandwiches unless they wished to do so."

When Miss Gould heard of Father Earley's attack she wrote him, saying:

"Miss Gould regrets you felt it necessary to forbid children of your parish coming to her sewing school because at the annual party which was held on Friday some of them ate sandwiches. Since, however, the ban has largely affected the attendance at the school, she has decided in future to do what she has long wished but refrained from doing on account of the presence of Roman Catholic girls, that is, hereafter a short selection from the bible will be read in the opening service. She thought it courteous to inform you of this, as she understands the church you represent discourages the reading of the scriptures by the people."

Priest Objects to Bible.

To this Father Earley replied, saying he disliked to take notice of any philanthropic work which Miss Gould did, but said the Roman Catholic church objected only to the Protestant version of the bible.

SEE PLOT IN HOTEL.

Detectives Hold James Ozello as Suspect in Odd Case.

MAN SAYS HE WAS ROBBED.

Guest at 32 Wells Street Made Unconscious by Gas.

Detectives from the Chicago avenue police station last evening arrested James Ozello, proprietor of the Northwestern hotel, at 32 Wells street. He will be held during the investigation of charges of larceny made by F. A. Stevens, a farmer from Westfield, Mass. It is possible the matter of attempted murder may also figure in the case.

The case recalled the death of Anrico Tomago and Jacob Maraldo at the same hotel last April. The men, just arrived from Italy, were found unconscious in a room near that occupied by Stevens. They died soon afterward at the hospital. Relatives declared the newcomers had $1,000 when they entered the hotel. But in their case the coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Alleges Loss of $105.

Stevens was found unconscious in his room at the hotel last Monday. He is at the Passavant hospital, and when told he had slight chances of recovery, he sent for Police Inspector Campbell.

"I've been robbed," said Stevens. "I turned the gas out before I went to sleep, but I awoke in the hospital and found all my money—$105—gone. I lost my watch, too."

Detectives discovered a young woman employed in the hotel had been seen leaving Stevens' room two hours before a bellboy found the guest overcome by gas.

Several of Ozello's employés were taken to the station and their stories, the police say, differ greatly from those of Ozello. The inspector was convinced that the hotel proprietor knew more than he was willing to tell and because of this he was sent to a cell last night, although his friends endeavored to secure his release on bonds.

Evidence Is Circumstantial.

Inspector Campbell says the evidence his officers have collected against Ozello is purely circumstantial, but so strong that he was obliged to hold Ozello on a charge of larceny.

Ozello, who has been in the hotel business for the last ten years, said he will have no difficulty in proving his innocence.

"I do not know anything about this matter," he said. "Despite the fact that my employés have exonerated me by their stories the police have accused me of having some knowledge of the affair."

Inspector Campbell said he will not be ready to proceed with the hearing of Ozello this morning, but that when the case is called before Justice Mayer he will ask for a continuance.

"Mr. Stevens is still ill, and he will not be able to appear in court for a week, and, of course, the court will have to hear his story," said the inspector.

Three Peddlers Held Up.

Three peddlers, Charles Greenwald, William Mason, and George Harter, residing at 700 Marshfield avenue, were held up at Eighty-seventh street and South Chicago avenue late at night. Three men who approached from the opposite direction in a buggy were the robbers. Greenwald lost $150, but the thieves did not secure anything from his companions.

PEACE FAR AWAY; STRIKERS' OFFER MEETS REFUSAL.

Mayor and His Committee Continue Negotiations All Day and Reach a Deadlock.

MEN DESERTING UNION.

Company Has Little Difficulty on Three Lines and Will Attempt to Open a Fourth Today.

The cause of peace in the Chicago City railway strike received a setback last night. After twelve hours spent in conferences the city and the company reached a deadlock at 10 o'clock. At that hour Mayor Harrison expressed small hope that a settlement can be secured. The aldermanic committee will convene again today.

During the day session the mediators received from the strikers a proposition of concessions. This was in turn submitted to the company's representatives, who refused to accede to it. The men proposed to concede their demand for a "closed shop," and, it is said, to allow their pay to remain as it is, asking chiefly for rearrangement of schedules or hours of work.

At night a second effort was made, going over the same ground, to secure counter concessions from the company, but this was fruitless.

Three Lines Operated.

The company operated three lines of cars in a limited way and under police protection. The lines were the Cottage Grove, Indiana, and Wentworth avenue systems. Little trouble was experienced. In the evening General Manager McCulloch declared that during the day more than 100 of the men who walked out a week ago had signified their intention of deserting the strikers and returning to work.

The talk of extending the strike to all the other surface and elevated lines of the city continued and grew louder in the evening when the failure of negotiations became apparent. Some of the union leaders declared that the thousands of Union Traction employés would be of greater service to the strikers by remaining at work and contributing the $1.25 each per week than by joining in the strike.

Union Traction men also, knowing their road is in the hands of the federal court, see visions of Fort Sheridan soldiers, which are less cheerful than the visions of policemen, on their cars.

Teamsters Order a Tieup.

The teamsters met at night and declared that all wagons in use by the City railway must stop, and an effort will be made to check more completely the delivery of supplies to the barns and "barracks."

City railway officials declare that these teamsters who are now working for them will remain loyal in spite of the strike order.

Early Hope of Peace Dashed.

Until 5 o'clock in the afternoon it was believed the strike would be ended speedily. Representatives of the union who had been in conference with the committee declared that it would be. The committee considered that the concessions it was able to offer the company in behalf of the men justified the belief that arbitration would be accepted.

Just at that time the company's directors held a meeting in the office of President Hamilton in the Title and Trust building and framed an answer which dashed these hopes.

"It is not so hopeful as it was yesterday," said the mayor later. "Nothing definite has been agreed to. Nothing can be said. The company will meet and draw up a statement tomorrow. Further action on the part of the committee depends on that statement."

Limit of Good Nature Reached.

Frequently during the meetings of the committee with the company the mayor and Mr. Bliss showed that they were reaching the end of good nature in the matter. At the night session the discussion was carried on in an emphatic manner that was evident in spite of the fact that the parties to the conference were behind closed doors.

After the aldermen and the representatives reached a point from which they could not advance and broke up the session without result, the mayor was asked whether, in view of the position taken by the company, he would continue to devote half the police force to the protection of the lines.

"The police will have to protect property," he said. "That is all there is to that question."

Conferences Last All Day.

The conferences between the city and the union and the city and the company were begun at 10 o'clock in the morning, and, with the exception of a half hour recess taken at 7:30 o'clock, occupied twelve hours.

President Hamilton and Mr. Bliss were the first to meet the committee. They were informed of the concessions which the men had agreed to make at the conference on Tuesday. These included the abandonment of the closed shop claim. After a discussion lasting until noon Mr. Bliss and Mr. Hamilton retired, announcing that they would give an answer later.

Threat of General Strike.

Then a committee of five, representing the employés of the other street railways systems, surface, and elevated laid a petition before the mayor urging the claims of the south side men. This committee was composed of J. H. Larkin, president of the Union Traction and Consolidated Traction employés; Charles Ward, president of the Chicago Electric Traction company's employés; J. T. McIntosh, president of the elevated railroad employés; John Campbell, president of the Chicago General railway employés; and Charles Narrow, president of the Calumet Electric employés.

After this interview Larkin, spokesman for the committee, announced that the trainmen had told the mayor that unless arbitration were accepted by the company the employés of the other lines would have to use their power to aid the south side union.

"It might be possible," said Larkin, "that the other organizations would have to take action to support the cause."

This was construed to mean that a general strike on the surface and elevated lines of the city was in contemplation. Mayor Harrison said that no such statements had been made to him and that the committee had not mentioned the possibility of a sympathetic strike.

While this set of men was seeing the mayor, the aldermen of the committee were at lunch-

con. The mayor had a sandwich sent into his office, and Attorney Prentiss, Attorney Darrow, and President Mahon of the strikers were sent for.

Then a statement of the concessions which the strikers were willing to make was drawn up. It was presented as coming from the mayor's committee and not from the men themselves.

While this was being done the directors of the company were sitting in the office of President Hamilton waiting for some news from the conference of the men and the committee.

By 4:30 p. m. the railway officials became impatient and called up the mayor on the telephone, wanting to know when they would hear from the aldermen. To answer it the mayor was obliged to leave his inner office and use the instrument in the outer room. In this way it became apparent that both the mayor and the directors were becoming worn in temper.

Mayor at the 'Phone.

"I'm sorry you're in that frame of mind about it," said the mayor at his end of the wire, talking to Col. Bliss at the other.

"We're working along the lines I indicated.

"We'll get through just as rapidly as we can.

"Well, you people might consider the fact that I have been tied up here since morning and that I have not had luncheon. You are not being put to any inconvenience that I escape. I've had a sandwich. It seems to me that you might be a little patient under the circumstances."

Shortly after this talk over the telephone Mr. Bliss was sent for. When he went to the mayor's office the representatives of the union were still sitting there with the aldermen, but the traction attorney passed on through their room to another and the labor men were let out the side door.

Men's Concessions Announced.

When Col. Bliss went back to President Hamilton's office he carried the statement of concessions which the men were willing to make. The directors went into session to consider this. President Hamilton, A. W. Goodrich, Joseph Leiter, Lawrence A. Young, and Arthur Orr being present.

The directors kept the mayor and the committee waiting until nearly 7 o'clock, during which time nothing was done, and then an answer was made. What this contained was not made public, but it was so unsatisfactory from the committee's standpoint that another conference was sought with the company.

President Hamilton and Mr. Bliss were found at dinner in the Sherman house and replied that they would meet the committee again at 8 o'clock. At that hour the conferences were again taken up. In this session it was the desire of the mediation committee to obtain from the company something in the shape of a concession which could be offered to the strikers.

It was explained that the men had given way on most of the points in the controversy which they had held essential a week ago. They had abandoned the "closed shop" demand. They were willing to allow the wage question to stand as it is at present. Their demands had narrowed down to one, that the routing of the cars be so adjusted that the employés would not be put to inconvenience and hardship by their hours.

It was represented to Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Bliss that the strikers were willing to make these concessions. Something in return was asked.

Prospects of Peace Fade.

At that point the prospects of peace faded away. The company refused to concede anything. For two hours and a half the mayor and aldermen argued the matter. At the end of that time the situation was exactly where it was at the beginning. It became apparent then that it would be impossible to reach an agreement and the struggle was given up for the day. When the company officials departed Mr. Bliss said there was no announcement that could be made. The aldermen scattered for their homes and the mayor declared that a discussion of the affair would do no good.

"The company will have a statement for the committee tomorrow," he said. "The outlook is not hopeful. Further action on the part of the committee will depend on this statement."

Desertions from Union.

With this unpromising outlook of peace in the city hall negotiations signs of a break in the ranks of the strikers became apparent. Over 100 of the men promised to return to work and to try to induce others to follow the same course.

The first union man to desert the cause of the strikers was M. J. Johnson, head engineer at the power house on Fifty-second and State streets. Then came a refusal of eight of the electric trainmen to remain out of employment, and early in the afternoon four cable splicers took similar action. During the entire day cable and electric trainmen reported for work until the total had passed the hundred mark.

"We feel that the men are beginning to realize that they made a mistake in striking," said one of the directors of the company. "Many of them are the best paid of their craft in the world, and they are loath to see their jobs go to men from out of town. Those who have deserted the union are not cowards, but men who are not willing to see the fruits of years of labor drop into the hands of men who have not earned them."

Halsted Street Line Today.

The company has decided to open up its Halsted street electric line this morning. Following a conference between Inspector Lavin, Assistant Chief Schuettler, and General Manager McCulloch, it was announced that the first car to resume operations on the stockyards line would leave the Seventy-seventh street sheds at 8:30 a. m.

"I do not believe there will be any trouble except at the noon hour," said Assistant Chief Schuettler.

Union Traction Massmeeting.

These preparations were met by the strike leaders with a notification that the employés of the Union Traction company will hold a massmeeting at Schoenhofen's hall, Ashland and Milwaukee avenues, "to discuss the strike and to assist the members of division No. 200 in every way possible." The elevated employés will gather tomorrow, according to the present plans, and the members of the other divisions later in the week.

The calls for these meetings stirred up the talk about a general strike. Many of the radicals hope to have it called. Committees were informally appointed to look over the situation, but nothing definite was done. The strike leaders, such as International President W. D. Mahon and International Organizer C. O. Pratt, will not advise such a move, but fear that it may be taken.

The officers of the Chicago Federation of Labor have decided to hold a massmeeting at Tattersall's next Sunday evening that will surpass their last effort. Every union will be requested to form at its headquarters and march to the hall. Bands will be supplied by the Chicago Federation of Musicians and will play along the lines of march. The principal topics to be discussed are the south side strike and municipal ownership.

Plan to Arrest Curry.

The strike leaders, who have been aroused by the bold attitude of "Strike Breaker" Frank Curry, who took out the first Wentworth avenue car, have decided to swear out warrants against him. They have found an old case of assault, battery, and riot, and intend to have Deputy Sheriff James H. Bowman, once president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, take him in custody for the alleged offenses.

The plan that has been worked out is spectacular. Deputy Sheriff Bowman is to stop Curry on his way downtown, serve the warrant, and take him to the north side. There they will charge him with having assaulted, in a riotous dispute, two teamsters who refused to get out of the way of his car. The trouble occurred several weeks before the strike, and at the time Curry was fined $25 and costs for his conduct. This punishment, they claim, will not invalidate their case, as the charges on which he was fined are not those they will advance.

State Board Still Offering.

The state board of arbitration made its twelfth attempt to become an important factor in the controversy by informing Attorney E. R. Bliss that, like Barkis, "it is willin'." The members of the board have already succeeded in gathering data for more than twenty pages of their next annual report and at a meeting with Attorney Bliss today they hope to get material for five more pages.

Federation Takes a Hand.

The Chicago Federation of Labor took a hand in the trouble again by sending a communication to Mayor Harrison asking that "pending negotiations he withdraw the police from the cars to the end that further complications may not arise that will tend to prolong the present controversy."

The International Association of Machinists and the Women's Label league took the same action.

The executive board of the federation followed the footsteps of the street car men from the divisions not on strike by passing a resolution to "again request the mayor and governor to use their good offices to bring about arbitration." If these measures fail, the federation will have a special meeting of all wage earners to consider what shall be done.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS TOLD BY BULLETINS.

10:50 p. m.—Mayor and committee break session. Mayor says prospects for peace are less bright than on Tuesday.

CARS RUN IN INDIANA AVENUE.

Police Have Little Trouble at Opening of Third City Railway Line by Nonunion Men.

With the opening of the Indiana avenue line by the operation of five trolley cars in the morning and eight in the afternoon, the third of the eleven south side car lines resumed operation yesterday. On the Cottage Grove avenue line eight, and later eighteen, cable trains were running at regular intervals, each carrying policemen as on previous days.

Policemen were stationed along both lines, but there was little work for them. The teamsters, who earlier in the strike had tried blockading tactics, have learned that any attempts to stop the cars will meet with prompt arrest.

The manner in which the police have suppressed attempts at violence has in a measure restored the confidence of the public, and more passengers rode on the street cars than on any other day since the beginning of the strike.

Arrest at Fourteenth Street.

The first of the six cars operated in Cottage Grove avenue during the morning left the barns at Cottage Grove avenue and Thirty-ninth street before 9 o'clock. Inspector Hunt and Capt. Madden were in charge of the cars south of Thirty-ninth street, and Capt. O'Brien and Lieut. O'Connor of Desplaines street looked after the north end of the line. The trains were run north to Fourteenth street without interruption, but at Fourteenth street Harry Talkson, a coal teamster, shouted at the nonunion crew and was arrested.

Frank Beyreiter, also a teamster, was arrested at Hubbard court for a similar offense. During the day other arrests were made, and teamsters were dragged from their wagons, but the worst offense was attempting to blockade the cars.

John Spaus and John Martin, who were riding on an ice wagon, were arrested for driving into the first cable train, at Thirty-sixth street. The men had been ordered from the track, and when they pulled out, the gripman attempted to pass the wagon. There was not enough room and the wagon collided with the trailer, breaking two windows and damaging the side of the car.

A race to make an arrest was run in Forty-seventh street at 11 o'clock. John Wilson and James Schranck drove upon the tracks with a wagon heavily loaded with iron, and then they abandoned the wagon. The police chased the men for several blocks before capturing them.

Run Indiana Avenue Cars.

Meanwhile Assistant Chief Schuettler and Inspector Lavin with 200 men had arrived at the barns at Thirty-ninth street and Wabash avenue, where preparations had been made to run the Indiana avenue electric cars. The barns are only a few feet from the headquarters of the striking street car men, and a crowd gathered to watch the first car start. No demonstration was made and no violence was attempted.

The first car, with Assistant Chief Schuettler and Inspector Lavin on board, left the barns at 9:45 o'clock. Four others followed immediately. The cars arrived at Eighteenth street and Wabash avenue fifteen minutes later. It had been planned to run them downtown behind the cable trains, but the latter had passed the corner when the electric cars arrived and the plan was abandoned for the day.

After the cars had passed Thirty-sixth street on the way downtown a crowd of men destroyed the trolley wire at Thirty-sixth street, causing a delay. The wreckers threw a wire across the overhead cable and connected it with the track, forming a short circuit which melted the trolley wire and caused it to part.

Rest During Noon Hour.

The cars on all lines were taken into the barns at noon, when company employés and the police were given time for lunch. At 1 o'clock the number of cars on Indiana avenue was increased to eight, which were run at three minute intervals. Eight cars were started north from the Cottage Grove avenue barns at Thirty-ninth street. At the same time five cars were sent south on the Oakwoods branch, and another section of five trains traveled over the Jackson park loop. These encountered no serious trouble during the afternoon, and were run back to the barns before dark.

Capt. Shippy again was in charge of the Wentworth avenue cars. There was no trouble, except for a few delays, caused by switches being tampered with in the night. Twenty-five cars were operated, and the service was as complete as ever. Trouble in the power house at Seventy-seventh and Vincennes avenue tied up the line for a half hour in the morning.

Captured in Wentworth Avenue.

The only arrest made in Wentworth avenue was that of George M. Schroeder, driver of a grocery wagon, who stopped his vehicle on the car tracks. He was held at the Englewood station.

TEAMSTERS WAR ON THE RAILWAY

REVOKE THEIR CONTRACT

Driscoll Urges Negotiations, but Men Are Eager to Oppose Company.

No union teamster can take goods to or from the plants, barns, or sheds of the Chicago City railway company. No driver holding a card will be allowed to work for it, and any one found aiding it will be expelled from membership.

This rule was made last night by the Teamsters' Joint council, the governing body of the Chicago drivers. Its delegates were angry at the company, mad at Mayor Harrison, and provoked with themselves, and they readily passed the drastic resolution which declared war against the railway.

Works Badly Against Company.

Their plan of procedure will cut the power houses of the company from their coal supply, deprive the imprisoned nonunion men of supplies, and cripple the management when it attempts to repair damages on its right of way. It also indorses the actions of many drivers in blockading the streets, and it promises them assistance.

The teamsters have a contract with the Chicago City railway and another with Harder & Hafer, the coal firm which supplies it with fuel. These would have been kept had not the management of the company last Saturday discharged Edward Dwyer, secretary of the street railway teamsters' local, for refusing to drive for a gang of nonunion men.

The members of the railway teamsters' local appealed to the joint council to permit them to strike, in order to have him reinstated. They asserted that the company broke its agreement when it dropped him and "should be punished." The council took this view of the matter, ordered the strike, and then supported it by refusing to permit other teamsters from making deliveries.

Driscoll Seeks Milder Course.

Secretary John C. Driscoll of the Associated Teaming Interests tried to head off the council. He was anxious to have a committee appointed to take up the matter and open negotiations with the company. This proposition was rejected without a protest, for the teamsters were eager to fight at once.

After they had arranged their plan of campaign against the company, the teamsters took up the treatment given them by the police. Many stories of alleged brutality were told. The delegates said they had seen men beaten, and they decided to make a formal protest to the mayor. This will be done today by a committee of eighteen, to be chosen this morning.

TEAMSTERS TAKEN TO CELLS.

Arrested for Obstructing Street Car Tracks or for Jeering at the Nonunion Men.

Teamsters who sought to aid the striking carmen yesterday were taken to south side police stations, where they were charged with obstructing the car tracks or using abusive language to nonunion men. Few arrests were made, the list being as follows:

Beyreiter, Frank, teamster; arrested at Wabash avenue and Hubbard court for using abusive language; held at Hyde Park station.

Spaus, John, teamster for Zuttermeister Ice company; arrested at Thirty-sixth street and Cottage Grove avenue after he had allowed his wagon to collide with a street car; held at Hyde Park station.

Few Tried for Rioting.

With few exceptions the teamsters and strike sympathizers arrested on Tuesday asked for continuances when arraigned in the police courts yesterday. Ten cases were continued in the Hyde Park court, while at the Thirty-fifth street and Stockyards station police courts continuances were granted in every case.

The following persons were fined:

BETTER CONDITIONS ON THE "L"

Trains Are Kept Moving and Extra Inspectors and Ticket Sellers Relieve Congestion.

Hundreds of persons shivered in the freezing atmosphere and stamped their feet to keep warm while they waited for the south side elevated trains during the "rush hours" last evening. By keeping the trains moving, and with the aid of numerous inspectors and extra ticket sellers, congestion was averted and the crowd of waiting passengers was not delayed as during the first two days of the strike.

The crowded condition of the old Congress street station did not approach that of the night before, and this was due to the efforts of the inspectors and extra ticket sellers. Profiting by experience, passengers had their nickels or tickets ready and were not obliged to delay the long line by waiting for change. The largest crowds were at the Madison and Wabash avenue and State and Van Buren street stations.

STANDARD OIL MEN LAID OFF.

Reduction of Expenses Is Reason Assigned for Discharging 300 Employes at Whiting.

While the price of oil is advancing, the officials of the Standard Oil company at Whiting attribute the laying off of 300 employés to a desire on the part of the company to cut down expenses. The men employed in making steel tank cars were yesterday morning told that the company had no further work for them. The men say they had no warning. The amount of the quarterly dividend on Standard Oil stock materially has advanced during the last quarter.

LESS PAY OR NO MORE WORK.

Alternative Is Offered Locked Out Employes of Indiana Harbor Steel Plant.

The situation at the Inland Steel plant at Indiana Harbor is unchanged. The company yesterday announced that it could not reopen the plant at the scale paid before the lockout. The mills will not be opened until the employés agree to a reduction. If the mills do not open during the winter much hardship is expected.

COMMITTEE SUITS; MEN SEEKING PEACE.

Commends the Committee.

BY E. R. BLISS,
General Counsel City Railway.

Our interviews with the mayor and the committee have been of a pleasant character throughout, and I am satisfied the members are trying to do all they can to carry out the intent of the council resolution authorizing their appointment.

I further believe they are actuated by no other motive than to act for the public good.

Ready for Arbitration.

BY W. D. MAHON,
President Car Men's Association.

We met with Mayor Harrison and the committee appointed by order of the city council and went over the situation in detail. We took up the vital points at issue and again offered to arbitrate or allow the mayor and the committee, or either, to act as mediator. We do not know what the company offered, for we were not present at any conference with them.

There seems to be a misunderstanding regarding the attitude of the men toward the unionization of the lines of the Chicago City railway company. We never have made that a vital point at issue. What we demand is an end to the continual unjust and vicious persecution with which the management of the company has followed our men.

We told the committee and the mayor that, and we will stand by what we say. I have nothing further to say regarding the conferences.

SEA LION REPORTED SEEN IN MANY DISTANT PLACES.

"Big Ben" Leaves South Chicago in Morning and Travels Past Milwaukee, Zion City, Cleveland, and Buffalo

"Big Ben," the sea lion that escaped from his tank in Lincoln park and was erroneously reported to have returned to its former home in San Francisco, was seen in many places yesterday. It appears to be enjoying itself.

Ben was seen by the police of the Cottage Grove avenue station early in the morning. It was trying to blockade a street car. When the animal's attention was called to the rule threatening arrest of flippers Ben dived back into the lake and disappeared.

Ben in Many Places.

South Chicago, Nov. 18.—Ben, the escaped sea lion, appeared off this port at 9:23 this morning. It was in distress, and declared its willingness to arbitrate its differences with Cy de Vry and return to work if it could get recognition of the union and a nine hour day.

Seeks Fame in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 18.—When John Doe, vat tender in the mash house at a local brewery, went to work this morning he discovered Ben, the escaped sea lion, trying to get famous. Doe fled, and when the other employés reached the edge of the vat Ben had disappeared.

Ben in Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 18.—Lower Wall street was startled just before the close of the market today to see Ben, the escaped Lincoln park sea lion, swim up to the stock exchange and clamber up the steps. A few minutes later he was washed out of sight and nearly drowned by the flood of water that was being squeezed out of some of the stocks.

SECRETS SOLD: CHARTER LOST.

Local No. 43 of Machinists' Union Disbanded Because of Officials' Alleged Conduct.

Officials of district No. 8, International Association of Machinists, have discovered what they believe to be an extensive system of selling trade union secrets to employers. As a result they revoked the charter of local No. 43 last evening and gave a new charter to seven men picked from the membership of 200.

The officers of the district, headed by President J. J. Keppler, disclosed the scheme in their meeting at 108 Randolph street. They alleged the men at the head of the local have been "systematically selling out to the employers." Evidence to substantiate this was introduced, and the members were told the charter had been revoked.

Secrecy was maintained by the officers of the council. Few members knew an investigation was being made. They were startled by the disclosures and made little protest.

POLICE TRAP LETTER WRITER.

Charlie Wright, 453 North Avenue, Admits Authorship of Note Threatening the Plaza.

After dodging two traps laid to catch him, Charlie Wright, 453 North avenue, fell into the hands of the police, to whom he yesterday confessed that he had written the letter in which $500 was demanded of Manager William Hill of the Plaza, under threat of dynamiting the hotel.

At first Wright claimed that he had been sent to the saloon by a stranger, and knew nothing of the letter. He wrote out this statement, and when Inspector Campbell showed him the similarity between his writing and that of the Hill letter he admitted that he had written it, but said he did it at the dictation of a stranger.

After securing his admissions to the Hill letter, Inspector Campbell at once set about trying to connect the prisoner with the authorship of the threatening letters received by members of the Orville E. Babcock and John Garibaldi families several weeks ago.

MONEY LOST IN OATS CORNER.

Borrower Alleges $20,000 Cannot Be Collected Because Used for an Illegal Purpose.

An attempt to corner the Chicago oat market is declared to have caused Asa Griffin to borrow $20,000 from the Bank of Montreal. Griffin's attorneys filed pleas yesterday alleging the notes were given to margin deals with P. B. Weare, in pursuance of "an unlawful agreement and combination," and could not be collected.

Griffin, who is a wealthy farmer of central Illinois, alleges he was induced by Weare last July to join four other farmers in forming a pool to buy 200,000 bushels of oats. Weare is said to have represented that others had agreed to buy 1,000,000 bushels of oats, and that the market could in this way be cornered. The price of oats, it is declared, was raised from 34 to 46 cents a bushel.

It is asserted that Weare discovered many traders were long on oats. He closed the deal, it is said, with a heavy loss.

LABOR LEADERS DOWN SOCIALISM.

GOMPERS LEADS ATTACK.

Makes Bitter Speech Denouncing Efforts to Commit Organization to Doctrine.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 18.—After a long debate, chiefly noteworthy because of the bitter language of President Samuel Gompers in dealing with socialism, the American Federation of Labor this afternoon defeated resolutions pledging it to socialism. Nine resolutions presented by socialists and calling for the adoption of their principles had been reported upon unfavorably by the committee on resolutions, and delegates representing a voting strength of 11,282 registered themselves in support of the committee's recommendation, while delegates with 2,185 votes cast them in favor of the resolutions.

Just before the vote was taken considerable excitement was caused by Delegate Carey's condemnation of Vice President Duncan's attack upon the socialists.

The climax of the day came when President Gompers, discussing the attempt to induce the convention to adopt the principles of socialism, said:

Wherever there have been socialists they have always opposed the trade unionists who were running for office outside the Federation of Labor. I am at variance with your philosophy. Economically you are unsound, socially you are wrong, and industrially you are an impossibility. I have an abiding faith in the trades union movement because it is the protector of labor today, and if emancipation comes some time it must be the trades union movement that will achieve it.

Mitchell Joins in Attack.

I have no desire to discuss the relative merits of trades unionism and socialism. I recognize the right of every man to believe as he pleases. I wish to say that I regard it as a great mistake on the part of our socialist friends to attempt to commit the movement to the principles in which they believe. It would be a sad day, indeed, if trades unions were made the tail end of a political organization.

Condemn Prison Contract.

A resolution was adopted condemning the manufacture of United States mail bags by convict labor in Trenton prison. Another resolution appropriating $1,000 to the Alabama state branch of the federation to test the constitutionality of the anti-boycott law in that state was referred to the executive council with the recommendation that it be given early consideration.

Colorado Asks for Federal Troops.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The secretary of war has been asked for troops to aid in suppressing the strike at Telluride, Colo. The requisition will be forwarded to Washington in the morning, according to Gov. Peabody, who says he has been in correspondence with the department and has been informed that the troops will be forthcoming at any time on formal requisition. The reason for asking aid of the federal government is that the state militia is needed as a reserve for the coal strike, which is likely to assume threatening proportions at any time.

COAL SUPPLY FOR ONLY 3 DAYS.

Denver Faces Extreme Suffering, Due to Miners' Strike—Big Order Sent to Chicago.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The coal famine due to the strike is growing critical. Denver is now using a supply that cannot last more than three days at the outside. The City Steam Heating company has declared its intention of drawing its fires and leaving customers to the mercy of the weather before the end of the week unless some means of securing coal are found. This would leave the center of the city cold, as a majority of the buildings rely upon this system for heating.

One coal company, which has been unable to get any coal in this state, today placed an order at Chicago for 100 tons a day.

At a meeting of the directors of the Retail Coal Dealers' association a proposition to bring coal from the east was rejected, as it was shown that there is as yet no actual fuel famine in the city and that there is still a prospect that an agreement will be reached with the miners' union under which the northern Colorado mines can be reopened.

JOLIET LINE HAS NEW PLAN.

During the Strike Cars Will Connect with the Consolidated Traction Company.

Owing to the strike on the Chicago City railway company and the consequent failure to operate the Archer avenue electric line, the Chicago and Joliet Electric line has been compelled to seek another Chicago connection. During the strike the Joliet company will carry passengers by their Lyons division from Summit to a connection at Ogden avenue with the Consolidated Traction company's cars, thus enabling them to reach Chicago over the Union Traction company lines. The connection will be maintained until the labor troubles are ended.

REPORT ON HAMMOND INQUIRY.

Special Committeemen Send to Council Statement of Alleged Irregularities of School Board.

The special investigating committee on the Hammond (Ind.) board of education last night finished its work and sent a report to the meeting of the council. Specific instances are given where the board of education is charged with unlawful collusion in contracts for supplies. The investigating committee was appointed by Mayor Kriotts several weeks ago. Its report offers details of various charges that were set forth briefly at that time.

I will explain to you why you have not been cured, and will demonstrate to your entire satisfaction why I can cure you safely, quickly, and permanently. MY COUNSEL WILL COST YOU NOTHING. I WILL DO BY YOU AS I WOULD WANT YOU TO DO BY ME IF OUR CASES WERE REVERSED.

EXPERIENCE—I have earnestly devoted twenty-four years of my life to the exclusive study of Male diseases, during which time I have discovered and developed various forms and treatments for them which make the cure of the sufferer as certain as it is that he employs my services and that I treat patients personally.

My professional ability is recommended by leading physicians as well as by my cured patients, while my financial standing is indorsed by the best banks and business houses in this city.

My specialty and modes of treatment are more fully commented upon below, and are well worth the careful perusal of all in need of medical attention.

Varicocele

Instead of vital parts being maimed and injured, they are preserved and strengthened, pain ceases entirely and almost instantly, swelling subsides, healthy circulation is rapidly re-established, and every part of the organism affected is thoroughly restored.

Hydrocele

My treatment of Hydrocele and its associate conditions is original with me, and obtainable exclusively only at my hands. You are no doubt familiar with some of the tedious, painful, and surgical methods of old-time treatment. I have investigated all of them. To do my important work I have spent thousands of dollars with a special view of knowing all that is to be known about Hydrocele.

I cure Hydrocele and its complications within five days WITHOUT PAIN, WITHOUT KNIFE, WITHOUT DETENTION FROM BUSINESS; CURING TO STAY CURED under bank guarantee.

Rupture

Disregard of existing rupture has cost many human lives. Strangulation of the bowels and old-time methods of operating with the knife have contributed to this fatality. My methods obviate this and cure with absolute certainty and safety, and entail no suffering. The smallest hernias are the most dangerous to life, because of the increased liability to strangulation.

Blood Poison

Prompt and heroic treatment is the only kind that should be used in combating this disease.

Only temporary relief can come from hot spring baths, specifics, mercury, potash, or other mineral mixtures and poisons.

Every external symptom soon disappears, while the blood, the tissues, the nerve fibers, the bones, and the whole system are cleansed, strengthened, and restored to perfect health and purity.

Nervo-Vital Debility

CEREBRAL—When the mental forces are impaired.

SPINAL—When the spinal centers are involved and motor power is diminished.

VITAL—When the Great Sympathetic Nervous System is affected and the forces that govern the organs of life are reduced by the baneful reflex effects of diseases incident to the organs of the pelvis, namely, Urinary Diseases.

No one afflicted with Nervo-Vital Debility in any of its forms should despair after failure to obtain satisfactory results from inferior treatment. My methods rid you of the main malady which underlies nervous disease and disturbance, and I am able to restore you to enviable health and strength. Every case is a personal study with me, and I invariably modify my treatment to answer the requirements in individual cases.

I cure all weakness induced by specific nervous complaints and put you on the right track to complete health or restore the conditions essential to your future life and happiness.

Associate Diseases

In curing a disease of any kind I never fail to remove all reflex complications. In the case of Varicocele or Hydrocele the weakness caused by it disappears. If it has developed into Prostratic, Bladder or Kidney affections the injured parts are all restored to a perfect healthful condition. If it is Blood Poison, any and all Skin, Blood, and Bone diseases arising from the taint are entirely and permanently eliminated from the system. If it is Nervous Debility, the many distressing symptoms following in its train, and indicating a decline of physical and mental power, are totally removed and rapidly replaced by the energy of robust manhood. Hence, all resulting ills and reflex complications, which may be properly termed associate diseases, and which, in fact, are often more serious than the original ailment that gives rise to them—all, I say, disappear completely and forever with the cure of the main malady.

New Books

My latest medical publications, embracing a scientific yet simple discussion of Male Pelvic Diseases and the best methods of curing them, will be sent free upon application.

Correspondence

If you cannot visit me personally, write symptoms that trouble you most.

A vast majority of cases can be cured by my system of home treatment which is the most successful system ever devised.

I make no charge for private counsel and give to each patient a legal contract in writing backed by abundant capital to hold for my promise.

My Reception Rooms

are open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m., but my hours for consultation are daily from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m.; Sundays from 8:30 to 1 only.

Certainty of Cure is what you want. I give a legal guarantee to cure or refund your money. What I have done for others I can do for you.

My Charges for a perfect cure are reasonable, and no more than you are willing to pay for successful treatment of your case.

BLACK BELT RAID YIELDS EVIDENCE

CASE FOR GRAND JURY.

Various Saloons in Which Drinks Are Sold Long After Midnight.

In a raid made on the Ohio hotel, 2635 State street, at the order of the graft investigating committee, yesterday afternoon, a 15 year old girl was found. She was placed in custody, as was the proprietor, August Wernicke.

The girl, Stella Jones, when taken before the committee as a witness, persisted that she was 18 years old. Her mother, Frances Jones, a servant at 5040 Greenwood avenue, was taken before the committee at 8 o'clock last night, however, and she testified that the girl was under 16. Mrs. Jones said she was born a slave and has been the mother of sixteen children, Stella being the youngest.

The committee at once decided to prosecute Wernicke on the charge of harboring a girl under age—a penitentiary offense. He will have a hearing at Harrison street this morning.

Wernicke a Witness.

Wernicke himself was a witness, and his evasive answers and poor memory brought down on his head the wrath of Chairman Herrmann. He admitted that the girl had occupied a room at the hotel on several occasions, but said he supposed she was at least 18 years old.

Incidentally a description of his hotel was wrung from him. In a space of 50x120 feet on the second story he said he had constructed forty rooms. Many of them, Wernicke admitted, were only 6x8 feet and 8 feet high, a cubic capacity of 384 feet. The city ordinance requirement is 400 feet. Ten rooms, he said, had no windows.

Story of a Probation Officer.

The raid was ordered after the testimony of Mrs. Elisabeth McDonald, 3032 Dearborn street, a probation officer of the Juvenile court. Mrs. McDonald said she had heard of a 10 year old girl being in the place, and had rescued a girl of 15 years from it. Mrs. McDonald also declared that John Jennings, 2722 State street, permitted young girls in his saloon.

"I went there one night," she said, "to hunt for a girl, and what I saw made me ill. There were nearly 200 men and women in the place."

Her evidence, together with that of two of the committee's confidential investigators, is expected to lead today to the loss of Jennings' saloon license.

The investigators reported to the committee that they found the place open at 1 o'clock yesterday morning and that they bought liquor there.

Three other resorts will be included in the recommendation for the revocation of licenses. They are J. J. Harrihan's saloon, Thirty-first and State streets, where the detectives bought drinks at 1:40 o'clock yesterday morning, and which is operated in conjunction with the Columbia hotel; the Astoria, 3035 State street, where men and women were seen drinking at 2 o'clock in the morning; and the Illinois, 2028 State street, where at 2:30 o'clock in the morning the detectives saw white and colored men and women drinking.

George Smith, Twenty-seventh and State streets, whose place was found open after midnight on Sunday, saved his license by agreeing before the committee to discharge his bartender, E. M. Shoecraft.

Reports on City Hall Employes.

The full text of the letter sent some time ago by the committee to heads of departments, was secured yesterday. Employés who go to the races were among those placed on the tabooed list.

Department heads were asked to furnish the committee with information concerning employés who are: First, incompetent; second, conducting any kind of business of their own; third, inattentive to duties; fourth, who use any part of the city's time in private business or other purposes, or who have been in attendance at the races; fifth, who do little work for the city.

Assistant State's Attorney Blair said last night that the committee already had provided for the grand jury a week's work.

SAYS DETECTIVE TOOK BRIBE.

Ernest A. Eves, 253 Dearborn street, Gets Postponement So He Can Bring Fifty Witnesses.

Ernest A. Eves, proprietor of an employment agency at 253 Dearborn street, told the police trial board yesterday that he expected to call fifty witnesses to aid him in proving that Detective Martin J. Qualey accepted a $10 bribe from him. Mr. Eves also charged the detective with assault. To give him a chance to marshal his witnesses the case was postponed for one week. Qualey has nearly twenty witnesses.

Eves said he paid the money for the privilege of riding to the Harrison street station in his carriage instead of in the patrol wagon after a warrant for disorderly conduct had been served upon him. Half the sum, he understood, was to go to Detective De Roche, Qualey's partner.

The assault, he said, took place after he had been arrested on a second warrant sworn out by the detective himself, and while he was being taken to the cellroom in the Harrison street police station.

The first warrant, said Eves, was sworn out by a painter, to whom he refused to pay an exorbitant bill. Justice Caverly dismissed the case.

"We had trouble at the police station the day of the hearing," continued Eves, "and Qualey had me arrested for disorderly conduct. On the way downstairs to the cellroom he struck me."

CALL TO AID INDUSTRIAL ART.

Woman's Auxiliary of League to Be Organized on Saturday at Bohemia Guild.

The organization committee of the woman's auxiliary of the Industrial Art league has called a meeting in the workshops of the Bohemia guild, 338 Wabash avenue, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, to organize the auxiliary. The invitations are signed by Mrs. Charles Henrotin, Mrs. H. M. Wilmarth, Mrs. Clinton Locke, Mrs. Watson Blair, Mrs. Edmund Burke, and Miss Julia M. Bracken. Mrs. Henrotin will preside at the meeting. The auxiliary is to be organized to secure the building and equipment of schools of industrial art. It will take up that part of the work of the Industrial Art league that pertains to the assistance of individual craftsmen in developing their work and the establishing of working centers.

ALD. BRENNAN PUT ON TRIAL.

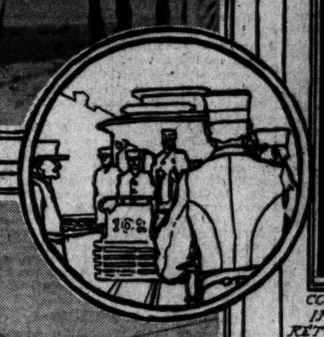

Arraigned with Two Others for Alleged Election Frauds in the Eighteenth Ward.

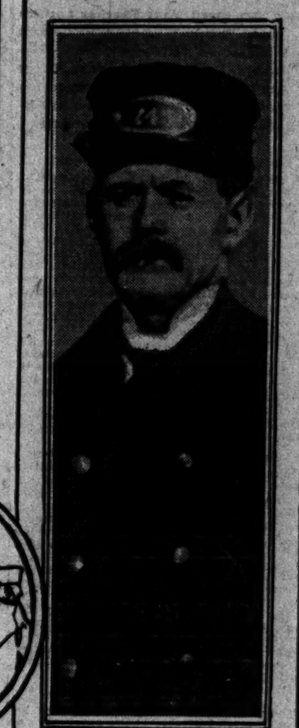

The politicians indicted for fraud in the last judicial election in the Eighteenth ward were placed on trial in the Criminal court yesterday. Judge Gary's room was crowded with west side leaders and friends of Ald. John Brennan. The alderman sat facing the jury box, and at his side were Herbert Kent and Charles McCarle, co-defendants in the trial. The day was spent in an effort to complete a jury.

SWIFT RIDER FELLS MAN.

MESSENGER MAKES DASH IN STREETS WHICH MAY BE FATAL.

Former Broncho Buster, Employed by American Express, Is Given "Three Minute Run" from Van Buren Street to the Northwestern Depot—Makes His Train and Then Returns and Surrenders—Tells of the Strenuous Duties.

Riding at the utmost speed of his pony, to make a three minute run from Custom House place and Van Buren street to the Chicago and Northwestern railway depot, the mounted messenger of the American Express company rode down a pedestrian last night, causing him a fracture of the skull and internal injuries which may end in his death.

The injured man is Benedict Kobak of 1640 Kenmore avenue, a department manager for Lyon, Bros., 246 Madison street. Kobak was hurrying east in Madison, across Clark street, on his way to the John Marshall Law school, where he is a night student. The messenger was Philip Smith, 19 years old, 452 West Fifteenth street.

Sounds a Warning Whistle.

Half way between Monroe and Madison streets, on Clark street, the messenger sounded his sharp, warning whistle, going swiftly northward. One pedestrian narrowly evaded the pony, and then Kobak, who was passing toward the east, seemed to become bewildered and stopped to gaze at the oncoming animal.

The messenger tried to swerve from his path to avoid the bewildered man, yelling a second warning as he did so, but the animal dashed straight ahead, knocked Kobak down, and stepped on his forehead and on his body.

The horse stumbled but did not fall, and the messenger whipped him up and flew on to reach the train, which he succeeded in doing. Kobak was carried into a drug store and later was taken to the county hospital.

Rides Back and Surrenders.

According to promise, the messenger returned to the corner after having made his train and submitted to arrest. He told of the exacting nature of his job, which he has held two weeks. He says this is the longest period the place ever has been held by any one boy.

The duties are for the boy to take the way bills for articles expressed during the day to the trains on which those articles have been loaded. The bills are usually late in coming in, and often the boy is given a "record breaking" run. In this case he was hurrying to catch a train leaving the Wells street station at 8 o'clock, and was told at the office, 64 Custom House place, that he had just three minutes for the task.

He Is a Broncho Buster.

The work is dangerous. The messenger has to make twelve trips to the various depots each afternoon and evening, and it has often occurred to persons who have watched him tearing madly through the downtown streets that he might some day kill some one. Smith, the present messenger, has been a "broncho buster" out west. He has wages of $30 per month.

At the station last night, when told the victim was in a serious condition, he asked his name and where he had been taken.

"I want to go and see him tomorrow," he said, "and take him some flowers. The only thing that bothers me is, I don't know what to say to him when I first see him."

REGIMENT LEAVING FOR MANILA.

Twentieth United States Infantry Departs from Fort Sheridan Tomorrow Morning.

The Twentieth United States infantry, stationed at Fort Sheridan, leaves tomorrow morning for a two years' stay in the Philippine islands. The regiment, with cooks, surgeons, nurses, and other attendants, including 1,000 men, will leave Chicago on four special trains, going first to San Francisco, from where it will sail Dec. 1.

The regiment is commanded by Col. William S. McCaskey. The other officers are: Lieut. Col. J. B. Rodman, Majs. F. J. Ives, W. S. Wood, and J. S. Rogers, Capts. J. F. Morrison, W. P. Burnham, Charles Crawford, W. S. Graves, F. D. Webster, R. W. Mearns, C. C. Smith, M. F. Smith, Chaplain P. T. Brockmann, First Lieuts. T. J. Powers, J. L. Dewitt, J. C. Minus, F. C. Johnson, J. W. Beachman, T. W. Gunn.

Last evening there was a farewell ball for the officers at the Officers' club, and tonight the soldiers will dance in the mess hall. The Twentieth Infantry orchestra will play.

COLD AND GALE AT SAME TIME.

Temperature 14 Degrees at 7 A. M., with Wind of Thirty Miles, but Relief Is Seen.

A high wind added to the cold made yesterday's weather conditions unpleasant, but some relief is promised. The lowest temperature of the day was fourteen degrees at 7 o'clock in the morning. The maximum was twenty-two degrees at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A gale reached thirty miles an hour at 8:30 a. m. Forecaster Cox predicts fair and chilly weather for today, and believes the cold spell will be broken by tomorrow.

INSANE ON WEDDING EVE.

C. E. ROSS GOES TO SANITARIUM INSTEAD OF TO ALTAR.

Wealthy Insurance Man to Have Been Married Today to Mrs. Emma A. Richardson—Declared of Unsound Mind After Hearing Before Judge Pond—Patient Taken to Cincinnati After Parting with Fiancee in Chicago—Conservator to Be Named.

While preparing for his wedding, which was to have taken place today, Charles Edmund Ross, well known among insurance men in La Salle street, was stricken with acute dementia, and last evening he was taken by his brother to a private sanitarium in Cincinnati, O. His bride to be, Mrs. Emma A. Richardson, 181 South California avenue, saw him in the evening at the Garfield Park sanitarium, where he had been cared for since last Saturday. Then they parted, probably never to meet again.

When Mr. Ross came to Chicago ten years ago from Racine, O., he settled in apartments in Mrs. Richardson's residence. His business ventures were successful and when his case was heard in Judge O. N. Carter's court rooms yesterday by Judge Pond it was said that he had accumulated $50,000. He became engaged to Mrs. Richardson some months ago, and the ceremony was set for today.

Spends Money Too Freely.

Mr. Ross' friends noticed two weeks ago that he had suddenly changed his habits of living. When told he was spending money too freely, Ross calmly announced he had more money than he could spend, and could make as much more without any difficulty.

"I can make millions where others are making hundreds," Ross declared.

Finally his friends became alarmed and called Dr. J. Zabokitsky, who knew him intimately. After a consultation with Dr. D. R. Brower a petition was prepared by Dr. Zabokitsky, asking that the court pass on the question of his sanity. A jury agreed that he was insane, the first symptoms of paresis being present.

Jared C. Ross, a brother, came from Racine, O., to attend the hearing. Judge Pond decided that Ross should be taken by his brother to the sanitarium. There was some confusion regarding the order, and when the brother called at the sanitarium Tuesday evening he was refused permission to take the patient away. Judge Carter yesterday issued an order allowing him to be taken away.

Fiancee Sees Mr. Ross.

He also allowed Mrs. Richardson to call at the sanitarium, it being agreed by her that nothing relative to their engagement should be discussed. Mrs. Richardson accepted the conditions.

STOLEN JEWELS ARE RETURNED

Diamonds Taken from Great Northern Mailed to Detective on Track of the Thieves.

When Detective Frank Repetto of the Congress hotel company received yesterday a small box addressed in green ink he knew what it contained, but he opened it in excitement.

Neatly packed in cotton were a 1½ carat diamond stud, a crescent shaped brooch set in diamonds, a watch charm studded with the same jewels, and two gold watches.

They were the second installment of the proceeds of a robbery at the Great Northern hotel May 4, when four rooms were entered by thieves provided with duplicate keys.

Mr. Repetto recently received four diamond rings taken at the same time. The robbers have returned $2,000 worth of the stolen property, or half of what was taken.

"No, it is not a case of conscience," said Repetto. "The jewelry was taken by thieves who knew I was on their track. I have been negotiating for the return of the property and expect to get it all back. There will be no arrests."

RECEPTION FOR JUDGE GARY.

Bar and Bench Will Visit Jurist's Courtroom on His Anniversary.

Plans are complete for the reception to be given Judge Joseph E. Gary tomorrow morning in celebration of the fortieth anniversary of his accession to the bench. The judges of the Circuit, Superior, County, Appellate, and Probate courts at 10 o'clock will visit the jurist's courtroom in the Criminal Court building. Later the masters in chancery, members of the city and county law departments, the clerks of the courts, employés of the sheriff's office, and members of the bar will be received.

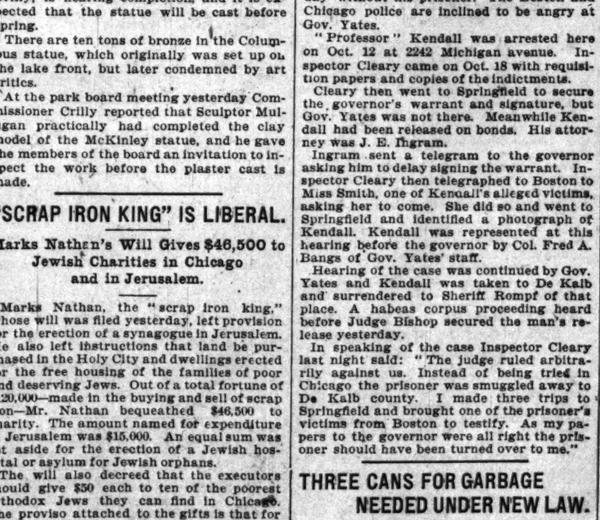

During the morning President J. J. Herrick of the Chicago Bar association will present resolutions of congratulation from the bar of Cook county, and President Pierson will read resolutions from the Law institute. At noon the justices of the peace will be received.

Judge Gary is 82 years old, and has been seven times elected to the bench. He is said to hold the world's record for length of continuous service as a judge.

GIRL FIGHTS OFF A ROBBER.

Mattie Rowley, 36 Willis Court, Scratches Man's Face and Screams Till Help Comes.

Almost within hearing of the West Thirteenth street police station late last evening Mattie Rowley, 16 years old, was attacked by a holdup man who gave the name of Frank Rasmush. The girl scratched the man's face and screamed till two detectives went to her aid and arrested her assailant. The girl was on the way from the home of her music teacher to the residence of her parents at 36 Willis court.

COLUMBUS STATUE READY TO BE RECAST AS M'KINLEY.

Commissioner Crilly Announces That Clay Model Is Practically Complete—Tons of Bronze to Be Utilized.

The statue of Columbus that has lain for six years behind the barns in Washington park soon is to be melted up and recast as a statue of McKinley. The model of the McKinley statue, the gift of Commissioner Crilly, is nearing completion, and it is expected that the statue will be cast before spring.

There are ten tons of bronze in the Columbus statue, which originally was set up on the lake front, but later condemned by art critics.

At the park board meeting yesterday Commissioner Crilly reported that Sculptor Mulligan practically had completed the clay model of the McKinley statue, and he gave the members of the board an invitation to inspect the work before the plaster cast is made.

"SCRAP IRON KING" IS LIBERAL.

Marks Nathan's Will Gives $46,500 to Jewish Charities in Chicago and in Jerusalem.

Marks Nathan, the "scrap iron king," whose will was filed yesterday, left provision for the erection of a synagogue in Jerusalem. He also left instructions that land be purchased in the Holy City and dwellings erected for the free housing of the families of poor and deserving Jews. Out of a total fortune of $120,000—made in the buying and sell of scrap iron—Mr. Nathan bequeathed $46,500 to charity. The amount named for expenditure in Jerusalem was $15,000. An equal sum was set aside for the erection of a Jewish hospital or asylum for Jewish orphans.

The will also decreed that the executors should give $50 each to ten of the poorest orthodox Jews they can find in Chicago. The proviso attached to the gifts is that for one year the ten shall say the prayers for the dead for him.

Mr. Nathan came to Chicago forty years ago. The wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Marks, was given $20,000 and the residence, 54 East Sixteenth street.

AUDIENCE SEES AN ACCIDENT.

Collapse of Property Porch at Auditorium Theater Results in Injuries to Miss Howe.

Stunned and injured by the collapse of a property porch used in the production of "Quincy Adams Sawyer" at the Auditorium last evening, Miss Gertrude A. Howe, who plays the part of Mandy Skinner, was carried from the stage while the audience caught its breath. Two minutes later Miss Maxwell, Miss Howe's understudy, appeared in her place and the performance was resumed. The accident, which occurred during the action of the play, resulted in severe bruises and a broken ankle for Miss Howe. She was taken to the Normandie hotel.

Inspector Thinks Gov. Yates Did Not Treat Him Fairly in "Prof." Kendall Case.

Police Inspector Cleary of Boston, who has been in Chicago for a month trying to secure H. R. Kendall, a palmist and clairvoyant, who is wanted in the eastern city on sixteen indictments charging swindling, returns today without his prisoner. The Boston and Chicago police are inclined to be angry at Gov. Yates.

"Professor" Kendall was arrested here on Oct. 12 at 2242 Michigan avenue. Inspector Cleary came on Oct. 18 with requisition papers and copies of the indictments.

Cleary then went to Springfield to secure the governor's warrant and signature, but Gov. Yates was not there. Meanwhile Kendall had been released on bonds. His attorney was J. E. Ingram.

Ingram sent a telegram to the governor asking him to delay signing the warrant. Inspector Cleary then telegraphed to Boston to Miss Smith, one of Kendall's alleged victims, asking her to come. She did so and went to Springfield and identified a photograph of Kendall. Kendall was represented at this hearing before the governor by Col. Fred A. Bangs of Gov. Yates' staff.

Hearing of the case was continued by Gov. Yates and Kendall was taken to De Kalb and surrendered to Sheriff Rompf of that place. A habeas corpus proceeding heard before Judge Bishop secured the man's release yesterday.

In speaking of the case Inspector Cleary last night said: "The judge ruled arbitrarily against us. Instead of being tried in Chicago the prisoner was smuggled away to De Kalb county. I made three trips to Springfield and brought one of the prisoner's victims from Boston to testify. As my papers to the governor were all right the prisoner should have been turned over to me."

THREE CANS FOR GARBAGE NEEDED UNDER NEW LAW.

Council Committee Advises Adoption of Ordinance Which Will Require Separation of the Classes of Refuse.

Garbage must be divided into three parts after Jan. 1, if the ordinance prepared by the finance committee of the council is adopted. The committee at its meeting yesterday directed Commissioner Blocki to have the ordinance prepared this week.

The classifications suggested by the aldermen are "garbage proper, ashes, and other refuse." Each kind must be placed in a separate steel can.

Competitive bids will be asked on the contract to remove and dispose of garbage, after the method to be used has been chosen. The specifications will be modeled after those of Philadelphia.

PREVENTS WORK ON THE CALUMET

SAVES EVANSTON FUNDS.

Order Checks Board from Advancing New Improvements at Its Expense.

"It's all humbug and buncombe; that's all it is," exclaimed Frank Wenter, bursting out of the room in which the Chicago drainage trustees had been holding a secret meeting yesterday afternoon. "The whole thing is a fraud, and I will fight it," and fight it he did, and successfully, when the members got into open session.

The thing which Mr. Wenter characterized as "humbug and buncombe" was a resolution which Trustee Jones introduced in the session of the engineering committee, held after the secret conference. It pledged the board to go on with the work of connecting the Calumet river, through "The Sag," and the Evanston district by the north branch with the drainage canal, and urged the acquirement of the necessary right of way as quickly as possible.

Fights Preference for Calumet.

"The resolution is unnecessary," said Mr. Wenter, when it was regularly before the committee. "On July 15 we passed one binding us to do the work. It is the duty of the chief engineer to obey that resolution. When he has completed the estimates and plans for the Calumet extension it is his duty to take up the Evanston plan, and not make a partial report such as he has made. The work on both should be taken up at the same time, and Calumet should not be given the preference.

"We have no right to divert the money given us by the legislature to complete the work on the Chicago river for the benefit of the Calumet river. The latter job will cost $16,000,000 to $18,000,000 before we get through with it. Neither have we the right to advance the Calumet work at the expense of Evanston."

Limits Work to Chicago River.

Trustee Wenter added an amendment which stated that no part of the money now at the disposal of the board be used for any work other than that of improving the Chicago river, except that which might be necessary to procure the rights of way in question. This would amount to approximately $650,000.

Only Trustees Braden and Smyth opposed this, and the resolution, as amended, was adopted, 7 to 2. The form in which it was passed is as follows:

"Ordered, that it be the sense of this committee that the sanitary necessities of this community demand the earliest possible diversion to the drainage canal of the Calumet river pollution and the sewage of Evanston and the north shore towns; and to this end,

"That it is the opinion of this committee that the board of trustees should proceed to the early adoption of plans for the diversion of the pollution of these regions, and proceed thereafter to the acquisition of right of way for the necessary channels as rapidly as may be practicable.

"That no resources of this district be diverted to any purpose other than the acquirement of the right of way of the routes to be established in the Calumet and the Evanston districts, until such time as the next general assembly convenes, and takes appropriate action."

Calumet Polluting City Water.

In the previous argument Trustee Jones asserted that when the present work on the Chicago river was done, a flow of 420,000 cubic feet a minute would be provided—enough for a population of 2,100,000. He said the improvement of the Calumet was urgent, as the river constantly was polluting the water drawn from the Sixty-eighth street crib.

Mayor Barker of Evanston made a plea that his city be not slighted for the benefit of the Calumet territory. He said it was necessary that Evanston should know the plans of the board as soon as possible, as it now was figuring on changes in its sewer system.

The board won a victory in Judge Smith's court, where the suit seeking to condemn some property of the Pennsylvania road along the south branch, is on hearing. The company questioned the right of the board to condemn, but the judge decided it possessed the power.

The slate for the annual election of the board, which will be held Dec. 8, has been decided on. Zina R. Carter will be the next president and William Legner the vice president.

EDWARD B. ROWDEN SAYS HE WANTED NO FIGHT WITH WIFE.

He Is Six Feet, but Outclassed in Height and Weight, Husband Declares in Seeking Divorce—Letters from Mother-in-Law Aid Mrs. Jordan in Securing Her Freedom—Mrs. Ellison Admits Points in Complaint and Court Grants Decree.

Edward B. Rowden, a dancing master, is 6 feet tall and weighs 182 pounds. His wife, he says, is 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs more than 200 pounds.

At a summer resort last August Rowden declared his wife threw dishes at his head and slapped him. He said his wife was Velma Belle Rowden and they were married in 1900. A decree will be entered.

Mother-in-Law Her Champion.

Efforts of a mother to protect her daughter-in-law from abuse by her son were related in a series of letters offered in evidence in the divorce suit of Mrs. Bertha A. Jordan against William H. Jordan. As a result of these letters and corroborative verbal testimony, Mrs. Jordan was given a decree by Judge Brentano and granted the right to resume her maiden name, Bertha Nehring.

Mrs. Fanny C. Jordan was a champion of her son's wife, and frequently upbraided him for his conduct. At one time she received the younger Mrs. Jordan when she was forced to leave her husband. Here are some of the bits of advice which the mother wrote to the defendant:

Do you think Bertha has no feelings? Do you think that because she is your wife you can do as you do toward her? Let this be the last of it. Try and reason as a man. You know right from wrong, and is it right for you to take advantage of a weak, defenseless woman?

Ellison Gets His Divorce.

Admitting the material charges in her husband's bill of complaint, Mrs. Charles R. Ellison, by her attorney, I. H. Himes, yesterday allowed a decree to be granted by Judge John Gibbons. The name of Otto Wonderly, a jockey, was brought out in the evidence given by employés of the Auditorium hotel.

Mrs. Pearl E. Robertson of Evanston was granted a divorce by Judge Smith from Dr. Charles M. Robertson. Cruelty was charged and alimony of $200 a month was granted.

ITALIAN ROYALTY AT STATE DINNER

KINGS EXCHANGE TOASTS.

Great Array of Notable Personages Assemble for Feast in St. George's Hall.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena of Italy were the guests of King Edward and Queen Alexandra at a formal state banquet in St. George's hall at Windsor castle tonight.

The royal guests, the British royal family, and others numbering in all 160 persons, were seated at a long table which extended down the middle of the famous old Norman hall.

The banquet was served on the famous gold plate service and the table beautifully decorated with flowers.

Edward's Toast to Italian King.

During the progress of the dinner, in proposing a toast to their Italian majesties, King Edward said:

"Sire: It has given Queen Alexandra and myself great pleasure to receive you here as our guests in this old and historic castle. History repeats itself. I remember as if it were but yesterday that your illustrious grandfather, forty-eight years ago, came here as the guest of my beloved mother and my lamented father. At that time we were at war and our armies fought together. Thank God, we now are at peace, and the aim of our countries is to maintain it and to work together in the paths of progress and enlightenment.

"I have not forgotten the kind and cordial reception given me some months ago in Rome on the part of your majesties and the Italian people, and I feel sure that tomorrow, when you pass through the streets of London, you will meet with a reception most gratifying to yourselves and one which will give expression to the hearty feeling of friendship which my people desire to evince toward you and your country.

"Let me now drink to the health of your majesties. Again thanking you for staying with us, I wish your majesties, your family, and your country all prosperity and happiness."

King Victor Replies in English.

King Victor Emmanuel replied in English, saying:

"The memories to which your majesty refers live in my heart and in the hearts of all Italians since the historic and eventful period which led Italy to unity and which tendered to England, always greater and more powerful, the feelings of sympathy and friendship which now unite the two peoples. For my people these feelings have continued to increase and they constitute a tradition for my government. They are important factors in Italian policy, which, like the policy of your majesty's government, is one of peace and civilization.

"I thank your majesty for your cordial welcome of me and of my queen in this historic castle, where everything breathes of the glory of your ancestors and brings before me the image of the great and regretted Victoria. I drink the health of your majesty, your queen, and the royal family."

Notable Guests Are Present.

The guests were first received in the grand reception room by King Edward and Queen Alexandra and King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena. Then the guests entered the banquet hall in the following order:

King Edward with Queen Helena.
King Victor Emmanuel with Queen Alexandra.
Ambassador Choate with the duchess of Connaught.
Sig. Tittoni, Italian minister of foreign affairs, with the Princess Margaret of Connaught.
The Russian ambassador, Count Benckendorff, with Princess Victoria of Connaught.
The French ambassador, M. Cambon, with Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein.
Prince Alexander of Teck with the Princess Alice.
The German ambassador, Count Wolff Metternich, with Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein.

The remaining guests followed in the order of their rank, including other ambassadors and their wives, Lord Londonderry, Lord Selbourne, Lord Lansdowne, Lord Rosebery, Lord Milner, W. J. Brodrick, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Arnold-Forster, Joseph Chamberlain, Austen Chamberlain, and Admiral Kerr.

Premier Balfour Is Absent.

The British premier, A. J. Balfour, was absent on account of indisposition, which it is reported is the result of a slight chill.

At the conclusion of the banquet the royal personages and their guests adjourned to the state drawing room, where a Viennese orchestra played selections.

This morning King Victor Emmanuel and King Edward shot pheasants in the great park at Windsor, while Queen Helena and Queen Alexandra visited Queen Victoria's tomb at Frogmore, on which Queen Helena deposited a wreath.

PLOT TO KILL ITALIAN KING.

French Authorities Arrest Four Anarchists Suspected of Conspiracy to Assassinate.

NICE, France, Nov. 18.—The police here have arrested four anarchists, who are suspected of a plot for waylaying the king of Italy on his return from England.

Three Arrested in Milan.

ROME, Nov. 18.—The Messagero today announced that three anarchists had been arrested at Milan in connection with a plot against the life of the president of Switzerland, M. Deucher.

The police believe that the anarchist who surrendered to the police at Lugano today and who now gives his name as Giuseppe Contini is a lunatic. He says the three arrested at Milan today had been selected to help him. Contini also said that another group of anarchists had decided to kill the Princess Mafalda, youngest daughter of the king of Italy, who will be 1 year old tomorrow. Two more anarchists were arrested at St. Gothard.

Says He Was Selected for Crime.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—A dispatch to the Patrie from Lugano, Switzerland, announces that an anarchist has surrendered to the police there, and has confessed that he had been selected to kill the president of Switzerland, but that his courage failed him.

DUTCH BANKS IN TROUBLE

DECLINE IN AMERICAN STOCKS CAUSES SEVERAL FAILURES.

Fear Expressed That Further Lowering of Values Will Start Panic and Widespread Embarrassment—One Banker in The Hague Says There Are Not More than Ten Institutions There Which Have Not Been Speculating in Steel and Other Shares.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
[Copyright: 1903: By the New York Herald.]

THE HAGUE, Nov. 18.—A great many banks have failed, especially in Haarlem and Delft and in south Holland, lately, and today in The Hague itself a well known institution, the Hollandsche bank, stopped payment. In most cases the evil has been speculation in American rails and steel. The financial condition therefore is much depressed, and it is even said that in the near future many more banks at The Hague may fail. If this really is true it is predicted that a general panic will ensue.

The last fall in the American market swallowed one-quarter of Holland's investments in American securities, but if the banks in which the public, and, in most cases, the middle class, put their trust, stop payment then general trouble will ensue.

On Saturday last in Voorburg, a village close to The Hague, another bank failed.

Few Good Banks at The Hague.

In an interview on the situation in Holland one of the most prominent bankers said: "I am not at all astonished at the failing of so many banks. I expect many more banks will stop payment if the American market continues to fall. In The Hague there are not more than ten good bankers at most, and see how many banks there are. Today I have helped four banks already, and, as I say, if the American market continues to fall I expect that only five banks will remain.

"In Amsterdam speculation is also the rage, and many banks will fail there, too. Rotterdam some thirty years ago had a good lesson when a banker left Holland for America with the money of his customers, and now all the money there is in trade."

Poor People Suffer Most.

The middle classes are those who suffer the most now, and at present the people are beginning to distrust the bankers and ask for their deposits or want shares or bonds for them.

HIS WAR ON VIVISECTION WILL COST HIM $10,000.

Secretary of London Society Must Pay Damage for Accusing Surgeon of Torturing Dogs.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A jury in the lord chief justice's court today awarded Dr. Bayliss, a professor of the London University College hospital, $10,000 damages for libel, against Stephen Coleridge, secretary of the National Anti-Vivisection society and the son of the late Chief Justice Coleridge. Mr. Coleridge publicly charged the plaintiff with torturing a dog while carrying out vivisection experiments without proper anesthetics. Mr. Coleridge's charges rested on statements of two Swedish women students who gave a horrible picture of the laboratory of the college and the inhumanity of the operators, dogs howling in agony from the tortures inflicted on them while they were fully conscious.

One of the witnesses was Miss Lind, daughter of the late chief justice of Sweden. The defendant was the son of a late chief justice of England, and Lord Chief Justice Alverstone presided at the trial.

The action was based on a book written by a woman entitled "The Shambles of Science," one passage of which, quoted as being worthy of showing the bent of the writer's mind, runs thus:

"The lecturer, attired in the bloodstained surplice of the priest of vivisection, tucked up his sleeves, and is now comfortably smoking his pipe, while his hands are crimson."

The defense proved by evidence that the animals experimented upon had been completely anæsthetized.

SAN DOMINGO NOT YET TAKEN.

Severe Fighting Reported Around Capital of Republic, with Victory for the Government.

SAN DOMINGO, Nov. 17.—[Delayed.]—Severe fighting took place last night around this city. The rebels were prevented from entering the capital. The loss of the rebels is not known.

The United States cruiser Baltimore landed marines to protect American interests. Guards were placed at the American legation, consulate, and the Clyde steamship agency.

Conference on American Cruiser.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, Nov. 18.—A dispatch from Monte Cristo says information has been received there from Santo Domingo that United States Minister Powell, accompanied by Minister of Foreign Relations Galvan, has gone aboard the United States cruiser Baltimore. The object of their visit to the warship is unknown.

Rebels Have All Except Capital.

SAN JUAN, P. R., Nov. 18.—The French steamer St. Simon arrived here today from Hayti and Santo Domingo. It touched at Puerto Plata, on the north coast of Santo Domingo, and reports that all of the Dominican republic except the capital, San Domingo, was in the hands of the revolutionists.

Cherokee Sails for Island.

New York, Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The Clyde line steamship Cherokee sailed this afternoon for ports in Santo Domingo after the Dominican consul general, Manuel de J. Galvan, had refused to vise its clearance papers issued by the collector of the port.

Fears Cession of Republic.

J. M. Giordani, who came from San Domingo City two months ago, has announced himself as the confidential agent of the provisional government of Santo Domingo.

He gave out a cablegram from Morales saying President Gil wishes to cede the territory of the republic to the United States. Morales protested against such action.

CLAIMS TO CURE CONSUMPTION.

Russian Specialist Achieves Remarkable Results Under Observation of United States Consul.

MOSCOW, Nov. 18.—Remarkable cures of consumption have recently been effected in Russia by Kisel Zagoranski, formerly a mining engineer, and now specially licensed by the Russian medical department to practice medicine in cases of tuberculosis.

Hearing a rumor that John D. Rockefeller of the United States had offered an immense prize for the discovery of a consumption cure, he consulted United States Consul Smith, who, with his brother, W. E. Smith, began a systematic observation of the cases of several patients, especially that of an English woman who had been given up by the doctors. She submitted to Zagoranski's treatment and at the end of a week the proportion of tuberculosis bacilli in the saliva had been reduced 10 per cent, and at the end of six weeks she had gained twenty-two pounds, and there was no trace of bacilli observable. The cure appears to be permanent.

Zagoranski's treatment consists merely in the drinking of his specific in large quantities, together with life in the open air and the observance of a careful dietary.

Zagoranski says that so far as he is able to observe the treatment does not renew wasted lung tissue, but arrests the disease. At whatever stage of the disease the treatment is begun it kills the tuberculosis germ, leaving the system clean, so that it may be built up by a careful diet.

DISCUSS RESULTS OF CLUB VOTING.

JOY OF JAMIESON CROWD.

It Turns the Usual Wednesday Harmony Luncheon to a Celebration.

"It would be unfair to let the result of these club contests stand as an indication of the sentiment with reference to gubernatorial candidates. It was not a test of any candidate's strength."

This statement was made yesterday by Roy O. West and other friends of Charles S. Deneen. It became known that a number of the state's attorney's strongest supporters in the Fourteenth precinct of the Seventh ward, where the governorship question was made an issue, voted against Harry F. Johnson, who ran as the Deneen candidate for president of the club. This, it was claimed, showed that Johnson forced the issue on his own responsibility.

Organization republicans of Hyde Park were enthusiastic over the outcome, and they turned the Wednesday roundup and luncheon of their harmony committee into a celebration. They insisted that it was a victory for the organization in the Sixth and Seventh wards rather than for any gubernatorial candidate. However, the friends of Frank O. Lowden let it be known that they felt pleased. "It may have no decided bearing on Lowden's candidacy," suggested one of his lieutenants, "but it is a straw and shows that we are sure of at least a fighting chance in Hyde Park."

Contests in Fifth Ward.

There were three spirited attempts in as many precincts of the Fifth ward to overthrow David Shanahan and John McKenna, the organization leaders and Lorimer lieutenants. They all failed. Ex-Ald. E. R. Litzinger was defeated for club president in the Twenty-ninth precinct by a vote of 28 to 6. In the Thirteenth ward Postmaster Coyne was credited with having inspired lively fights in four precincts, and the returns showed that in every instance his ticket was defeated.

There was some discord in the Twenty-seventh ward because of the action several weeks ago of the ward machine in the gubernatorial matter. The Fifth precinct club adopted resolutions censuring the ward club for meeting and indorsing Mr. Deneen's candidacy without giving every member timely notice.

So far as reported, only two contests failed of settlement at the polls and will have to be decided by the county committee. Both come from the Sixteenth ward and they hinge on the question, apparently, of which faction kept within the rules and regulations.

Speaks for Assets Currency.

According to T. N. Jamieson the organization made great gains. He introduced David R. Forgan, vice president of the First National bank, and Maj. Dan Hogan, as the speakers at the luncheon of the Hyde Park harmony committee. They discussed assets currency and the banking business. Mr. Forgan, after stating that business is by a credit system, he thought the issuing of currency, in which the principle of credit is recognized ought to be allowed.

"Only a currency," he continued, "based on the principle of credit can adapt itself to the varied needs of the different sections of the country and the different seasons."

He advocated reforms, but said that the government should go slowly and begin by abolishing the United States subtreasuries.

Maj. Hogan suggested that the country bankers were well pleased with present conditions; that down in his end of the state they are loaning money in New York and to the St. Louis banks at good rates of interest, and are therefore feeling satisfied.

Peace in Sixteenth Ward.

Peace has been declared in the Sixteenth ward, and hereafter the republicans there will work in harmony. Through the efforts of James A. Reddick, the Schurman-Davis-Lange and the Devine factions were brought together. Their conference resulted in the adoption of the following slate for ward club officers, to be elected next Tuesday night:

President—John F. Devine.
Secretary—Abel Davis.
Treasurer—Andrew Schultz.

This ticket gives all interests fair representation. The point was made that henceforth there shall be no Lorimer, no Hertz, no interference of any outside boss.

FORCED TO SWELL SLUSH FUND.

Each State Employe at Pontiac, Ill., Reformatory Finds His Pay Check $15 Short.

Pontiac, Ill., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—This was pay day at the Illinois state reformatory, and again the guards and officers of the institution were obliged to contribute to the slush fund.

As each guard went off duty he was presented with his monthly pay checks, but they lacked $15 of being for the full month's salary.

Some few asked why the difference and were told that they knew and should ask no questions. Others who had not forgotten the occurrence last month took their checks and said nothing.

This will probably be the last assessment until March, when the officers expect to contribute $10 of their month's salary.

TRANSFER OF EAR IS BEGUN.

Physician Says He Has Taken First Step in Grafting $5,000 Organ Upon Another Head.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The transplanting of a $5,000 ear from the head of a young New York restaurant keeper to the head of a mysterious western millionaire was commenced here today by Dr. Andrew L. Nelden of New York.

Dr. Nelden is the only authority for all the information obtainable on the subject, and is keeping his two patients hidden from the public and inquirers. The surgeon says the first step in the operation has been performed successfully.

The ear which is to be grafted to the westerner was selected from 300 applicants who were willing to undergo a slow operation and part with one ear for $5,000 in cash. The operation will require twelve days.

ODDFELLOWS ELECT OFFICERS.

W. R. Humphrey Is Made Grand Warden and E. S. Conway Re-elected Grand Representative.

MUNYON'S PAW-PAW

WHAT A LEADING CHEMIST SAYS OF IT.

R. S. WALLACE
A. M. and A. C.

SAYS MUNYON'S PAW-PAW "HAS EXCEPTIONAL MERIT" IT CURES

DYSPEPSIA

BUILDS YOU UP

Ross S. Wallace, A. M. and A. C., is one of the most distinguished analytic and consulting chemists in the East. His home is in Haddonfield, N. J. After a careful analysis of Munyon's Paw-Paw he writes as follows:

"The sample of Munyon's Paw-Paw submitted for examination shows that it is a highly concentrated vegetable compound of exceptional merit as a digestant and tonic for both the stomach and nervous centers. It contains nothing injurious to the most delicate organs."

Signed ROSS S. WALLACE, A.M. & A.C.

When a man like Professor Wallace, distinguished alike at home and in scientific circles everywhere, skilled in his profession, familiar with the mysteries and values of chemical conditions—when a man like that comes forward and tells the people that he has subjected Munyon's Paw-Paw to scientific and careful analysis, and has found it to be all that I claim for it, the whole world is bound to listen and bound to believe. But that is not all. I will in a few days present the name of another chemist of highest reputation who says Paw-Paw has cured him of gastritis and acute stomach trouble. I expect to have other chemists come forward to indorse my new discovery. Not one or two but scores of them. I expect physicians of every school to learn the extraordinary merits of Paw-Paw just as Professor Wallace has done, and prescribe it for their patients. None of them can afford to ignore a remedy of such conspicuous merit. God placed the Paw-Paw on the earth for a beneficent purpose. That purpose has remained a mystery for countless centuries, but it is a mystery no longer. I have discovered that the Paw-Paw fruit, when properly combined with other medicaments, will cure man's ailments, whether they are the result of carelessness or indiscretion. Paw-Paw will cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nervousness and Insomnia. Before long the whole world will accept the truth and profit by it in renewed health, strong bodies, good nerves and clear brains. —MUNYON.

Cast away all tonics, all medicines and all stimulants, and let Munyon's Paw-Paw make you well. It will lift you into the high altitudes of hope and hold you there. It will give exhilaration without intoxication.

PRIEST AND FRIEND IN DUEL: BOTH ARE FATALLY WOUNDED.

Clergyman Declares Assailant Was Sent to Kill Him—Story That Card Game Started Fight Denied.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 18.—The Rev. Felix M. Lepore, pastor of the Mount Carmel Roman Catholic church, and Joe Sorici, an Italian, were both fatally wounded at 9:30 tonight in the priest's apartments in the church building. Father Lepore was shot twice in the abdomen and once in the face, and Sorici was shot once in the abdomen.

The priest, in a dying statement, denied the story that the fight had resulted from a card game, and declared that Sorici had been sent to kill him.

There seems to have been no eyewitnesses to the affair, and all those who were near the scene are Italians and reticent about the shooting. Both men were taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where it is said they cannot recover.

Father Lepore has lived in Denver for many years. Sorici is said to have recently come here from Pittsburg. The two men were friends.

FOOTBALL IS OFFENSE TO ART.

Yale Professor Says Modern Game Is Violation of Every Æsthetic Principle.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The popularity of football is declared by Prof. T. D. Goodell of Yale to be the cause of the undeveloped æsthetic taste of the modern public. Football, he said, was an offense to every artistic instinct and compared unfavorably with rowing, whose rhythm, he said, was the essence of poetry. "Twenty-two men," he said, "develop themselves by hard training and right living until they are twenty-two Apollos in physical beauty. Then they go upon the field and spoil all their symmetry by great pads of leather, which destroy their beauty and disfigure their faces with great pieces of rubber, so that all semblance to the human, much less the divine, is lost. There is nothing elevating in the game of football."

THE STAMP WILL TELL

Where the purest of waters babble and flow,
Where the skies are crimson from sunset's glow,
Where the air is fragrant and the Grain like gold—
From there comes Cedar Brook, rich, rare and old.

IF YOU do not see a little Green Government Stamp on the neck of a whiskey bottle, the contents are problematical—it may contain compounds flavored with prune juice and colored with burnt sugar. There is no law which prevents applying the name whiskey to any mixture of spirits.

W. H. McBrayer's Cedar Brook Whiskey is aged in bond, and bottled in bond, stamped and guaranteed by the Government to be perfectly pure, properly aged and 100 proof, and besides, the quantity in each bottle is guaranteed.

For half a century Cedar Brook has been recognized as the most famous whiskey of all Kentucky, made and aged in the old fashioned way. Its rich, mellow, fragrant, flavor is a constant delight to the man who knows, and when once tasted a substitue will not do.

THE INCREASE AND DECREASE OF THE HUMAN RACE.

The average duration of human life is 33 years. One-quarter of the people die before attaining six years of age, one-half before attaining sixteen, and about one person of each hundred reaches the age of sixty-five. Deaths occur at the rate of 67 per minute, 97,700 per day, and and 35,639,835 per year; births at 70 per minute, 100,800 per day, and 36,792,000 per year. If the majority of people would take Dr. Burkhart's Vegetable Compound, the above record would be materially changed. There would be fewer deaths, more births, and there would be greater longevity of life. Thirty days' treatment 25c. All druggists. Six months' guaranteed treatment $1.00.

JUDGE SCORES SERVANT GIRLS.

Calls Them Tyrannous, Overpaid, and Given to Overturning Household.

CHARGES FOR A PRIEST.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE. New York, Nov. 18.

A woman who gave her name as Redees, and is employed as a cook in the house of John McAleenan, made things lively in the house this morning and was arrested by Policeman Moore on a charge of intoxication. In a Harlem police court Magistrate Crane asked her how much money she was getting. She replied that she received $25 a month. This brought forth a lecture from the magistrate on the servant girl problem.

Judge Lectures on Servant Girl Problem.

"You servant girls," he said, "make $25 a month while farmers up in the country work from early in the morning until late at night and are glad to get $15 a month. You're making $10 more than you're worth. I know how you act. You lord it over the household and won't even let any one in the kitchen. I've been through it all and know from experience. You servants don't know when you're well off. You live on the fat of the land. You don't appreciate your position. What do you do? You run the kitchen; you wash; you get your employer into it; you cook and drink and turn the house upside down."

The magistrate remanded the woman till tomorrow.

The parishioners of St. Leonard's Roman Catholic church in Brooklyn are anxious to find out if their pastor, the Rev. George D. Sander, has an interest in a stock breeding farm at Far Hills, N. J. That Father Sander long has been a lover of fast horses has been well known to most of his parishioners. According to the stories that have been circulated Father Sander has been known at the Far Hills stock farm as "George West" and not as a priest. There has been a woman at the stock farm and the village folk have known her as "Mrs. West."

Use Priest's Name with Stock Farm and a Woman.

According to the stories, this woman formerly lived in Father Sander's parish and for some time has been a housekeeper at his farm. Father Sander is said to be in partnership in the farm with Joseph C. Peck, although Peck's friends do not think the priest has any interest in the farm.

Father Sander left his home after saying 6 o'clock mass this morning and at a late hour tonight had not returned, so the servant said.

Dr. Josiah Strong was inaugurated today as the first president of the American Institute of Social Service. The aim of the institute, Dr. Strong said, was to facilitate the process of readjustment by the dissemination of useful information bearing on the new conditions. Many letters from men and women connected with the institute were read. Among them were letters from President Roosevelt; Prof. Levasseur, member of the Institute of France; Cardinal Gibbons; Theodore Lewald, commissioner general for Germany to the St. Louis exposition.

A newspaper tomorrow will say that it has verified the report that negotiations are in progress for a settlement of the United States Shipbuilding company controversy, and that a settlement was virtually reached today. The terms of the settlement, as stated in this paper, are as follows:

First—That William B. Guthrie, counsel for Charles M. Schwab, Max Pam, and the shipbuilding company, will confess judgment in the case.

Second—That the legal fees and other expenses attendant upon the enormous amount of litigation, which the complaining first mortgage bondholders were put to, will be paid by the Schwab party. These expenses are said to amount to perhaps $150,000.

Third—That the holdings of the complaining bondholders who wish to sell their bonds will be purchased on a basis of 90. These bonds have recently sold in the market at 14.

Settlement in Shipyard Case Declared Near.

For the first time since the opening of the horse show the promenade at Madison Square Garden was thronged tonight. An extremely varied and picturesque program during the earlier hours had attracted the largest morning and afternoon crowds yet seen at the show. It was really the children's matinee, for many boxes were filled with parties of little folk who eagerly testified their delight as ponies went through their paces on the tan bark.

The Waldorf-Astoria challenge cup for the best horse suitable for a gig, which carries with it the practical championship for light harness horses, went to Forest King, W. H. Moore's horse, which he is said to have imported from England at an enormous cost especially to win this prize.

It was learned today that the United States Realty Construction company, besides cutting down the working force in its construction department, operating as the George A. Fuller company, also has made cuts in the clerical force of the main organization. Salaries have been reduced and those employés who could be spared have been discharged. Robert E. Dowling, president of the company, said the reduction was made to bring the working expenses down to the proportion of the volume of business. It affected chiefly stenographers, clerks, and draftsmen.

Realty Company Making Other Reductions.

"In other lines of business employers are cutting expenses," said Mr. Dowling. "There is nothing in the present reduction of our working staff more than other large contractors are doing. While securities have been going down the cost of building has remained at the same high figure. While this state of affairs remains there will be little building done. This winter, I believe, there will be from 30 to 40 per cent less than the normal amount of business by the building contractors.

"I wish to say," he added, "that our entire organization was never in better shape. We will take only those contracts that we know to be safe until the labor situation becomes more settled and contracts can be fulfilled.Lom

With his wife's life as stake and in icy waters which chilled him through and through to hinder him in his efforts to save her, Albert H. Clark, a portrait painter of some prominence, struggled with her for more than twenty minutes in the Hudson river near Fiftieth street today. Almost exhausted from his struggle and holding his wife in his arms he was taken aboard the tug Volunteer, the crew of which had witnessed his battle. Mrs. Clark was taken to the Roosevelt hospital, where she is a prisoner on the charge of attempting to commit suicide. Her husband, who said she had jumped into the river while suffering temporary mental derangement, expressed the hope and belief that the shock of the experience through which she passed will effect a permanent cure.

ALUMNAE OF VASSAR TO HOLD A BAZAAR.

MRS. CHARLES C. WHEELER

Graduates of the leading colleges west and east are cooperating with the Vassar Alumnæ association of Chicago to make the bazaar to be held in the rooms of the Chicago Woman's club tomorrow and Saturday a success. The bazaar was arranged primarily to raise money for the endowment fund of Vassar college, and was encouraged by the offer of John D. Rockefeller to duplicate any amount up to $200,000 which can be raised by the alumnæ.

The scores of all the Saturday football games will be announced at the bazaar, and every important college and university in the country, from Berkeley to Harvard, will have a booth. The decorations have been arranged under direction of Mrs. C. C. Wheeler, chairman of the decorating committee.

The bazaar will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. on both days. A business men's lunch will be served tomorrow from 12 to 3.

COLOMBIA EAGER FOR WAR

ARMY READY TO MARCH TO RETAKE PANAMA.

Official Note to Minister Beaupre Demands That the United States at Once Refuse All Recognition of the Republic and Permit Troops to Attack the So-Called Rebels on the Isthmus—Two More Provinces Are Ready to Follow New Flag.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
[Copyright: 1903: By the New York Herald.]

BOGOTA, Colombia, Nov. 16.—An official reply was made today to the note presented by United States Minister Beaupre informing the Colombian government that the Washington government had entered into official relations with the republic of Panama.

The reply was framed by Señor Carlos Ricos, minister of foreign affairs, who vigorously defends his government and threatens to march an army to Panama unless the United States immediately recedes from its position.

That the Colombians are willing to fight to maintain their dignity, and if possible to retake Panama, is shown by the strong support offered the government, and by the popular approval of Minister Ricbe' stand. The minister in his note to the United States, through Minister Beaupre, says:

"The Colombian government protests energetically against the attitude taken by the United States by the recognition of Panama and warning the United States that in not allowing Colombia to put down the rebellion the heretofore friendly relations existing between the two governments have arrived at such a critical state that it will be absolutely impossible to continue diplomatic relations unless the Washington government should immediately give notice that it has no intention to prevent Colombia from retaking the isthmus or to extend any recognition to the belligerents."

Army Ready to March.

The note concludes by stating that "a prompt reply is awaited from Washington, as the Colombian army is ready to march on Panama at once."

Adding to the indignation of the people and stirring them in their preparations for war a cable dispatch was received today to the effect that Germany "disapproves of the course taken by the United States and censures her for her interference in Panama."

It was announced today in official circles that the French colony at Bogota had extended its sympathy to the Colombia government and offered to contribute $500,000 to its support.

Colombia Faces New Revolt.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—The state department late this afternoon received advices that the departments of Cauca and Antioquoia of Colombia are seeking to separate from that government and are soliciting admission into the Panama republic. The Antioquoans are known as the Yankees of Colombia, and are progressive and businesslike people.

The situation at Bogota apparently has assumed a critical phase so far as relations between the United States and Colombia are concerned. Minister Beaupre on the 16th inst. was pressed strongly by the Colombian government to know whether the United States intended to recognize the new republic of Panama. The request was in the shape of a menace in the event that the recognition had been extended. Mr. Beaupre was instructed by this government again to inform the Colombian government that such recognition had been extended. He also was instructed to tender to the Colombian government the good offices of the United States to effect a settlement of the difficulties between Colombia and Panama.

Minister Beaupré has been granted leave of absence by the state department and it remains for him to determine when he shall avail of the leave.

Gudger Sends a Warning.

Consul General Gudger cabled from Panama today:

"There is a good deal of excitement at Buena Ventura and some feeling against foreigners. The Colombian government is said to be considering a land invasion of the isthmus."

Colombian Spies in New York.

New York, Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Under the espionage of two men who lingered about the corridors of the Fifth Avenue hotel today the envoys from Panama passed an enforced quiet day before they departed for Washington. One man of swarthy complexion and wearing a dark suit was first noticed by Dr. Raoul A. Amador, son of Dr. Manuel Amador-Guerrero, one of the high commissioners. Another man of evident Spanish descent, but more stylishly dressed, kept in close touch with the movements of the party. Because of these men, whom Dr. Amador believed are the paid spies of the Colombian government, the commissioners kept well within their rooms until the hour for their departure arrived.

Peace Commission Near Colon.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

COLON, Nov. 18.—The peace commission from Bogota, consisting of Gen. Rafael Reyes, Gen. Holguin, and Gen. Pedro Ospina, arrived at Honda, on the left bank of the Magdalena river, yesterday on their way to the isthmus.

HITT DEFENDS COURSE.

Says Recognition of New Republic Has Ample Precedent—Insurrection Not Aided.

Panama and to put down the revolution, as Colombian President Marroquin says?"

Not Bound to Preserve Sovereignty.

"Not at all. By the treaty of 1846 the United States guarantees the neutrality of the isthmus and the sovereignty and property of New Granada over that territory, but the minister of New Granada, Garrido, on June 29, 1866, informed our minister that this was only to guarantee them against foreign nations and gave us no right to intermeddle with domestic strife or struggles. Our only duty was to keep open the free transit from one sea to the other. Minister Burton, our representative, agreed to this Oct. 3, 1866. On April 29, 1865, Secretary Seward telegraphed:

"The attorney general gave an opinion Nov. 10, 1865, that our guarantee of sovereignty to New Granada only meant a guarantee against foreign powers and did not give us the right to take one side or the other in strife between New Granada and its own citizens. That would destroy its independence. We were simply bound to keep transit open."

"Is it true, as President Marroquin states, that we have ignored the Hurlbut treaty?"

No Hurlbut Treaty.

"No," said Mr. Hitt. "There is and there was no Hurlbut treaty. There was a long negotiation by Gen. Hurlbut, our minister, with the government at Bogota. He made a draft in 1870 which they would not accept, and they made a draft which he would not agree to, and the negotiations continued until 1873. No treaty was perfected by signature and ratification, but the whole thing fell through. It is astonishing that an intelligent man like Marroquin would publish such fiction."

"Do you think there is basis for the criticism that our government has prepared and fomented this revolution?"

"Far from it. The men who prepared the way for it and caused it were the rulers at Bogota. They had proposed the Panama canal treaty to the United States. We had finally agreed to their urgent pressure, and in that treaty agreed not only to construct the canal, which would cost us over $170,000,000, but make them a present of $10,000,000 spot cash. In other countries, as Mexico, they give large subsidies to those who build ways of communication, $12,000 a mile on railways being paid from the treasury of the republic. The Bogota capital is far away from Panama, and has little intercourse with it, or trade interest, and the most those men cared for was to strike the United States for as much money as possible. To the people at Panama the canal itself was the breath of life, for it would make them all prosperous. When the people in the province of Panama discovered the rapacity and selfish greed of the men of the central government, who thought they could extort twenty or twenty-five millions from the rich and easy going United States, and so rejected the treaty, Panama was thrown into despair with what seemed the loss of the canal by this willful rejection of the treaty which Bogota had first asked for. The South Americans go to revolution as a remedy for ills, and they quickly and unanimously turned out the Colombian office holders and those of the troops that did not go over to their side and bundled them off home."

"What basis is there for believing our government was favoring the conspirators or speculators?"

Did Not Favor Conspirators.

"I can see none. Its conduct was most generous in proposing such a gift to get the obstruction of the Colombian government out of the way. The aim of our government and the whole American people is to have the canal, which is of great benefit, we believe, to our country, but of enormous benefit to Colombia, and especially to Panama, and generally to all the world. Thus our country has proposed, and now proposes, resolutely and generously, to construct the canal for the benefit of all and the injury of none, the burden to be borne by the taxpayers of the United States. There is no indication that our government foresaw the revolution. We had only one ship in those waters on the 3d; none on the Panama side of the isthmus, and only one, the Nashville, on the Colon side, and there was no vessel of ours on the Panama side for a week afterwards. It was no secret to thinking men anywhere that the people of Panama were discontented with the folly and selfishness of the Bogota rulers in defeating the canal treaty. There were articles in the newspapers expressing this view all over America and Europe, but our government in no way induced or encouraged the revolution, and when it came took no part in it except constantly and singly to carry out its obligation under the treaty to keep transit and the canal free way clear from Colon to Panama, preventing any fighting or obstruction or disturbance, as was its duty under the solemn obligation of the treaty.

"Therefore," concluded Mr. Hitt, "the secretary of state has been making a new canal treaty with the republic of Panama, and, as soon as the senate ratifies it, we can trust that the energy of President Roosevelt will not allow the work of constructing the canal to be delayed."

Teller to Block Cuban Bill.

Senator Teller today notified the republican managers that they could not hope to pass the Cuban reciprocity bill during the extra session of congress. He proposes to debate the bill at length and will be reinforced by Patterson, Bailey, Morgan, Bacon, Carmack, and others.

President Declines Chicago Invitation.

Graeme Stewart, accompanied by Representative Boutell, called at the White house today and presented the formal invitation of the Marquette club to the president to be present at the banquet on Lincoln's birthday. The president said it would be impossible to leave Washington at that time, but if he could get away he would accept the invitation of the Lincoln club of New York, as he had been in Chicago before to speak on Lincoln's birthday. He promised to assist in getting a speaker for the occasion from his cabinet. Inasmuch as Secretary Hay and the attorney general cannot go, and as Secretary Root is about to retire, the probable speaker will be Secretary Shaw, the new secretary of war, Taft, or Secretary Wilson.

Lorimer Has New Bill.

Representative Lorimer today introduced a bill directing the secretary of the treasury to pay Maurice Langhorne of Chicago $5,000 for alleged effective services rendered the government during the civil war in saving Chicago from danger from the confederate prisoners confined in Camp Douglas and in preventing the United States warship Michigan from falling into the hands of the confederates.

Hitt's Bills Favored by Labor.

Representative Hitt today introduced two bills which meet the approval of labor organizations. One provides for an eight hour law, the other limiting the meaning of the word "conspiracy." It provides that no agreement, combination, or contract by or between two or more persons to do or not do any act in furtherance of any trade dispute between employers and employés shall be deemed a criminal offense.

LONDON LIKES THE TREATY

QUICK WORK ASTONISHES BRITISH EDITORS.

Standard Declares Editorially That the United States Is to Be Congratulated on a Bold Stroke Which Avoids Long Delays and Shifty Excuses—Calls It a Distinct Gain for Civilization, Good Order, and Promotion of Commerce.

LONDON, Nov. 19, 3 a. m.—Astonishment was caused here by the signing of a Panama canal treaty in Washington. Such a speedy conclusion of the treaty was unexpected.

Such a solution, however, has been regarded as a foregone conclusion, and there is not a single expression of doubt as to the ratification of the treaty by congress and the subsequent construction of the canal. Satisfaction is expressed that a difficult crisis has thus far been settled without troublesome consequences, the general belief here being that the republic of Colombia will bow to the inevitable and that the powers will soon follow the example of France and recognize the republic of Panama.

Congratulates United States.

The Standard editorially says:

"The United States is to be congratulated on the conclusion of the treaty. After the many long delays and the shifty excuses which it has had to endure from Colombia the United States must be qualified by experience to appreciate M. Bunau-Varilla's straightforward policy. Seldom has such a bold stroke for freedom been so instantaneously successful or so pleasingly lucrative. The new republic swims into the ken of an astonished and amused world without battle and encouraged by the receipt of $10,000,000."

The Standard regards the situation as a practical extension of American territory, since the United States obtains effective rights of sovereignty in the isthmus, and the paper welcomes the result as a "distinct gain for civilization, good order, and the promotion of commerce."

English Bondholders Anxious.

Colombian bondholders in England are endeavoring to bring pressure on the government to induce it to decline recognition of the new republic unless Panama assumes an equitable proportion of the Colombian debt. It is understood that the British government has made some formal representations on the subject to Washington, but that no serious notice will be taken of the protests of the bondholders.

MAJ. GEN. LEONARD WOOD IN BATTLE WITH MOROS.

Unofficial Reports Received at Manila Tell of Fighting at Jolo—Cable Lines Interrupted.

MANILA, Nov. 19.—An unofficial report says the captain of a United States army transport has landed reinforcements in Jolo and that fighting commenced as soon as the troops were landed. No further particulars have been received, as the cable is interrupted.

Favors Keeping the Friars.

ROME, Nov. 18.—A message to the vatican from the Philippines quotes the mayor of Manila as saying that, with the exception of a few who are irreparably compromised, the new American bishops ought to favor the retention of the friars in the islands, as the aversion of the Filipinos to them is gradually dying out. The mayor believes that the great majority of the Filipinos now understand that the friars no longer personify the hated Spanish yoke.

Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood started for Jolo from Mindanao early on Nov. 9 with troops to suppress a Moro rebellion. He cabled the Manila authorities at the time that serious fighting might be expected. On Oct. 30 a party of Moros had attacked a battery of artillery and firing was kept up all day. Two Americans were wounded.

Secretary Moody Decides That Rear Admiral Evans' Language in Reviewing Court Martial Was Proper.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—Secretary Moody today announced his decision in the matter of the protest of Paymaster H. E. Biscoe against the language used by Rear Admiral Evans, commander in chief of the Asiatic station, in reviewing the result of the court martial of Assistant Paymaster Nichols. He says: "In view of the evidence before the court, without weighing too nicely the terms of his censure, it is believed that Rear Admiral Evans was actuated by a high sense of duty and inspired by a regard for the honor and welfare of the service."

KICKED BY A COW

SAMANTHY GREEN MET WITH A PAINFUL ACCIDENT AT MASON'S CORNER LAST NIGHT, BUT IT CONVULSED A GREAT CROWD.

Samanthy Green, the maid-of-all-work for Mrs. Hepsibah Putnam, went down to the cross-roads at Zeke Pettengill's last evening to borrow some milk. Pettengill told her to go in and help herself. It is supposed she must have tried to milk the wrong cow, as it was dark in the barn. Spectators first heard a terrible racket, then her milking pail and shawl and hat came flying through the barn door, closely followed by Samanthy. When she gathered herself together sufficiently for an explanation Samanthy said she thought the cow must have kicked her.

An audience of 4,000 people, packing the GREAT AUDITORIUM from pit to dome, witnessed the incident in "QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER" last night, and laughed, screamed and roared as they never had before. It took ten curtain calls to quiet the audience. For the benefit of those who did not see Samanthy kicked out of the barn by a cow last night, she will repeat the performance every evening and at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees this and next week only. NINE SOPHOMORES AT BROWN ARE ILL OF TYPHOID FEVER.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Six members of the sophomore class of Brown university are in the Rhode Island hospital, ill of typhoid fever. Three more have gone home with the disease. The students ill in the hospital are: Charles S. Hoff, Little York, N. J.; William L. Lillie, Lebanon, Conn.; Harvey M. Kelly, Bradford, Mass.; and Thomas R. Marshall, Seaville, N. J. Two others, named Bloomquest and Smith, who have been ill for some time, do not have alarming symptoms. Chester Smith has returned to his home in Worcester, Ill., with a mild case of fever; William G. Windsor left for Brockton with symptoms of fever; and H. G. Bailey is in his home in this city, but has reached the convalescent stage. President Wallace, in connection with the college physician and the board of health, has forbidden the use of the pump and closed all sources from which contagion might arise. The students who are ill boarded in different places, but the most careful investigation has not disclosed the source of the epidemic.

J. M. Johns Takes Stand in Conspiracy to Bribe Trial and Shows What He Did with $4,500 Paid by Turfman.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—J. M. Johns, the Indiana attorney who, with D. V. Miller, former assistant attorney general for the postoffice, is on trial for conspiracy to extort bribes, today testified that no part of the $4,500 he was paid by John J. Ryan, the turf operator, was given to Miller. Johns produced his check books and other evidence to show just what he had done with the money.

D. V. Miller testified that there never had been any understanding with Johns concerning a division of money.

The government closed its case with the introduction of a mass of official reports and documents. Then the defense followed with a formidable array of character witnesses.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1903.

THE PRICE IS $100,000.

Chicago can have the republican national convention for $100,000. It is not worth the money so far as the city as a whole is concerned. It may pay the railroads which have terminals here, the hotelkeepers, and men in a few other lines of business to raise the purchase money and hand it over to the national committee to assist in paying campaign expenses. On one occasion the funds thus raised went to pay old debts, but it is not known that there are any unsettled bills at this time.

There is no controversy over one point—the supreme advantages of Chicago as a convention city. The largest number of people can come here with the least inconvenience and can be well accommodated. Chicago has a fine convention hall and perfect telegraphic facilities for sending out reports of proceedings. If either or both of the national committees, influenced by these facts, decide that their presidential candidates ought to be nominated here they will act wisely, but if the merits of the city count for nothing until they have been reinforced by a lot of cash there is no reason why people who will not be specially benefited should rush forward to subscribe. The money which the delegates and the politicians who accompany them may spend will not be widely diffused but will go into the cash drawers of a limited number of men. In some ways a convention is a nuisance. It interferes with ordinary business. The crowds it draws are an annoyance to many. Chicago can get no glory out of a national convention. It has had a great deal of glory of that kind and is not impatient for any more.

If the republican national committee shall vote for Chicago, well and good. There is no great longing among people generally for such a vote. They rather dislike the mercenary phase of the matter. They ask, "Why should the city which is admittedly the best for the purpose be asked to put up $100,000 or a smaller sum?" If there is any political advantage to be secured by holding the convention in New York City—if it will aid in getting the electoral vote of New York—let it go there. There is no uncertainty about Illinois. It will go republican no matter where the presidential ticket is nominated.

ANOTHER FEMININE MOB.

It was but a few days ago that the women of New York turned out in vast numbers to catch a glimpse of the Goelet-Roxburghe wedding. It will be recalled that they crowded the streets, ransacked the bride's carriage, overwhelmed policemen, crawled under awnings, hid in the pews, invaded the church via the cellar door, outwitted the ushers, and looted the sacred edifice of its wedding decorations. THE TRIBUNE at that time tried to explain the great feminine uprising upon the theory that it was a manifestation of the uncontrollable longing of women to see the most conspicuous event in their lives, that it was only the workings of their emotional functions, and that they were not responsible because they are so made.

The next social function in New York is the horse show, and again the women are in evidence, numerously, inquisitively, and audaciously. The situation again calls for explanation, and it appears to be simple. In the horse show the horse is second from the exhibiting point of view. Society is first. It is understood that during the horse show the women are to exhibit the creations, the confections, and the symphonies which they have had made secretly at home or have imported quietly from abroad. It is understood they go to the show to be seen rather than to see, and that they are competing with each other. It is the fashionable opening day for the winter season. If there is anything next to a wedding which lovely woman passionately adores it is the latest fashion in gowns. She cannot help it. She has been brought up that way from childhood, and ages of experience have emphasized the passion so that it dominates her with delightful tyranny. She is not responsible for it. Of course there is no excuse for the cold blooded dressmakers who stood in front of the boxes and took snapshots of the dresses or coolly made detailed notes of their patterns and trimmings and colors. That was commercial greed, and it ought to have been checked. The owners of the dresses whose money has enabled them to employ exclusive services should be protected from the sight of the odious Mrs. Smith or the stuck up Mrs. Brown appearing in replicas of their gowns. There is no excuse for them. But why should any complaint be made of the vast number of women who cannot afford such creations and yet are impelled by overmastering cosity to get near enough to them to [illegible] them, to study them, to find what [illegible] are made of, and how the wearers get into them, to see if they are "all wool and a yard wide," and possibly even to touch the goods with profane hands and then reluctantly to turn away wondering how it must feel to wear such a dress and to be "the observed of all observers"? Why should the fashionable wearers complain? Did they not go there to be seen? And if no one looked at the exhibit how would the exhibiters feel?

WHY NOT ARBITRATE?

Some there be who disingenuously confuse a demand for arbitration with a concession to disorder. The confusion is wrought in order to bring into disrepute the principle of arbitration—and, consequently, to fortify the position of those who would say, "We have nothing to arbitrate."

Arbitration and concession to disorder are separate things. We hope for the first; we cannot countenance the second for an instant. Where there is disorder, materialized or threatened, the police should gather, and they should put it down. Whether disorderly persons sympathize with the strike or not is as much beside the case as whether they are blondes or brunettes. The case against them is that they have violated ordinances or laws against disorder, and in consequence must suffer the legal penalty for their offenses. No matter what else, order must be preserved in the streets of Chicago.

So much for the case of disorderly citizens versus the city of Chicago and the state of Illinois. Now for the separate case of striker vs. company. The strikers say they have grievances. They say they are entitled to higher pay. They say that, owing to the method of routing cars, they frequently are compelled to put in as much as fifteen or seventeen hours in order to earn ten hours' pay. They say that they do not want to interfere with the company's right to discharge or employ, but that they do want to protect their union against being insidiously disintegrated by the company. The company replies that the men get high pay now—higher than are paid anywhere else—that it cannot accept dictation in regard to the routing of its cars, that the men's demand for a "closed shop," if granted, would turn the operation of the cars entirely over to the union, and that it is not trying to break it up.

Here are some conflicting statements. It is the habit of each party to a controversy to state its case more strongly than the facts warrant in order to win public sympathy. It is evident that in this instance one case has been overstated, or both have been. Submission of the controversy to an impartial tribunal will bring the naked truth to light speedily. There is one point, at least, which the company will not concede under any circumstances, but which it is intimated the men will not press. There will remain other points where there is a disagreement as to facts. The company, if convinced of the correctness of its statement of facts and the justice of its position, safely can submit its case to arbitration. Then the public will know officially which side has been attempting to mislead it.

LET BIG BEN ALONE.

There is no occasion for the fuss which is being made over the disappearance of "Big Ben" from the Lincoln park zoo. There is no occasion for offering rewards for his capture and return. "Big Ben," tired of his "pent up Utica" and of being made a spectacle, sick of human curiosity, sick of the monotony of his diet, sick, even, of the sight of his fellows, is only taking an outing in the big lake, where he can rove at his own sweet will, visit distant resorts, have a change of air, water, and scene, and a varied menu.

The only danger to "Big Ben" is that some brute may kill him. It is the first impulse of many persons discovering a strange bird which has lost its way and become bewildered, or an animal which has escaped from captivity and is enjoying its freedom, to kill it. Even a stray cat or a lost dog becomes at once a target for missiles. It is not the brute in human nature, for brutes are not so cruel, but savagery exhibiting itself. It is to be hoped "Big Ben," one of the kindest, most harmless and peaceable of animals, may not encounter any such savagery, and that if he is to be caught he may be caught without injury and returned to his tank in as good condition as when he left it.

It is not unlikely, in any event, that "Big Ben," if he is allowed reasonable time, will return of his own accord and ask his keeper to let him in again. He will revel for a time on perch, and whitefish, and lake lizards, but he will tire of them and come back for his steady, reliable diet. The sea lion is a social animal. No segregation for him. "Big Ben" will get lonesome in his big 340 mile long lagoon without one of his kind in it and will pine for some of his fellows to talk with and gambol with. He will come back as sure as the cat. And he knows that when he does come back there will be rejoicing and the fatted calf or its equivalent. Let him enjoy his outing, therefore. Let "Big Ben" alone. He is having a good time, but he will tire of it, and some morning, when least expected, he will be climbing the fence and sliding back into his accustomed place in the zoo.

A BLOW AT BOGUS INSURANCE.

At the request of the reputable fire insurance companies of this country Senator Dryden has introduced a bill aimed at the disreputable concerns in the insurance business. There is a law forbidding the use of the mails for the transmission of lottery matter. The object of Senator Dryden's bill is to widen the scope of the law so as to make it applicable to letters, postal cards, circulars, pamphlets, and other publications concerning any business of and contracts and policies of life, fire, or other insurance transmitted into any state, district, or territory by concerns or persons not authorized to transact such business in the state from which they are transmitted.

The insurance companies which are asking for this legislation say that the public loses more through the irresponsible concerns, of which there are so many, than through any other form of fraud. That may be an exaggeration, but it is certain that property owners pay out large sums annually for worthless insurance. It may be said that they ought to be more careful and investigate the standing of a company before they pay it a premium, and should not bite eagerly at the bait of extremely low rates. Men ought to know that extremely cheap insurance is untrustworthy insurance, but men are not always so wise as they should be, and it is necessary to have laws to protect them against seductive forms of fraud.

If men are carrying on the insurance business in defiance of the law of the state in which they live, it is quite proper for congress to recognize and reinforce the state laws by forbidding such individuals the use of the mails. The legislation which is asked for will not, if enacted, put an entire stop to the bogus insurance business. It will be carried on to some extent so long as there are men who cannot tell a bad from a good insurance company and so long as there are knaves to take advantage of their ignorance, but it will not be carried on so extensively as it is now.

THE SYMPATHETIC STRIKE.

A Chicago delegate to the American Federation of Labor offered a resolution to the effect that its constitution be so amended as to provide that no organization belonging to it shall sign an agreement which shall prevent a sympathetic strike. The committee to which it was referred reported unfavorably and the convention has concurred in the report.

The sympathetic strike is an intolerable nuisance. If it were to be a common affair it would put an end to most agreements between employer and employés. The employer would have no guarantee against the sudden stoppage of his business by reason of a dispute between some other employer and his men in which he personally had no concern, and which he could not settle no matter how much he might wish to do so. A sympathetic strike punishes the innocent for the sins of the guilty. If the union men on the north and west side street car lines were to quit work, north and west siders, who have nothing to do with the south side trouble, would be the victims.

The action of the Federation of Labor will not put an end to the indefensible sympathetic strike, but will have a tendency to discourage it. Indeed, the older and wiser unions, which have the more conservative and intelligent leaders, are growing more and more averse to showing sympathy by throwing down their tools. They show it by contributing money for the relief of strikers. That is practical aid, which the sympathetic strike is not. The hotheads and extremists may continue to extol its virtues as a weapon in labor conflicts, but it will gradually lapse into "innocuous desuetude."

Fire Losses in 1903.

The fire insurance companies had a comparatively comfortable time of it during last month. The October losses for the United States and Canada were $10,409,800, as compared with $9,593,300 in 1902 and $14,749,900 in 1901. Of the month's totals, $8,565,766 are to be credited to the United States. As compared with this total, the showing for November, and only about half the month has passed, is not encouraging, for the total losses for the first seventeen days are $7,804,661. To this amount two fires alone, at Coney Island and Troy, N. Y., contributed $2,500,000. It is in order now to expect heavy losses up to the close of the year. The cold snap has come earlier, more suddenly and more severely than usual, and as usual there will be an overheating of stoves and furnaces with the customary destructive results where flues are defective. The total fire losses for 1903 to date are about $120,000,000, as compared with about $150,000,000 for all of last year. It is likely that the losses this year will considerably exceed those of last year and nearly approximate those of 1901.

OUR Canadian cousins are threatening to boycott the St. Louis world's fair next year. If they do this the only result will be that they will miss the greatest show on earth. (St. Louis papers please give us a long credit mark.)

MAYOR HARRISON will pardon the suggestion, but has it occurred to him to try the expedient of calling the strikers and the street car company together and reading to them Gov. Yates' Thanksgiving proclamation?

MR. BRYAN'S visit to Europe has no political significance. He goes there merely to give his mind a much needed rest.

IN the year 1816, known as "the year without a summer," the old chronicles inform us that "November was cold and blustering," like the average November, but December was mild and pleasant. They had no experienced government officer to look after the weather in those days.

THE suburban shopkeeper is bearing bravely the inconvenience caused by the strike. Some of his neighbors who usually come downtown to buy goods are patronizing him now.

THE designing bystander—as distinguished from the i. b.—should not make the mistake of thinking he can get a free ride downtown by refusing to move on. The patrol wagon will only take him to the nearest police station.

PERHAPS Big Ben, the escaped sea lion, knows by this time where the Chicora lies.

STAND up for the principle—if you can't get a seat.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Apartment House Tragedy.

They shiver by the steam pipes,
While their vigils dreary they keep,
For the frost is on the window

Presence of Mind.

Hearing a smothered cough behind the palms in the rear of the hall where they were holding a woman's convention the athletic doorkeeperess made a foray in that direction and dragged forth an undersized man who was taking notes of the proceedings.

"Ladies," he said, in an agitated voice, "please let me stay. I hate Senator Smoot and the army canteen a thousand times worse than you do!"

It was a desperate chance, but it saved him, and he was invited to a seat on the platform.

Wonders of a Great City.

Uncle Josh, just in from Upcreek, saw a wagon with the sign, "Eagle Laundry," painted on the side, moving rapidly along the street.

Temporary Truce.

"What do you do when your wife asks you if you ever cared for any other woman before you met her?" asked Ruggles.

"I temporize," said Boggles.

"Temporize?"

"Yes; I tell her I haven't time to enumerate them all."

No Respite.

Its World.

A fierce blast shook the tree, and the hickorynut fell to the ground.

"Gee!" exclaimed the worm inside the nut. "What an earthquake that was!"

LETTER OF MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Copyright: 1903: By the Marquise de Fontenoy

KING CARLOS of Portugal is about to visit Brazil in state as the guest of the Brazilian republic, thus returning the official visit paid to him some years ago at Lisbon by the president of Brazil. He will land at Rio de Janeiro shortly after the new year, and elaborate preparations are already being made for his reception.

The visit is creating a good deal of interest not only in the orld world but also throughout South America. For the king is a grandnephew of Dom Pedro, the last emperor of Brazil, who was deprived of his throne and driven into exile by the revolutionists, who now constitute the government of the republic of Brazil, while the king is, likewise the chief of that house of Braganza, one of the branches of which, headed by the ex-crown princess of Brazil and her two elder sons, is still conspiring to bring about a monarchical restoration in Brazil and the reëstablishment of Dom Pedro's empire.

Dom Carlos, however, is a liberal minded man, who, although married to the eldest sister of the duke of Orleans, royalist pretender and declared enemy of the republic in France, does not consider it necessary on the ground of this relationship to abstain from entertaining the most friendly and cordial relations with President Loubet and the other members of the existing régime at Paris, where he has on several occasions made prolonged stays as the guest of the state.

And in the same way he sees no reason why the fact that his granduncle was ousted from the throne of Brazil, and that his cousins are pretenders thereto, should debar him from fostering friendly relations with the government of Brazil, thereby developing the trade and industry of his country. Formerly the Portuguese had most of the commerce of Brazil in their own hands, but of late years they have been to a great degree superseded by the Germans and Italians, and it is hoped that the visit of Dom Carlos will do something towards restoring Portuguese influence and the old time Portuguese commercial supremacy in Brazil.

It is quite on the cards that King Carlos may before returning to Portugal visit the United States, reaching here in time to take in the world's fair at St. Louis. If so, he is likely to receive a warm welcome, as his geniality, his passion for every kind of sport, his sunny disposition, his fondness for laughter and good cheer, and with all his cleverness, his liberal views, and his manliness cannot fail to win for him many friends. He is one of the finest sporting shots in Europe, wrestles, boxes, smokes forty cigars a day, paints, sings, plays on several instruments, has a keen eye for horse flesh, and talks English like a native. As usual, his consort, Queen Amelie, is to act as regent during the absence from Europe of her husband, who may be relied upon to dispel on this side of the Atlantic any lingering notion that may remain to the effect that European monarchs are necessarily effete.

King Edward has again given evidence of his breadth of mind in religious matters by building a chapel on his Sandringham estates in Norfolk for the use of the Primitive Methodists of the district, who have hitherto been obliged to worship in a rough, temporary structure, erected in a field. Of course, this has led to an outcry in the so-called Church of England press, which insists that the king in building chapels for Methodist worship is violating his obligations as head of the Church of England, which he has sworn to maintain. He will, however, pay as little attention to these intolerant protests as did the late Queen Victoria, when she was assailed by the same newspapers for building the Presbyterian parish church at Cralthie, near Balmoral. Lord Curzon in his official capacity as viceroy—that is to say, the representative of the king in India—has gone even still further, having liberally subscribed to the restoration of several famous mosques used for Mohammedan worship.

Lord Cromer, the British plenipotentiary in Egypt, has always been regarded as the busiest man in the service of the British crown, the task extricating the land of the Nile as well as the sad Soudan from the slough of bankruptcy, corruption, insurrection, and general chaos into which it had been plunged by Khedive Ismail and his immediate predecessors following upon centuries of Mameluke and Caliph maladministration, being a labor of so colossal a character as to monopolize the energies and to overtax the strength of even the most strenuous man. Yet in spite of this he seems to have found time not only to make a profound study of ancient Greek but likewise to convert into ringing English verse some of the most beautiful but least known of Greek poems, finding in this a relaxation from his administrative labors.

Unlike Gladstone and so many other English statesmen who have achieved fame as classical scholars, Lord Cromer did not learn Greek at school. For he received his education at the "shop"—that is, the military academy of Woolwich—and it was only when stationed in Corfu as a young subaltern artillery officer that he was led by his environment to learn modern Greek. This acquisition interested him in ancient Greek, and the knowledge of the latter caused him to turn to the old Greek poets, of which he has now published a volume in verse entitled "Paraphrases and Translations from the Greek."

Some of the finest verses are those headed "After Antiphanes," and they all show that Lord Cromer has himself the gift of true poetry, and that empire making, statesmanship, and the most arduous sort of financial reorganization do not necessarily destroy illusions. Indeed, a man is a worse, not a better, administrator and leader of men who cares nothing for letters, and who has never, in the words of the London Spectator, discovered "the muses' secret hoard." It may be remembered that the great marquis of Wellesley, one of the most illustrious of India's governor generals, found time amidst the affairs of his viceroyalty to write some exquisite verse, that the fourteenth earl of Derby, surnamed "The Rupert of Debate," found leisure to make and publish while premier the finest translation of Homer's "Iliad" in existence, while the present English prime minister's philosophic writings and the volumes which Lord Rosebery has published on Pitt and on Napoleon at St. Helena, all go to prove that statesmanship and letters go handjin hand.

Now that Sir Henry Irving is in this country, reviving interest in the great Italian poet, Dante, by his wonderful impersonation of the latter on the stage, it may be of interest to recall the fact that most of the authentic and interesting relics of Dante are in the possession of an ex-footman, but who now bears a title of nobility obtained by the judicious expenditure of money. He was in the service of the late Countess Zucchini, who died a few years ago at Florence, bequeathing to him her entire fortune, amounting to several million francs, after having raised him from the servants' hall to the position of agent and factotum in the management of her property.

The countess was the last descendant of Dante, the immortal poet of the "Inferno," who, like herself, was a member of the Alighieri family. Marrying young a Count Zucchini, she left him after a few years, and thenceforth abandoned herself to all kinds of eccentricities, despising etiquette, convention, and formality. Several times the relatives of her mother and of her husband endeavored to have her put under restraint. But the courts invariably decided in her favor, declaring that while she was odd she was quite keen witted enough to manage her own affairs.

It had been hoped that she would bequeath the numerous relics of Dante which she had inherited as the last of the house of Alighieri, to some of the museums or public institutions, either of Florence or of Rome. But they all passed into the possession of her ex-footman, and the legal proceedings instituted to upset her will resulted in defeat.

A LINE-O'-TYPE OR TWO.

A Ballade of Hard Cider.

When cider bubbles gay and bright,
Just as this cider which we see
And has a tantalising bite—
A tang of winesap memory!
When it has waited silently
For us to come, since early fall,
I'm very sure you will agree
Hard cider does no harm at all.

Pour out another glass—that's right!
Now drink to that great, spreading tree
Which caught the whispers of the night
And wove them into melody
And blent them with the witchery
Of colors which the dawnings call
Up from the far east's mystery—
Hard cider does no harm at all!

What? Have another? Well, I might,
For you and I, we both agree
This cider will not make us tight.
Ain' I correc'? Say! Seems to me
'S if some joyoush honeybee
Had gone to make his honey haul
An' lef' a shting behin' 'im. Gee!
Hard cider does no harm 't all.

Wassat? Jug's empty? Get a light.
Let's go an' make a shrishty plea
To shat 'ere shider keg—it might Have known when it shaw us, shat we C'd each drink shider 'nuff fer three!
Shay! Why you climbin' up she wall?
Shay? Shink you are a bloomin' flea?
Hard shider doesh no harm 't all!

L'ENVOI.

Prinsh—you're a prinsh, ol' man, to me!

WHY HE HAS IT.

He has had appendicitis
And a dozen more diseases
Which are strictly in the fashion
When the bank account increases.
He has taken every treatment—
Mental science, hydrostatic,
Operations, dopes, and tablets,
Radium and cures pneumatic.

And the trouble is, his habit
Is the sort that always wearies—
He must tell you of his symptoms
In a bunch, and in a series.
He will chat of all the microbes—
Give their traits as he recalls them,
Till his friends say that to see him
Is a vision that appalls them.

Now he has another ailment—
'Tis the latest stylish illness,
And his friends are all delighted
For the doctor cautions stillness.
He must not go into details
As to where or when the pain was—
For the faddy fag has settled
Where he used to think his brain was.

BETWEEN SHIVERS.

I wish a blizzard fierce would whizz
Right straight where Manitoba is
And whoop and howl and blow and roar
As never blizzard blew before.

I wish this blizzard would cut loose
And blow things to the very deuce,
Until when it had finished there
Old Manitoba should be bare.

For then upon that barren flat
There'd be no more of Med'cine Hat.
If that cold coaxing Hat blew off.

If Med'cine Hat was blown away,
Clear down to the equator, say,
Then all the beastly cold would flit
To some place where they've need of it!

SOME MORE PEOPLE.

Some people say they always speak
Exactly what they think.
In other words, their talk will leak,
No matter who must shrink,
Because their fancy seems a fact,
But they would show a lot more tact
If they would hire some one to teach
Them how to put a link
Upon their tongues—or stop their speech,
Or else to stop to think.

NEW DRAMATIC IDEAS.

New York—Mrs. Leslie Carter was served with a writ of injunction on the stage during the performance of "Zaza" last night. She did not respond to an encore.

Baltimore—Miss Vera Gliddley, the star of the company which is producing "The Hidden Hand; or, the Short Deck," here, lost her jewels during the second act tonight. The innovation was highly pleasing to the audience, many of whom joined in the search for the gems.

Pittsburg—Mrs. William Prim, better known by her stage name of Lucile de la Creme, announces that her divorce suit against her husband will be tried in full view of the audience during the performance of "All for Love," which is drawing big houses this season.

Buffalo—Miss Fleurette Kajones of the Zippity Comic Opera company almost fainted with surprise tonight when a court officer leaped upon the stage and handed her $10,000,000 in gold to which she had fallen heir. It was the bequest of a hitherto unknown uncle who recently died somewhere near Zambesi.

SLEEP.

BY ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING.

Of all the thoughts of God that are
Borne inward unto souls afar,
Among the psalmist's music deep,
Now tell me if that any is,
For gift or grace, surpassing this—
"He giveth his beloved sleep"?

What would we give to our beloved?
The hero's heart, to be unmoved—
The poet's star tuned harp, to sweep—
The patriot's voice, to teach and rouse—
The monarch's crown, to light the brows?
"He giveth his beloved sleep."

What do we give to our beloved?
A little faith, all undisproved—
A little dust to overweep,
And bitter memories, to make
The whole earth blasted for our sake,
"He giveth his beloved sleep."

"Sleep soft, beloved!" we sometimes say,
But have no tune to charm away
Sad dreams that through the eyelids creep;
But never doleful dream again
Shall break the happy slumber when
"He giveth his beloved sleep."

O earth, so full of dreary noise!
O men, with wailing in your voices!
O delved gold, the waller's heap!
O strife, O curse, that o'er it fall!
God strikes a silence through you all,
And "giveth his beloved sleep."

His cloud above it saileth still,
Though on its slope men sow and reap;
More softly than the dew is shed,
Or cloud is floated overhead,
"He giveth his beloved sleep."

For me, my heart, that erst did go
That sees through tears the mummers leap,
Would now its wearied vision close,
Would childlike on his love repose

Echoes of the Strike

JUST as the elevated train pulled out of the Madison street station on the loop a portly man rushed desperately down the platform towards the rear end of the moving train. With surprising agility for a man of his weight he caught hold of the closed gate on the rear platform and threw his legs up over it as a small boy vaults a rail fence.

The platform was already crowded and the flying feet of the newcomer played havoc with the hats faces, and shirt fronts of the men already in place.

"I beg your pardon," said the man who had made the flying jump, as he tried to squeeze himself down to a solid standing place.

"Don't mention it," said a thin, satirical looking person in a tall hat. "May I trouble you to take your right foot out of my vest pocket?"

"Maria," he said over the telephone wire, "I shan't be able to get home until late tonight. Don't be surprised if I don't get home at all. I may decide to stay downtown until morning."

"What is the matter, Thomas?" asked his wife in a distinctly unfriendly tone. "This isn't the night for your lodge meeting is it?"

"The first real street car strike in Chicago," said the old timer," took place over on the west side in the '70s. In those days there were nothing but horse cars running and the conductors and drivers were paid by the trip, with no allowance for lost time or delays of any kind.

"One day there came a tremendous snow storm, which filled the streets with drifts and almost entirely stopped the progress of the cars. It was before the time of modern snow plows and slow progress was made in clearing away the drifts. As a result many of the cars made but a single round trip during the entire day, which, of course, cut down the wages of the drivers and conductors to almost nothing.

"That night the men held a meeting and adopted resolutions declaring that it was unfair that they should suffer because of a snow storm and that they would not go to work until a rule was adopted making them allowance in the matter of delays. They insisted that they should be paid for delays over which they had no control.

"For a day or two the horse cars staid in the barn, the company making little or no effort to run them. As a consequence there was not a trace of violence. Unfortunate west siders tramped the deep snow to their work downtown and cursed the company. Then, without the interference of any board of arbitration, Russell Jones, the then president of the west side road, gave in to all the demands of the men and the strike was settled as quietly and as quickly as it had been begun."

One of the striking conductors owns and lives in a little cottage which backs up on the right of way of the Chicago and Rock Island railroad, near Sixty-first street.

On Tuesday something happened to the high retaining wall which the railroad company has built to cut off its right of way from the conductor's back yard. The wall tipped over and fell to pieces and the freight track immediately next to the wall slipped over with it. It happened that on the track just at that point stood a car filled with hard coal. When the wall fell, carrying the track with it, the car of coal was entirely overturned and dumped its load of coal in the striking conductor's back yard, where it was handy to his coal bin.

And now there is at least one of the strikers who can look forward to a hard winter with complaisance, at least so far as fuel is concerned.

He was a youthful tough, with the stub of a black cigar rammed half way down his throat and his light brown hat cocked over his left eye. He stood at noon yesterday on Clark street, near the corner of Madison, and talked in a guttural tone of voice.

"'Move on,' says de cop.

"'Why don't you make me move on?' I says, givin' de cop de icy eye.

"De cop looks me over for a minute an' den he jist laughs an' moves on himself. I guess he didn't want any of my game. If he'd a-got gay wid me I'd a-hit him a——"

The sentence was never completed. While the rowdy was talking a small and peaceful looking policeman had approached, unobserved by the terror of the police force. In a mild and gentle tone of voice the officer said: "Please move on, gentlemen."

Everybody moved at once and without debate, and, far in the van, moved the bad man from back of the tanyard. He moved on the run, and the zigzag path he pursued across the street was plainly due to his burning desire not to come into close contact with a policeman.

"If this thing keeps up much longer," said the south sider, "I shall develop into a ground and lofty tumbler, for whose services the circuses will willingly pay enormous prices.

"Last night, for instance, I came down on an 'L' train which was run into the old station at Congress street instead of running around the downtown loop.

"'Everybody out,' called the guards, and we all debouched out on the little platform, only to meet, face to face, an equally large and thickly packed crowd struggling to get on to the cars. For fifteen minutes the two armies, stretching from railing to railing, faced each other without making progress in either direction. Women were badly crushed and a good many dresses were torn. On the east of the platform stand several small buildings, the roofs of which are only a few feet above the top of the railing which guards the 'L' platform. Several women were lifted up by their escorts and helped to climb over on the roofs, out of the way of the crush. Then employés of the elevated company got long boards, and, entering some flat buildings which face on State street, made their way to the rear second story windows of these buildings and stuck their boards from the windows over to the railing of the elevated platform, a distance of eight or ten feet. On these bridges I and I don't know how many more darfar athletes climbed out of the crowd and finally made our way down to State street.

"A few more days of that sort of thing and I shall feel qualified to seek employment as a tight rope walker."

Miss Hawkins lives far out on the south side. For some months two young men who reside on the north side have been rivals in her affections. Regularly twice a week each of the youths has called on her. Jenkins called Friday and Monday evenings and Farley on Thursday and Sunday. Between the two Miss Hawkins has had a hard time deciding. In every material way they are apparently equal. Both are well to do, both are good looking, and both are young men of good habits. It was simply a question, as Miss Hawkins looked at it, which one of them was really most deeply in love with her, for she herself could find no difference in her own feelings toward them.

Now she knows, and she thanks the strike for helping her to a decision. Instead of calling, as usual, Thursday evening, Farley sent a telegram saying: "Strike prevents me from calling this evening." Sunday afternoon she got a similar message from him.

Jenkins, on the other hand, though he lives a mile further north than his rival, appeared on Friday evening at 9:30, with his clothes badly torn and his hat mashed in.

"O, yes, there's a strike on," he said, "but I wouldn't let a little thing like that interfere with my calling on the dearest girl in the world."

Jenkins was on hand also Sunday evening, again late and badly mussed, and again he had a pretty speech ready for use.

Farley is hereby notified that he may as well stay at home next Thursday. His case is beyond the hope of even arbitration. For what girl could ask a stronger test of devotion than that successfully passed by Jenkins?

THE ROUND TABLE

The Public and the Strike.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Permit me to address the following open letter to John J. Mitchell:

If your interview in the public papers is correct you say that public sentiment favors the Chicago City railway company. Allow me to inquire, Mr. Mitchell, how you come to this conclusion? If you will spend a day or two in the great district west of State street, where some of the public have their homes, you will readily find that your idea of what you say the public sentiment is is not well taken. You are furthermore quoted as saying: "If there are not sufficient policemen in Chicago, there are enough able bodied men in Illinois to protect the public." The public, Mr. Mitchell, are not asking for protection. Your insinuation in regard to the militia is uncalled for; you are running your cars without much trouble. The stockholders of the Chicago City railway company may imagine they need protection, but your alarm and solicitation for the public are, I believe, somewhat premature. G. L.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—If the government has the right to insist upon protection of the mail in transportation over the railway lines, why hasn't it the right to accord and insist upon protection of its citizens over the same route? L. A. B.

It is a constitutional question—United States mails are under the protection of the federal government; the lives and safety of citizens in states are under the protection of state governments. If things got too bad the state militia would be called out. Meanwhile to the municipality of Chicago is delegated, by the state, the state's duty to keep order in this particular portion of Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Why not license the truck drivers and when found to interfere with traffic fine them, and on second offense take their license away for a year? This method would give a revenue to the city and at the same time keep them under control. SUBSCRIBER.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—There is no possible doubt of the fact that the unions have become so arrogant in their demands that in the last year many new enterprises have either been abandoned entirely or deferred till some future time. It is not so much a question of wages nor hours as a question as to who shall run the business—the employer or the employed. This question must be settled sooner or later, and until it is strikes and lockouts will continue. Public opinion must in the end be the great arbiter. Public opinion has already turned against the foolish and extravagant demands of the unions, and they have lost some of their largest strikes. JOHN W. HOLMES.

Heat the Metropolitan "L."

Chicago, Nov. 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Is there no way of compelling the Metropolitan Elevated railway to turn the heat on in its cars in this winter weather? E. G. EWART.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

At the Great Northern yesterday Miss Eugenie Blair, who is appearing there this week in "Zaza," gave two special performances of "Magda." Her impersonation of the Sudermann heroine was of a merit which compelled sincere commendation and was productive of increased esteem for the actress' abilities. Her Magda is not so finely and subtly shaded as are certain portrayals that are approved, but it gains in directness and naturalness just because of this.

She makes Magda self-poised and self-assertive, but not aggressive save when her rights are encroached upon too far. She makes her a woman whom experience and struggle have broadened and made self-reliant, but have not imbittered or hardened. Her Magda is still womanly, still tender, still as optimist, and the conception is both a winning and reasonable one.

There was no ranting yesterday in any of the scenes, little weeping, and nothing of theatrical posing. There were emotion and abundant strength, but they were the emotion and the strength of a woman who was accustomed to wear her heart not on her sleeve, a woman who had contacted the world and knew what it demanded of its conquerors.

The scenes with the sister and the father were full of tender consideration and gentleness, the meeting with the three townswomen was handled naturally and with no striving after comic effect, and the interviews with Von Keller were quietly but tellingly played. All in all, it was an impersonation sane, carefully graded, sincere, and artistic—an impersonation which was watched with hearty enjoyment and satisfaction. The support was admirably adequate and the scenery and costumes in the best of taste.

The Savage company presented a double bill last evening at the Studebaker—three acts from "Lucia," followed by the "Cavalleria Rusticana." Only the Mascagni melodrama was seen by the writer, and that did not prove as satisfactory as have performances given by the company in former seasons. Miss Newman appeared as Santuzza, but had neither the vocal nor dramatic force requisite for a satisfying interpretation of the intense rôle. Mr. Riviere sang Turiddu in unsteady and ragged fashion, Miss Ivell was a handsome Lola, and Mr. Marsano a vocally adequate Alfio.

Miss O'Neil will appear as Nancy Sykes in "Oliver Twist" at the Cleveland next week; Mr. Miller and Miss Anglin will devote the last week of their engagement at the Garrick, which begins next Sunday, to "The Taming of Helen" and possibly one or two performances of "Heartsease"; Stephen Phillips' "Ulysses," which comes to the Illinois next Monday, will have Tyrone Powers in the title rôle, but not Rose Coghlan as Penelope. Miss Coghlan remained in New York and her rôle will be assumed by Miss Alida Cortelyou. W. L. HUBBARD.

Calve to Make Tour.

New York, Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Robert Grau announced today that Mme. Calvé will appear under his management in a tour of this country next season, which will consist of sixty concerts in forty-two different cities. She will receive $2,000 a concert. The tour will begin in New York and may include New Orleans, Havana, and the City of Mexico.

New Violinist Appears.

New York, Nov. 18.—[Special.]—To the swelling ranks of violin virtuosi still another name was added tonight in the début at Carnegie hall of Maurice Kaufmann, whose preparation for his public performance has been under the tutelage of Cæsar Thompson and Hugo Herrmann.

Nellie McHenry Seriously Injured.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 18.—Miss Nellie McHenry was seriously burned about the lower limbs during the third act of "M'liss" at Krug's theater. Her turn was to rescue a schoolmaster from a burning schoolhouse. In dropping through the roof her skirts caught fire and a real rescue followed by the leading man.

MANSFIELD GETS NEW ACTRESS.

Miss Grace Elliston, Whose Eyes Trouble Her, May Leave the Company.

Miss Grace Elliston, who has been playing Kathis in "Old Heidelberg," is likely to leave the Richard Mansfield company, and Miss Carlotta Nilsson has been added to fill her rôle. It was stated yesterday that Miss Elliston's eyes were troubling her, and that this was the reason for her decision to leave the company, at least temporarily.

"The destiny of the nations lies far more in the hands of women—the mothers—than in the hands of those who possess power."—Froebel.

LESSON NO. 100—Home Life School at Gertrude House.

WHAT'S in a name? Much to a Gertrude house girl, when that name is Gertrude house, and the home by no other name could be so sweet to them, for no other name than Gertrude carries with it the associations so dear to a kindergartner's heart.

For Gertrude was Pestalozzi's ideal woman in his book, "Leonard and Gertrude." The principles in that book found form in Froebel's home for his training class, and those same principles, carried out by the Chicago Kindergarten institute in their home for their students, make an ideal place for the fifty girls gathered there for training.

Home it truly is for them, and home for the frequent visitors, who find a welcome, warm and genuine, as one from the Pacific coast here testifies. The home occupies the fine property at 40 Scott street, well known formerly as the Kirkland school.

While in Gertrude house the intellectual needs of the students are fully met (a glance at a list of the members of the faculty, showing the names of Mrs. Mary Boomer Page, Miss Amalie Hofer, Miss Cronise, Mrs. Harriet Brown Seymour, Mrs. Ethel Roe Lindgren, will show this); yet the directors feel that the intellectual is only a part of the student's life; that a training which leaves out the home and social side is neglecting a part vitally necessary to the development of a womanly woman; so the house is organized to meet these needs also. Three resident directors unite with the students in plans for governing the house.

Fortnightly meetings are held at which suggestions are made and acted upon by the whole body, suggestions for the best interests of the whole, and these, when once decided upon by all, are cheerfully carried out by all in this small but ideal democracy.

One of the best features of these meetings and one which these earnest students much appreciate is the thoughtful talk which the house mother gives her girls on some subject which will aid in the development of strong, true characters. One of the happiest features is the diversity of ages in the home, which at present range from 18 to 80, for several of the students have their mothers with them, who enter into the spirit of the home as loyally as girls of younger years, and whose sweet faces and gentle ways are an example and inspiration appreciated by all.

The lighter work, such as washing the silver or china, setting tables, and waiting on the tables, just such duties as daughters do in their own homes, is done by the students under the direction of the house mother. And it adds not a little to the attractiveness of the dinner to be waited on by a bright faced student in neat, pretty attire.

For these dinners the students gather in a large circle in the dining room, and here visitors, often of distinction, are introduced to and welcomed by the company. Their grace, written by a former student, is softly sung, and the large circle breaks into smaller ones to form merry groups around the tables.

Sunday evening tea is served in the studio, and here the girls are at liberty to invite any of their friends. It is a beautiful scene, for the room is attractive with flowers and varied lights, and the laughing, chatting groups, waited on by a few of their number, who flit here and there with trays of sandwiches, cakes, and fruit, while two others graciously dispense tea and chocolate from the table.

Sunday morning, after the morning work is over, all gather in the parlors, which two of their number have made ready. Some appropriate passage of scripture is read, and then, led by the piano and violin, all unite in singing from a collection of hymns which they themselves have compiled. These simple exercises strike the keynote for the day, and at their close the girls pass quietly and reverently out of the room, ready for a day of Sabbath peace and rest and of enjoyment of their own church service.

Occasionally there is an evening of pure fun—fun spelled with a capital F. Perhaps the seniors entertain the school, or perhaps the juniors, or normals, are the hostesses, or may be the fourth floor bespeaks a vacant Friday evening, as they did recently, when all were invited to enjoy unique Halloween festivities. The latest was a beach party, carried out in spite of inclement weather, in Gertrude house's inimitable way. A sudden change of the thermometer necessitated a corresponding change of party plans, and though for a time the spirits of the normals fell with the mercury they soon began to rise, and the body of students coming from their classes after 5 o'clock were met with placards announcing a "beach party at Dry Beach, beach steam heated; train to leave at 6:15." "Ah, then and there were hurryings to and fro," for while the normals were preparing to welcome the coming guests quick whisperings were passing from room to room and from floor to floor among the "coming guests," and when, at time and place appointed, the conductor, with tin pan and spoon for bell, and the motorman, in gymnasium suit and paper cap, went to take charge of their train, they found a merry company of passengers waiting for them.

Such screams of laughter, as without strikes, collisions, or any disasters, they descended three stairways, looping the loop through the long hall, then back again to the assembly room, made ready with rugs for their reception.

Each guest had arrayed herself for the occasion. Here was the summer girl, in white dotted swiss, white hat, veil, and gloves, chaperoned by her mother (one of the instructors), who wore the primmest of prim bonnets, and with reticule on her arm. Here were little misses in short dresses and sunbonnets, carrying tin pails and spades, and here was a group in bathing dresses—even "the only pebble on the beach" was present. When the merriment had subsided sufficiently groups formed here and there on the beach, while the hostesses supplied coffee and sandwiches, roast potatoes and toasted bacon, peanuts, candy, and fruit.

What added so largely to the enjoyment of this, as to all other festive occasions, was the zest with which the directors themselves entered into it, participating in the plans and in the fun with as keen a zest as any girl there.

Indeed, it is this—this shared life—which is so characteristic and so strong a feature of Gertrude house. In it girls coming from homes in all parts of the country forget to be homesick, for home is here. Here the stranger, but there are none, for all who enter these doors are friends, not strangers, as one, whose happy lot it has been to spend some weeks here, can lovingly testify.

NEWS OF THE SOCIETY WORLD.

Miss Ethel Hulburd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hulburd, 40 Lake Shore drive, was a débutante of yesterday, her mother holding a large reception to introduce her. The hostess and her daughter received alone, but through the rooms were Miss Grace Meigs of Keokuk, Miss Agatha Laughlin, Miss Eunice Follansbee, Miss Gertrude Dietrich, and Miss Katherine Dudley, all of whom were classmates of Miss Hulburd at Bryn Mawr. Presiding at the tables were the following: Miss Elsie Chew, Miss Nannie Thomasson, Miss Margaret Root, Miss Ethel Kerfoot, Miss Caroline Mills, Miss Mildred Wells, Miss Dorothea Johnson, Miss Lesley Johnson, Miss Helen North, and Miss Natalie Duell.

The hours were from 4 until 7 o'clock, after which an informal supper was served. The evening was finished with a dance. Mrs. Hulburd and Miss Hulburd will be at home Jan. 4 and 11.

Miss Bessie Knight was another débutante of yesterday, her mother, Mrs. Clarence A. Knight, 3322 Calumet avenue, presenting her at a reception held from 4 until 7 o'clock. Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Parry Wright, Mrs. Gilbert Montague, Mrs. James Hervey, and Mrs. Paul Brown, while the younger women who were in the dining room were Miss Helen Gilbert, Miss Susie Hoyne, Miss Rowena Gilbert, Miss Florence Williamson, Miss Martha Aldrich, Miss Edith Adcock, Miss Marion Evans, Miss Mary Sherman, Miss Helen Harsha, Miss Anne Martin, and Miss Eleanor Hall. Mrs. Parry Wright, 193 Thirtieth street, will give a tea later in the season for Miss Knight.

Miss Ruth Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Perry, 2925 Prairie avenue, who will be today's débutante, is one of the most popular of the south side young set. She is a Farmington girl, and the fact that she has not spent much time in Chicago the last year or so is making her coming out a notable one. A large reception at the family residence will serve to usher her into the social world, the hours to be from 4 until 7 o'clock. Assisting Mrs. Perry and her daughter will be Mrs Harold A. Howard, Miss Mauriel Byram, Miss Marjorie Burns, Miss Pauline Kohlsaat, Miss Natalie Blair, Miss Marion Key, Miss Margaret Grover, Miss Ruth Durand, Miss Catherine Ridgely, Miss Mildred Wells, Miss Rhea Logan, and Miss Genevieve Mott.

An enjoyable affair of yesterday was the tea given by Mrs. Joseph Winterbotham and Mrs. Joseph Winterbotham Jr. at the home of the latter, 111 Walton place. Mrs. Winterbotham Jr. has her sister, Miss Hall of Morristown, N. J., and Miss Waring of New York visiting her, and they, together with Miss Genevieve Mott, Miss Katherine Winterbotham, and Miss Margaret Winterbotham, assisted. During the hours, which were from 4 until 6 o'clock, several hundred guests called.

A number of luncheons are being given this week. Miss Julia Manierre, 309 Superior street, gave a series of three, beginning on Monday, the last one taking place yesterday, some fifty young women being entertained. Mrs. Charles Pope, 18 Lake Shore drive, entertained similarly yesterday, the guests being asked to meet Miss Bolles of Hongkong, while a luncheon of Tuesday given by Miss Ruth Perry, 2925 Prairie avenue, was for Miss Ethel Simpkins of St. Louis, who is visiting Miss Caroline Mills. Today Mrs. John Whitcomb Cotton, 35 Cedar street, will give a luncheon for Miss Margaret Grover and Miss Harriet Le Grand Smith, and on Friday Mrs. Emanuel Senn, 298 Schiller street, will have a company of ten in honor of Miss Florence Chapman and Miss Ethel Kerfoot.

The tea to be given today by the Antiquarians at the Art institute will be a large and interesting affair. An exhibit of rare antiques will be a feature. The hours will be from 3 until 6 o'clock.

Another event of the day is the bazaar to be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Lyon, 72 Astor street, the proceeds of which will be given to the Chicago Woman's exchange. The hours will be from 2 in the afternoon until 10:30 o'clock in the evening. One of the principal attractions will be an old fashioned New England tea table, at which the dispensers will wear the Priscilla costume.

The wedding of Miss Clare Williams, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Williams, to Dr. Wilder Tileston of Boston took place last evening at the Chicago Beach hotel. Bishop Muldoon performed the ceremony in the family apartments at 8 o'clock, only the immediate relatives being present. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Wayne Wills, as matron of honor, Miss Edith Tileston, a sister of the groom, being the honored maid. The bridemaids were Miss Eleanor Tileston and Miss Aileen Williams. Mr. William Emerson of Boston served the groom as best man and the ushers were Dr. Edwin C. Williams and Mr. Charles S. Williams, brothers of the bride; Mr. Wayne Wills, and Lieut. Van Leer Wills, U. S. A. Although the newly married couple will eventually reside in Boston, they will go directly to Egypt to spend a year.

Mrs. G. Frank Lydston, 2817 Indiana avenue, will give a luncheon on Saturday in honor of Mrs. Frank Whitcomb of Milwaukee. The guests will number thirty.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Sullivan, 4312 Ellis avenue, will give a dinner this evening for Dr. Andrew Taylor Still of Kirksville, Mo.

Mr. Edgar Crilly, 3820 Michigan avenue, will give a dance tomorrow evening for the Press-Hodgkins bridal party.

The Society of Mayflower Descendants in the state of Illinois will give its seventh annual banquet this evening at the Auditorium.

The annual bazaar and pound party will be held at St. Vincent's Infant asylum, 191 La Salle avenue, on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20 and 21, from 1 to 10 p. m. The asylum will be open to the public.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The wedding of Miss Mary Harrington Thomson, daughter of J. W. Thomson of this city, and Josiah Copley Thaw, the young Pittsburg millionaire, was solemnized here today, the ceremony being performed at Grace Episcopal church, the Rev. John Munday officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Harrington, her cousin, unassisted, while Harry Kendall Thaw, a brother of the groom, was best man. Among the presents, which embraced rich jewelry, bric-a-brac, and cut glass, was a blue diamond pendant from the groom to the bride, a chest of silverware from the mother of the groom, a gold monogram purse from Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, and a beaten silver tea service from Mr. and Mrs. George Carnegie.

SKYSCRAPER FOE OF ART.

FRENCH CRITIC SAYS IT DRIVES BEAUTY FROM CITY.

Woman's Club Asks Antoine Borel's Opinion of Chicago Architecture and He Replies That All Is Bad, Especially High Buildings—Examples of Structures That Particularly Offend His Taste — Mrs. McCormick Urges Commission to Pass on Plans.

Architectural Chicago was placed in a bake oven of criticism and done to a crisp by Antoine Borel, a Parisian art critic, during a discussion of civic art at the Chicago Woman's club yesterday afternoon.

"There is no use of talking civic beauty until your skyscrapers are torn down," the Frenchman began. He had been asked to express his candid opinion of Chicago architecturally.

He said that Chicago had not given serious thought to the future when years ago it erected its residences in long, unsightly rows unrelieved by flowered and verdant vistas. He said that Chicago had called on the sky for space and had heaped Ossa on Pelion for the sake of commercial gain to the enormous sacrifice of art. He said that in Chicago some of the buildings looked to him like the Eiffel tower in Paris. Then he added:

"The Eiffel tower is soon to be destroyed and the steel in its structure sold as junk." He suggested that it would be well to treat the Chicago skyscrapers in the same way.

"Americans do not feel the same love for home as the French," declared the speaker. "Movement is an American tradition. It is the energy of your youth that makes it possible for you to walk away from home ties so easily. Civic beauty should be turned toward the homes. I have been in Chicago twice in twenty-five years. In the interval I notice an enormous development in utility if not in art."

Criticises House of Desdemona.

Then M. Borel attacked the architecture of many of Chicago's buildings.

"The house of Desdemona was built in Venice in the fourteenth century," he said. "In the eighteenth century its owner, a man of the name of Contarini, spoiled it because he wanted to enlarge its entrance. He changed the Gothic door into an awkward square door and made the side windows much smaller. Then an American named Curtis purchased the historic house, and, showing an unusually keen appreciation of art, had the old Gothic door restored. But in the meantime your Mr. Arthur T. Aldis had had the house reproduced on the Lake Shore drive with its square door.

"That warehouse on the lake front, the Montgomery Ward building, is the Campanile with the top changed. The change of the top makes the whole building laughable.

"Your Chicago Athletic association is two Venetian palaces, one piled on top of the other."

"Chicago is far behind in domestic architecture, and its commercial ambitions destroy the architecture of its business buildings."

Chicago Can Become Beautiful.

After M. Borel's remarks Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick was the principal speaker on civic beauty. She urged that there is no reason why Chicago could not attain the same standard of municipal pulchritude as Paris and Washington.

"Municipal art has an educational value," declared Mrs. McCormick; "it supplies moral, political, and educational inspiration."

The speaker then urged the organization of a commission to pass upon the plans of all buildings to be erected in Chicago.

"This commission," she said, "should be composed of an educator, an architect, a landscape gardener, a sculptor, and an expert in the general science of building."

Mrs. McCormick urged that the streets should be made characteristic of the city, that they should be named appropriately after the illustrious sons and daughters of Chicago.

"It is foolish to talk of statues when our streets are unpaved," she declared; "we shall look in vain for a beautiful city while our street cleaning is done by politicians and not business men."

IS RECEIVER FOR ALHAMBRA.

Judge Tuthill yesterday appointed Redmond Prindiville receiver for the Alhambra building, in which is the Alhambra theater, 1910 to 1934 State street. The action was taken on a bill filed by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company to foreclose a mortgage on the property. It is alleged by the company that Emma A. Dunlap and Perry H. Smith Jr. borrowed $260,000 in March, 1893. It is averred that there now is due on the bond and mortgage $249,045.

Adopted the Twin

And built him up. Food!!! Drop your eye.

A lady of Des Moines, Iowa, who recently adopted a baby boy had an experience in feeding the youngster that may prove interesting.

She says: "Three months ago I took a twin baby. He was so weak and puny at the time that I believed I would never be able to raise him.

"I found that the only food he could keep on his stomach was Grape-Nuts, and when I began to feed this regularly to him he began to thrive. In two weeks he showed marked improvement, and he is now a fat healthy boy and has at least caught up with his twin sister who was always ruddy and healthy. He is certainly a fine little fellow, thanks to a fine, pure and scientific food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Grape-Nuts contains all the constituents of a complete food, and the whole is predigested (by a purely mechanical process) so the very weakest stomach will digest it. It is the most scientific food in the world, suited to all ages. See the receipe book in each package.

SAD NEWS FOR RIVAL ELEVENS.

Yost Announces He Will Return and Coach Michigan Next Season.

STAGG MAKES A THREAT.

No Tickets to Forecaster Cox Unless the Cold Snap Is Dispelled.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Coach Yost announced today that he would coach Michigan next year. All year there has been doubt about the great coach's intentions. This morning Manager Baird stated that Yost had a contract with Michigan which ran one more year, and a few hours later Yost made his announcement. His decision is influenced by Michigan's fine prospects for next year.

Manager Charles Baird says: "I am confident Yost will be with us next year. He and I have been making plans about the 1904 work."

A snow storm and hard frozen gridiron prevented scrimmage tonight. Signal practice and punting were mixed with a game of fox and geese in the snow.

Chicago "bear" stories are heartily disbelieved by Yost. "Every time I hear a new bear story," he said, "I put the team through another extra hard lick of work. I hear that Chicago has suffered from an infection of skin abrasions. To make up for that I ordered gymnasium practice for this evening."

Including the night work, Michigan is now practicing five hours a day, four hours alone being on formation work. Scrimmage will begin as soon as the grounds soften. Tonight Norcross was at quarter for a time. All the regulars were out except Gooding.

One hundred dollars even that the two teams do not make five touchdowns; $10 to $30 that Chicago makes no touchdown; also even money that Chicago scores, and even money that Michigan makes 15 points.

At training table tonight the men all clamored for Yost to take them on a post-season trip to play California university.

Twenty-five hundred tickets for the Chicago game were placed on sale this morning. Fifteen hundred rooters are expected to leave here for Chicago, and provision is made for an even larger crowd.

STAGG AT ODDS WITH PROF. COX

Weather Man Not Likely to Get Passes for Michigan Game Unless Maroons Can Practice.

Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago football team is provoked at the weather man, and unless conditions more suitable for football practice are provided Prof. Cox will not receive any tickets to the Thanksgiving day game with Michigan. Yesterday Coach Stagg had to abandon his plan for scrimmage work for his football players because the frozen ground would endanger the limbs of his pupils.

Scrimmage work is a most needed article for the Chicago players just now, in preparation for the coming championship game with Michigan, but if the present cold wave lasts there will be nothing but signal practice. As soon as the afternoon's work was over Stagg secured a paper and hunted for the weather reports. He found no satisfaction, however, as the existing frigidity was predicted for another day.

In spite of the cold the men were out for signal practice for three hours. The only absentees were Catlin and Ahlswede, who are still suffering from their infections. Nordenholt was well enough to return to his position at full back, and Catlin will be out tonight.

The epidemic of infections which has attacked the team is regarded as nothing serious by Dr. Raycroft, except as an inconvenience. The physical instructor is unable to explain the cause of the infections, unless it is the towels, bandages, or bad food. Ahlswede is the only man seriously affected, and it is doubtful if he will be out for work tonight.

The senior college council yesterday made arrangements for a big massmeeting for next Tuesday night at Mandel hall. The meeting will be held immediately after the annual alumni dinner, which is to be given at the new commons. Coach Stagg, the members of this year's team, and every man who has won a "C" will be guests of the evening. It is also planned to have representatives of the larger eastern colleges present to make addresses.

The new songs which have been written for the Michigan game will be practiced, and, after the massmeeting, there will be a "spontaneous combustion" rally around a bonfire in the middle of the quadrangle.

MONMOUTH BEATS KNOX 11 TO 0

Losers Hold Victors to Tie Score in First Half, but Weaken in the Second.

Monmouth, Ill., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Monmouth college won its annual football game with Knox today by a score of 11 to 0. Knox was outplayed at all points. Monmouth backs plowed through the line for good gains, and the crack ends of the visitors were circled for yards at a time. The first half ended with the score 0 to 0 and the ball on Knox's five yard line. In the second half Monmouth took a brace, and after nine minutes of play Marshall went over for the first touchdown. Hall made the second in about the same length of time. Lineup:

RESPITE FOR HARVARD'S TEAM.

Light Work Only Today and Tomorrow—Capt. Marshall Inspires Some Confidence for Yale Game.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The Harvard varsity eleven had its last hard practice of the season today. Tomorrow and on Friday the men will go through light signal practice only. Capt. Marshall is beginning to feel a little more confident of winning, and the players also are showing more life.

The practice this afternoon consisted of a thirty minutes' period in which the varsity scored three touchdowns and the second team one. The latter registered the points when Sugden made a poor pass to Clothier for a punt. The ball rolled along the ground. Pruyn nailed it and ran fifty yards to the line. Several new men were tried out, including Carroll at left guard in place of Lemoyne, Sugden at center, Squires and Derby at left tackle, and Kidder at right guard.

Lemoyne and Bowditch were out in their togs and ran several laps around the gridiron. Meier, who was badly bruised in the Dartmouth game, is rounding into shape again, and McMasters expects him to be in first class shape for Saturday's contest. Noyes was worked at quarter back for some time and did fair work. The varsity put up a stubborn defense, and on the offense raised havoc with the second line.

Jockey O'Connor Starts Home.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Winnie O'Connor, the American jockey, left Paris for the United States today. He will return next year and wear the colors of the Rothschild stable.

WANT TO BAR MINNESOTA

TALK OF COALITION BETWEEN WISCONSIN AND MICHIGAN.

Sentiment at Madison Is Said to Be Almost at the Point of Severing Football Relations with the Far Northwest Team Because of Its Slugging Tactics—Ann Arbor Athletic Authorities Say It Is the "Talk of Irresponsible Students."

Madison, Wis., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Student sentiment at Madison favoring the dropping of Minnesota from the football schedule next year is growing stronger every day, and tonight it is rumored that the advisability of "cutting out" the Gophers was informally discussed at a meeting of the athletic board. No action was taken or will be taken unless the Minnesota authorities persist in playing dirty football, which they have used against Wisconsin in the past, and which every one here believes they used against Michigan.

While at present Wisconsin is under contract to play two more games with the Minnesotans, unsportsmanlike conduct on their part will be sufficient ground for a breach, and should Williams' men play a slugging game here Thanksgiving day they may be dropped from the schedule next year and this, together with the present refusal of Chicago to play them and probable action by Michigan along the same line, should bring them to time. It is said a majority of the athletic board favors severing athletic relations with the Gophers should they play the game here that they did against Michigan, and it is certainly clear that all members of the football team favor dropping Minnesota if Williams' men do not play a clean game.

Sentiment Against Minnesota.

This feeling, coupled with the sentiment of the students, will control the action of the local authorities, and the intensity of the student sentiment on the matter will depend on the game.

While the Wisconsin team was at Ann Arbor the matter was not disposed of officially, or at the Black Friar banquet, but from conversations with Michigan rooters and from the knowledge of previous football tactics the Minnesota-Wisconsin rooters were convinced of the truth of the claim that the Minnesota-Michigan game was a slugging match.

Denial at Michigan.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—University of Michigan athletic authorities emphatically deny the story that Michigan has in any way tried to influence Wisconsin against Minnesota, to say nothing of trying to bar Minnesota out of the conference nine or enter an agreement not to arrange further contests with that institution.

Manager Baird said: "Absolutely no such proposition was made by Michigan to Wisconsin nor by Wisconsin to us. The matter has not been talked of."

WASHER TRIES PLACE KICKING.

Bush's Lameness Necessitates Finding New Punter at Wisconsin for the Game with Northwestern.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Hard signal practice of nearly an hour's duration constituted the work of the varsity eleven today. Trainer O'Dea would not allow any scrimmage for fear of injury to the men on the frozen ground. With the exception of Capt. Abbott, who has a lame arm, all the men were in the lineup and all are getting into good condition again.

A new feature of the practice was the drilling of Washer in place kicking and in a number of trials the big tackle made a good average, trying most of the kicks from the twenty-five yard line. Bush, owing to a lame muscle in his kicking leg, was not practiced at punting and probably will not be able to do the punting against Northwestern.

The feeling of the men over the game with the Methodists is that Wisconsin should win, but only after a hard struggle. The students are not feeling overconfident, and it is not probable those who accompany the team will be willing to wager much money on the result, although it is likely that even money, if offered, will be taken.

At a meeting of the athletic board tonight the following managers were elected: Isaac J. Dahle, baseball; P. A. Jackson, track team; Maurice Fox, crew; Dewitte Poale, tennis.

FINAL WORK ON YALE FIELD.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—For the last time this season the Yale eleven practiced today on Yale field, working behind closed gates for an hour. Except that Bloomer was unable to play right guard, the team lined up as against Princeton, and it will face Harvard in that same way, Miller filling Bloomer's place. Miller has a bruised rib and, if he is injured again, S. B. Morton of Chicago, who has been left guard most of the season, will get the position.

Yale's entire football squad, as it will go to Auburndale, Mass., to stay till the game with Harvard, was today picked by Capt. Rafferty as follows: Ends, Rafferty, Shevlin, Hare, and Neal; tackles, Hogan, Kinney, and Bissell; guards, Bloomer, Miller, Batchelder, Morton, and Flanders; center, Roraback and Scott; quarter backs, Rockwell and Soper; half backs, Mitchell, Metcalf, Bowman, Allen, Hoyt; full backs, Farmer and Owsley.

Bloomer was better today and will be able to accompany the eleven to Cambridge. The X ray examination of his foot showed that no bones are broken. His ankle is badly wrenched and there seems little chance of his playing on Saturday.

There is not a single freshman on the varsity squad now. Bissell is the only substitute tackle to be taken. This is taken to indicate the coachers and trainers have much faith that Hogan's injured shoulder is not likely to get bruised much on Saturday, and that Kinney will play a satisfactory game. Flanders or Miller might play a good tackle in a pinch.

The college will give the team a rousing farewell when it leaves here tomorrow afternoon for Auburndale. Trainer Mike Murphy, two rubbers, Manager Miller, Assistant Manager Spaulding, Coaches George Chadwick and Frank Hinkey will accompany the team. Arrangements have been made for Yale to stay in Auburndale until they leave on trolley cars for Brighton, in which Soldiers' field is located. The team can take cars back to Auburndale park after the game.

St. Vincent to Play Soldiers.

St. Vincent's college has arranged a football game for next Saturday against the Fort Sheridan soldiers. It will be played at the St. Vincent grounds, Webster avenue and Osgood street, at 2 o'clock.

RACING SCANDAL AT DETROIT.

Claim That Horse Was Pulled in a Private Match for $1,800 Purse.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—A scandal has developed in connection with the Wayne King-William C. match race of Monday, and James B. Reynolds, a confidential clerk of Goldberg Bros., one of whom owns the former horse, and Charles Sigman, the driver, are held at police headquarters at the request of J. E. Goldberg, who is determined to sift to the bottom the allegation of crookedness.

While no direct charge has been made, it is asserted there is evidence of jobbery. Nearly $4,000 changed hands on the race, which was for an $1,800 purse, and was won by William C., owned by E. Wigle of Windsor. Until Monday Wayne King was the local champion.

Sigman will not talk, and Reynolds is not willing to say a great deal, but has admitted he bet on the winner.

"A certain person showed me where the roan horse, William C., would win," he says, "and I bet much money that way. I wanted to see Wayne King win, but bet the other way after I was given to understand William C. would win."

He denies he said Wayne King was pulled, although it is alleged he made the statement Tuesday night in the presence of one of the Goldbergs and another man. He says he knows the horse was not doped.

Reynolds borrowed $250 from A. L. Goldberg and he admits he bet this and other small amounts on the Windsor horse. He had $277 on his person when searched at police headquarters. Sigman had $24.

Wigle says he knows nothing of any jobbery in connection with the race. He says if Goldberg feels Wayne King did not do his best he will agree to another match.

Elmhurst Golf Club's Annual.

At the annual meeting of the Elmhurst Golf club last night officials for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, T. Edward Wilder; vice president, H. L. Glos; secretary, Fred T. Rockwood; treasurer, W. H. Emery Jr.; director one year, Lee Sturges; two years, S. G. Taylor Jr.; three years, M. W. Morphy, S. B. Henderson and John M. Roach. The club has had a successful year, there being a healthy balance in the treasury and no indebtedness. The membership limit of 100 is nearly full. Some improvements in the course have been planned for next year.

CHICAGO FIELD IN OAKLAND RACE

MEEHANUS TAKES A FLOP

His Victory Results in Owner Doss Being Called Into the Stand.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The last event at Oakland today looked as if it might be a race at one of the Chicago tracks, being made up of horses that recently came from that city.

There was slight rain after the third race, but it did not affect the track to any great extent. It was on this account, however, that Beau Ormonde drifted back in the betting, Warte Nicht going to the post a slight favorite.

A clever bunch of sprinters hooked up in the five furlong dash, which was the fourth event on the card. Burnie Bunton and Sad Sam divided favoritism. The ten starters were sent off together, except Ben Leash and Gibraltar. Money Muss went to the front and turned into the stretch with a good lead. John A. Scott, who drifted from 6 to 10 to 1, came full of running and won with ease in 1:00, the first half mile having been negotiated in :47½. Money Muss finished second, while Hagerdon beat Burnie Bunton a head for third place. John A. Scott was picked up in the east by Milton Jones. He was supposed to be a cripple.

Loyal S. was the only favorite to win. Meehanus showed sensational improvement over his race on Saturday, when he was backed by the public at 4 to 5. This afternoon he drifted from 9 to 12 to 1, when he was backed down again to 9 to 1. The judges called Owner Doss into the stand. He claimed he lost $400 on Saturday and attributed the form reversal to the difference in track conditions.

The stables of Joe Yaeger, Frank Lanterman, E. G. Stutte, J. M. Johnson, and Harry Robinson reached Ingleside yesterday morning.

First race, ¾ mile—Loyal S., 107 pounds [I. Powell], 2 to 1, won; Man or Honor, 4 to 1, second; Egg Nogg, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:14. Tamm, Adirondack, Fille d'Or, Leasch, and Aggressor also ran.

Second race, 11-16 mile—Ananias, 108 pounds [Reed], 11 to 5, won; Harbor, 8 to 1, second; Instrument, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:08. St. Yusef, Jack Little, Abydos, Cox, Minimum, Neko, and The Bugaboo also ran.

Third race, ¾ mile—Meehanus, 109 pounds [L. Jackson], 8 to 1, won; Blue Miracle, 20 to 1, second; Tower of Candles, 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:14. Mollie, All Scott, Aunt Polly, Father Wentker, Madam Bishop, Vigoroso, and Kitty Kelly also ran.

Fourth race, ⅝ mile—John A. Scott, 104 pounds [D. Hall], 9 to 1, won; Money Muss, 4 to 1, second; Hagerdon, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:00. Ben Leash, Iridus, Alice Carey, Burnie Bunton, Sad Sam, Orosius, and Gibraltar also ran.

Fifth race, 1¼ miles—Dupont, 101 pounds [Ferrell], 10 to 1, won; Erne, 8 to 5, second; Dodie S., 2¼ to 1, third. Time, 1:52. Veterans, Position, Blessed Damozel, and Rio Shannon also ran.

Sixth race, 1 mile, handicap—Warte Nicht, 105 pounds [Adkins], 2 to 1, won; Beau Ormonde, 8 to 5, second; Bragg, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:40½. Dainty also ran.

SMALL FIELDS AT BENNINGS.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—The Dixie stakes, which was to have been the feature today at Bennings, proved a disappointment. On account of withdrawals "Father" Daly's Colonsay had a walkover. Scratches reduced most of the fields to small numbers. Billy Ray, the only losing favorite, had a commanding lead in the jumping race, but fell at the last jump. Track good. Summaries:

First race, ¾ mile, Columbia course—South Trimble, 113 pounds [O'Neil], 4 to 5, won; Our Nugget, 105 [Adams], 7 to 1, second; Dramatist, 108 [T. Burns], 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:30. Man o' War, King Bo, Paul Clifford, Valley Forge, Jake Land, Musiciene, Blue Victor, Capt. Hamm, Brisk, Brigadier, Pittacus, Morokanta, Ben Battle, Harrison, Milady Love, and Faranlass also ran.

Second race, maiden 2 year olds, ⅝ mile—Fort Hunter, 109 pounds [Blake], 3 to 1, won; Niskayuna, 106 [Hoar], 15 to 1, second; Gamanogue, 106 [Redfern], 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:03 1-5. Redman, Magic Flute, Cantaloupe, Lady Mirthful, Wahpeta, and Bill Curtis ran.

Third race, steeplechase, about 2½ miles—Black Death, 146 pounds [Mara], 10 to 1, won; Manillian, 156 [Saffell, 8 to 1, second; Perion, 156 [Bernhart], 60 to 1, third. Time, 5:25. Cheval d'Or, Conover, Billy Ray, and Gum Honey ran.

Fourth race, the Dixie stakes, 3 year olds, 1¾ miles—Walkover for Colonsay, 114 pounds [Odom]. Time, 3:41 2-5.

EVENTS AT SPORTSMAN'S SHOW.

H. A. Wampler of the C. A. A. won the 100 yards novice race at the sportsman's show last night, defeating Ed Walsh of the Y. M. C. A. in the final heat. His time was 1:29. H. Prussing, who won the second heat in beautiful style, was taken sick and was unable to compete in the final. Summary:

100 yards novice—First heat—Won by H. A. Wampler, C. A. A.; C. W. Stern, Naval Reserves, second. Time, 1:35.

Final heat—Won by H. A. Wampler, C. A. A.; Ed Walsh, second. Time, 1:29.

The second meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Naval Reserve teams in the junior championship water polo series resulted in a victory for the former side by 4 goals to 1. The sailors had only four men and as their opponents would not consent to a postponement it was a case of a quartet against a sextet. In the first period the sailors foolishly tried to assume aggressive tactics and the Y. M. C. A. men scored three times. Playing a defensive game in the second period the gallant four kept the score down to one goal. Lineup:

Y. M. C. A.		Naval Reserve.
Healey	Goal	Heller
Weisenborn	Back	Galdzek
Ford	Back
Swatek	Center	Stern
Handy	Forward	Schott
Loehde	Forward

Time of halves—4 minutes. Referee—D. H. Bratton, N. Y. A. C. Timekeeper—W. H. Butler. Goal judges—Beggs and Stern.

The 440 yards open scratch race will be contested tonight.

SILER'S TALK OF THE RING

SLIGHT HITCH IN PROPOSED O'KEEFE-RYAN MATCH.

Jack's Manager Declines Weight Conditions Offered and Demands 135 Pounds at 3 O'Clock Before He Will Consider the Proposition—C. A. A. Members Want Higher Class of Talent for the Semi-Monthly Boxing Shows on Michigan Avenue.

[BY GEORGE SILER.]

The prospects of a match between Jack O'Keefe and "Buddy" Ryan for the lightweight premiership of the middle west were dimmed yesterday by Jack's manager, John Hertz. Speaking of the matter, Hertz said:

"This talk of Ryan fighting O'Keefe at 133 pounds, weigh in at 6 o'clock and winner take all, is all bosh. Ryan, or rather his manager, knows Jack cannot train down to that weight and do himself justice. Still, they will not match at any higher weight, despite the fact Ryan fought Otto Sieloff and Gus Gardner under practically the same weight conditions we ask. To avoid further controversy in the matter I will state that O'Keefe will fight any man in the country at 135 pounds, weigh in at 3 o'clock and will take on Ryan at that weight, winner to take the entire purse."

The Chicago Athletic association is seeking a higher class talent for its semi-monthly boxing entertainments, as those staged of late have not met the approval of the majority of its members. Chairman John Turrill of the athletic committee yesterday went over the heads of the matchmakers and made propositions for the services of Jack O'Keefe and Benny Yanger. He wanted O'Keefe to meet either "Buddy" Ryan or Otto Sieloff and offered a purse for Yanger and Mike Memsic, but failed to clinch a match. Yanger's manager wanted catch weights and winner take all, which was a bit too strong for the Memsic party. O'Keefe and Sieloff may be brought together later on.

Benny Yanger and Jack O'Keefe will leave the latter part of the week for Grand Rapids. Monday night they are to begin a week's engagement in a boxing sketch. O'Keefe will meet Gus Gardner in that city the latter part of this month or the first week in December.

"Young" Mowatt and his manager, Paddy Carroll, will leave Sunday night for New Orleans, where next Wednesday Mowatt is slated to contest ten rounds with "Kid" Broad. Broad's defeat at the hands of Jimmy Briggs at Boston Tuesday night did not surprise Carroll, as Jimmy's contests with "Young Corbett" and Terry McGovern stamped him a tough customer.

The bartenders' union will give its first vaudeville and athletic entertainment tonight in its rooms at 122 La Salle street. There will be two boxing bouts, one between Dick Wolfe and Jimmy Ritter at 126 pounds, and the main event between Mike Ward and Jack Northrop at 145 pounds.

Yanger has received offers to fight Jimmy Briggs of Boston and a high class featherweight at the Watita league, but the amount of money offered did not suit him.

GIVES O'BRIEN A HARD FIGHT.

"Twin" Jack Sullivan of Boston Springs a Surprise in Bout at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 18.—"Twin" Jack Sullivan of Boston gave "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien one of the hardest battles of his career tonight at the National Athletic club. The fight was judged a draw, as both men were still on their feet at the end of the sixth round. Sullivan had so much the better of the first and fourth rounds that O'Brien was compelled to hold on. In the first round he cleanly knocked the Philadelphian down. The Boston man also had slightly the better of the second and third rounds, but weakened in the fifth. In the sixth O'Brien forced the fighting and had Sullivan almost helpless when the gong sounded.

POOR CONDITIONS AT LATONIA.

Horses Run Fairly Near Form in Spite of Frozen Track—Beaucaire Changes Owners.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 18.—It was a bad day for racing at Latonia. The thermometer was below the freezing point and the track frozen hard. Despite the track conditions, however, the horses ran pretty well to form. The only real surprise was the victory of Beaucaire, at odds of 40 to 1, in the first race, after which he was run up from $650 to $750, and bought in by Louis Bricket.

First race, 1 mile and 50 yards—Beaucaire, 97 pounds [H. Wilson], 40 to 1, won; Barney Burke, 12 to 1, second; Domadge, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:47½.

Second race, 11-16 mile—Miss Mollie, 89 pounds [Nicholl], 9 to 5, won; Miss Fleischmann, 12 to 1, second; Snow Cap, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:10¼.

Third race, 1 mile—Chantrelle, 103 pounds [Crawford], 6 to 1, won; Antolee, 4 to 1, second; Tancred, 9 to 20, third. Time, 1:43¼.

Fourth race, steeplechase, short course—Sea Pirate, 120 pounds [J. Carter], 11 to 5, won; Volantine, 30 to 1, second; Faraday Jr., 6 to 1, third. Time, 3:03¼.

Fifth race, ⅞ mile—Rainland, 112 pounds [W. Watson], 3 to 5, won; Commodore, 2 to 1, second; War Paint, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:29.

Sixth race, 1 mile and 70 yards—John Yerkes, 104 pounds [D. Austin], 3 to 5, won; Tufts, 9 to 2, second; Worthington, 9 to 1, third. Time, 1:46.

Northern Indiana Bowling League.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Bowlers of South Bend, Elkhart, and Mishawaka have organized the Northern Indiana Bowling league, with Dudof Horst of this city as president and treasurer and G. W. Hull as secretary. The league is composed of eight clubs, as follows: Twentieth Century club, Mishawaka; Eldorados, Elkhart; Crigers, Elkhart; Commercial Athletic club, Tuxedoes, Stars, Stripes, and Watchmakers, South Bend. The season will cover twenty-one weeks. The league will affiliate with the American Bowling congress. All games will take place in South Bend.

DERBY ROLLERS WIN THREE GAMES

TIE FOR SECOND PLACE.

Brilliants Lose to Club Fellows, Having Only Four Men Present.

The Derby rollers added interest to the race in the Chicago league by last night taking three games from the Halls and advancing to a tie for second place with the Standards. Geroux's men were not up to their usual form and their grand average suffered a slump in consequence.

The seemingly ill fated Brilliants had the misfortune to be one man short and dropped three games to the Club Fellows. Markham rolled a fine series, averaging 217, while Guston led the Club Fellows with 211⅔.

High score and high average for the night was made by the Senators in the Southwest league, who notched 1,038, and averaged 979 2-3, against the Carnations. Schaefer averaged 211 1-3. Scores:

A GASOLINE AUTO COAL WAGON THAT HAS A SEVEN TON CAPACITY.

A million dollar company has been organized at Milwaukee, Wis., to build gasoline, electric and steam buses, freight and delivery wagons of every size and kind. The company, The Four-Wheel Drive Wagon Co., owns all rights under the Cotta Four-Wheel Drive patent, a device for distributing power equally and independently to all four wheels. As the above picture shows, the truck is built on the principle of the modern street-car truck, and by applying power direct to each wheel, overcomes all slipping and skidding and makes traveling possible at all times, regardless of conditions of roads and weather. A factory with facilities for one truck daily will be erected, and a truck capable of carrying seven tons is now under construction for a large Milwaukee concern.

METHODISTS WEAR CAPS.

NORTHWESTERN SQUAD VIOLATES FOOTBALL TRADITION.

Arctic Weather Compels McCornack's Men to Protect Their Heads with More than Gridiron Locks — Team Shows Spirit in Work at Charging and Tackling Machines—Cripples Getting Back Into Form—Expects a Hard Game with Wisconsin.

With the temperature way below the freezing point and a strong wind blowing from the lake, Coach McCornack's football squad rushed through the practice at Sheppard field yesterday. The linemen, wearing heavy gloves and woolen caps, bucked the charging machine with a spirit which put the machine temporarily out of the running and disabled the tackling bag before the afternoon's work was over. Every man on the squad was out for practice, and the work went unusually well.

On account of the hardness of the ground there was no scrimmage, McCornack not daring to risk having any of his men laid out and unable to play in the Wisconsin game. There will be little if any of this kind of work today or tomorrow. The men will be given stiff signal work both days, however, and McCornack thinks they will be in as good shape by Saturday as they would if they had been given the harder practice.

Most of the men are now in good condition, the only ones whose injuries are still bothering them being Colton and Fleager. Last night was the first that Colton has been out since Saturday, and he was too stiff and sore to play long. Fleager seems to have almost recovered from his injuries and played with the bunch yesterday. Fleager was tried at kicking goals from the field and showed considerable aptitude for this work. Neither he nor Colton, however, can be relied upon to make a place kick when one is necessary, and this style of game will probably not be used on Saturday. The ends were given special practice in going down the field on punts and in warding off the opposing ends on the same play, and made a good showing.

TRIP EAST FOR SCHOOL TEAM.

One of the Local High School Elevens Probably Will Go to Brooklyn for a Game.

If the schedule of the high school games can be finished at an early date it is probable one of the local scholastic teams will make an eastern trip to battle with the Brooklyn High school eleven, and give the eastern boys a chance to avenge the decisive defeat of the Brooklyn Polytechnic team at the hands of Hyde Park last fall.

A telegram was received by Ransom of the Hyde Park eleven yesterday, asking if one of the local teams would be willing to play Brooklyn. At present it is difficult for any one of the three teams—Englewood, North Division, and Hyde Park, which are wanted in the east—to make arrangements because of the games which remain to be played in the local high school league.

The Brooklyn boys desire the game to be played Nov. 28. North Division is the only team that can make the eastern trip on that date, as Englewood and Hyde Park are scheduled to play their annual match on that day. According to Capt. Macauley of the Hyde Park team the south siders will not play an eastern eleven unless Hyde Park scores a victory over North Division on Saturday and defeats Englewood a week later. Capt. Steffen of North Division is anxious to pit his men against the easterners if North Division defeats Hyde Park, and the eastern representative was instructed to await the result of the North Division-Hyde Park game on Saturday.

"While we would like to take the trip to New York, we will not arrange for any game unless our team shows up better than it has so far," said Capt. Macauley yesterday. "The Hyde Park team this year is not up to the usual Hyde Park form, and we don't want to go east and run the risk of being defeated and spoil the reputation made last year. If we are defeated by both North Division and Englewood, one of those teams should represent the west against the east."

With the prospect of an eastern trip in store, the North Division and Hyde Park teams began working still harder for their game Saturday. At Hyde Park practice was held both afternoon and night. In the afternoon the men were given their regular scrimmage work at the Windermere lot, and at night electric light signal practice was held on Marshall field. The work of the men was not pleasing to the coaches, and great improvement will have to take place to make a good showing against North Division. Using the North Division formations, the scrubs had little trouble gaining on the regulars. The light second team pushed them all over the field. On offense the first team did better.

FOOTBALL A COLLEGE KEY

Declares He Knows of Four High School Men Who Were Admitted to Universities Simply Because They Were Valuable on the Gridiron—Will Not Deny That Eckersall and Hammond Are Included — Calls Practice an Outrage.

"I have specific statements to the effect that four high school students had not completed three-fourths of the required four years' regular work when they were admitted to universities of good standing. They were taken simply because they knew how to play football."

This declaration was made yesterday by Superintendent of School Edwin G. Cooley. It marked the beginning of struggle on the part of the public school authorities to prevent what they characterized as the demoralization of high schools by the athletic associations of universities.

Supt. Cooley would not name the four former high school pupils who had been admitted to the universities without proper preparation because of their athletic ability. He would not deny that Walter Eckersall, the now famous quarter back of the University of Chicago, was one, and that Tom Hammond of Michigan was another.

Calls Action an Outrage.

"If a high school pupil can put up a good game of football the college authorities, with inducements secure the pupil before he has finished his high school course. They do this to strengthen the athletics of their college," declared Supt. Cooley. "Such action on the part of college authorities is an outrage, and at the next college conference I shall protest against the practice.

"Men who would not have been permitted to play football on the high school teams because of their poor standing are admitted to the colleges, with conditions, so they may participate in the football game. They become athletic stars in college. This has a serious influence on high school athletics. It causes demoralization not only of high school athletics but also of high school education.

"If the universities are determined to let down the bars on the ground that a man is an athlete, the man with brains has an unequal chance, and the struggle in preparatory schools will be for physical instead of for mental development."

Stricter Rules in Schools.

Supt. Cooley explained that the high school rules had been made so strict that a member of an athletic team is required to have an average of 75 per cent or more in his studies on the day of the competition, or he will not be permitted to participate.

"The colleges," he said, "stand on a pedestal and talk of ideals, yet they let a fellow in whenever they see fit, just because he is a good kicker or a good ground gainer."

President Harris characterized this practice as "reprehensible" and declared the board would take action to stop it.

Instructor Pratt Is Suspended.

Mr. Harris yesterday ordered the suspension of L. S. Pratt, family instructor at the Parental school, who is charged by Supt. MacQueary with "gross insubordination and insulting conduct toward the superintendent of the Parental school." Supt. MacQueary names W. L. Bodine, Fred Sykes, and Mary W. Warner as witnesses. Instructor Pratt will be tried by the school management committee at its next meeting.

The president has written to members of the buildings and grounds committee, informing them that all but one of the leaseholders who applied for the elimination of the revaluation clause have deposited security for the payment of the $10 tax per front foot for the expense of engaging experts to fix the rentals. Daniel F. Crilly is the exception. President Harris suggests that the president of the real estate board be summoned as a witness.

Notes of Local Billiardists.

Two games were played in Mussey's class B balk line tournament yesterday, with the following results: Brown [200] beat George [150] 200 to 99, and Huntley [165] defeated Mayer [165] by 26 points. Kent [200] and Walker [180] will play tonight.

In the eighth game of Foley's straight rail handicap tourney, played last night, Hall [200] defeated Myer [150] by a score of 200 to 84. Miller [200] and Deihke [150] play tonight.

ADDED GAINS IN WHEAT.

SMALL NORTHWEST RECEIPTS THE BULL FACTOR.

Cash Premiums Everywhere Advancing, Higher Prices Reported Paid for Flour, Minneapolis and Duluth Still Lead the Advances, and Prices Here Are Up Sharply — Corn Dull Early, but Responds Finally to Extremely Light Receipts.

Everything from the northwest continued bullish on wheat, all the talk from that quarter being of lighter country offerings, a certain decrease in terminal receipts, a better shipping demand, and a strong flour demand at advanced prices. The movement was already falling off there, receipts nearly a third less than last year at Minneapolis and Duluth, and those markets continued their upward tendency.

With the northwest situation so strong there was no disposition here to keep the local price from following suit, and December particularly was in sharp demand, selling up 1⅝c, to 79¼c, and closing at that price sellers, a premium of ½c over the May. There was an advance of ⅝c in May, to 78⅝c, with the close practically at that figure.

There was apparently some broadening in the speculative trade, although it still seemed to be entirely professional, the outside public taking no more interest in the advance than it had done in the decline. The December strength was due in part to fears on the part of shorts that more of the wheat purchases made by Armour at Duluth for this market might be diverted to eastern mills or exporters, and this uneasiness was not relieved by the claims from Duluth that all the wheat which that market might receive before the close of navigation had been sold for shipment, and predictions that the east would be coming to this market before the middle of the month for all rail shipment.

Cargo Sale Here.

The upturn in December was helped by purchases by Armour, but the best prices were on the reported sale of a cargo of 75,000 bu No. 1 northern here for shipment east at an advanced premium. A cargo of Duluth wheat arrived, but contract stocks are so small wheat will have to come in faster than it goes out to make the shorts' position comfortable. The advance in May was checked for a time around 78¼c by open selling for Armour account, but on the news of the cash business here and the report of light receipts of Manitoba wheat, 70 cars at Winnipeg, compared with 300 a year ago, the market started up again.

There was a general commission demand, with buying for the southwest and for New York account. There seemed to be buying here against selling in Minneapolis, the undoing of a spread. Minneapolis reported a good flour demand, with sales for export at 1c advance. Local flour brokers found the demand good, but had no such increase in offers.

There were 519 cars at Minneapolis and Duluth, compared with 721 a week ago and 763 a year ago. All reports from that section declared purchases by elevators at country stations 30 to 50 per cent lighter than a week ago, although the weather continues extremely favorable for movement. Primary receipts were only 1,262,000 bu, compared with 1,519,000 bu last year. Clearances were 172,000 bu, and export sales at the seaboard 96,000 bu. Liverpool futures followed the local advance moderately, up ¼d to ⅜d, but London was 1d to 1⅜d higher. There were sundry cables giving glowing reports of the Argentine crop, but they attracted little attention.

Late Rally in Corn.

Extreme dullness pervaded the corn pit for over half the session, prices hanging around the closing figure of the day before, and the market acting heavy in spite of the strength in wheat, but on some quiet buying of December by shippers, reports of a good cash inquiry, the light receipts, and light estimate for today, the market started up, shorts covered, and December had an advance of ⅞c, closing at the top at 42¼c bid, a premium of ⅛c over May, which gained only ¼c. The weather continues favorable for maturing and movement, but the movement nevertheless is quite small, 139 cars inspected in and only 100 estimated for today. Primary receipts were also under last year's figures, 315,000 bu, compared with 377,000 bu. Shipping bids were at the same premiums as last week in spite of the ½c advance in rail rates. New corn in the cash market had a further advance of ½c to 1c, the old corn unchanged in price. Clearances were 19,000 bu and export sales at the seaboard 48,000 bu. Liverpool futures were steady to ¼d lower, and spot unchanged.

Good Demand for Oats.

In oats there was a disposition from the outset to sympathize with the strength in wheat and light receipts and improved cash demand contributed to advances, particularly in the December delivery, which sold up 1⅛c to 34⅝c, the May gaining ⅝c, to 35½c. Cash prices were steady to ½c higher and shipping sales 215,000 bu. There were 111 cars in and 115 estimated for today; clearances were 8,000 bu.

Provisions Quiet and Dull.

Not even the strength of grains was able to offset the effect on the provision market of liberal receipts and lower prices of hogs and dull speculative interest. Fluctuations were within narrow range, the only features of the trade the selling of January lard by Boyd-Lunham, and of pork and ribs to a moderate extent by Cudahy brokers. The close was unchanged for pork and ribs and 2½@5c lower for lard. The cash demand for lard is not quite so strong, and loose lard is selling at a wider discount. There were 37,000 hogs in, prices 10@15c lower, and 32,000 are estimated for today. Receipts at all western points were 84,100, compared with 96,000 a year ago. Shipments were 1,971,000 lbs meats compared with 2,623,000 lbs a year ago, and of lard 1,711,000 lbs compared with 1,048,000 lbs.

Rye Prices Make Advance.

Rye prices were about ½c higher, the market firm. Offerings were light. No. 2 in store was nominally 53c, and fresh arrivals free on board sold 53½@55c. No. 3 locally quotable at 52@53c, sold at the river at 50½c. Arrivals 9 cars, 10 withdrawn from private warehouses, and no export clearances.

Barley was in better demand, owing to a marked decrease in receipts. Good to choice, under scarcity, was quotably firm. At the close of the market there was an increase of ½@1c. Some poor to common screenings sold at 28@32c; choice clean nominally higher, up to 38@40c. Low grade, feed or mixing, sold at 36@38c, mainly at 37c. Fair to good, but stained, sold at 45@50c. Choice bright, heavy and clean, nominally 55@58c; fancy nominally above, up to 61c bid for one lot to arrive. Receipts were down to 50 cars.

Seeds were generally steady to firm. The only change was in timothy, and that was an advance of 5c in contract grade. Sellers were scarce and cash lots sold well. There were sales at $2.00@2.75; November nominally $3.00, December about $3.02½, with January sold at $3.05; March was nominally about $3.15.

Clover was quiet, offerings so small that the market was about nominal. No quotable change in values. Country seed, common to choice, $8.00@10.25; mixed, $6.00@7.50. Fair to good quality about $8.00@9.50. Contract grades, November and December, nominally $10.50.

In flaxseed there was no change. Tuesday's quoted prices were bid for cash and futures. The only offerings were rejected. No. 1 northwestern or No. 1 from the northwest salable at $1.00, but none on sale. No. 1 was 94c bid. Rejected quotable at 87@94c, depending on quality. Arrivals were 4 cars; Minneapolis 58 cars and Duluth 123 cars.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON 'CHANGE.

There was no disagreement among Duluth authorities on the proposition that receipts of wheat were going to be insufficient to supply the demand. Spencer-Moore wired Harris-Gates: "Country offerings are light and our receipts are also falling off. Several of the country elevator lines have already sold all of the wheat they can get in here between now and the close of navigation. We look for higher prices, as there is no doubt that considerable wheat is wanted for shipment east before the close of navigation." In a letter to Daggett Ames-Brooks say: "Country offerings each day are practically nothing and our current receipts are applied on old sales already made to the east or abroad. There is an excellent cash demand from the east, with no one apparently having any wheat for sale. The cargo brought back from Chicago today was resold to Buffalo millers at ½c more than paid the Chicago people. We are satisfied now that practically all the wheat which can arrive here this month has been sold and you will see a demand in Chicago for your No. 1 northern before the middle of December by rail. It looks as though Manitoba might not have enough for domestic requirements if the estimate of a 35,000,000 bu crop is right, although they are already exporting part of their crop. Last year the last of the old wheat sold at above 90c all summer and it looks like even a worse condition the coming summer."

Everything from the northwest on the question of wheat movement began and ended with positive declarations that purchases of wheat in the country were falling off sharply and no positive predictions that receipts from terminal markets would suffer within a few days. Some reports from elevator concerns were that deliveries were from 40 to 75 per cent smaller than they were a week ago. A Minneapolis message to Walter Comstock said: "One elevator line, 140 houses, received 29,000 bu yesterday, against 40,000 bu a week ago. Another line with 103 houses received only 15,000 bu from farmers yesterday. I had an idea that when roads froze up farmers deliveries would be larger, but they are 33 to 50 per cent less and elevator managers are disappointed, and naturally enough are bullish."

There has been a revival of late in the shipping demand for oats because of a marked falling off in the competition of the northwest for the eastern trade. Minneapolis has been selling oats freely at a lower basis than Chicago shippers could sell, but the movement of oats in the northwest has fallen off to practically nothing, and some of the northwest shippers have been obliged to cancel sales already made besides withdrawing offers. The result has been an improvement in the demand for shipment here and in the prices paid. Oats which could be used in making standards have been selling at about December price, but yesterday brought ⅜c over. Shipping sales were 250,000 bu, and the eastern demand seemed to be following the advance.

Total stocks of wheat in St. Louis are 4,240,000 bu, of which 2,963,000 bu are contract. It is still claimed the elevators and millers there expect to have 5,000,000 bu for delivery on contracts. It is the general idea now in the Mound City market, however, the December bulls still have a line of around 7,000,000 bu in spite of the large settlements this week. The latest rumor concerning these settlements is that they were for the Pillsbury milling interest of Minneapolis.

The largest flour mills at Minneapolis are reported sold several months ahead, and one message reported export sales there yesterday at an advance of 1 shilling per brl, equal to about 5c per bu. Local flour brokers thought this advance must have been based on some low bid. It was not their fortune to reap such quick profits, but there is no disagreement as to the flour demand being healthy and vigorous, and the trade more inclined to follow an advance than it has been for some time.

"Our purchases of wheat at country elevators in the northwest," said James Pettit of the Peavey house, "have fallen off sharply, and there will be a falling off in terminal receipts. The situation seems to confirm the small estimates of the northwest crop. It looks as though little more wheat had been raised up there than enough for local needs. The situation is bullish, but the speculative interest in the market is small, and we may have to wait for it to increase before there will be any sustained advances."

"It looks now," writes a Buffalo dealer, "as though the widespread distribution of Kansas wheat to the eastern markets is going to do for it what has never been done before—bring it into the favor of spring wheat millers. Buffalo millers are not using it much, as Duluth spring is again plentiful, but it sells on 'change right along, mostly as Chicago hard."

The wheat trade is assuming that the Armour interest has become aggressively bullish on the improved cash demand and falling off in receipts. It is rumored they had calls on 2,000,000 bu bought in Milwaukee yesterday at 78¼c, and that the wheat was called at the dose.

"Weather warm and sunny, conditions favorable," read one cablegram from Argentina on the wheat crop there. Another message announced: "Argentine wheat prospects could hardly be better. Crop is large."

There is apparently some letting up in the keenness of the cash demand for lard. There is less inquiry for loose lard for shipment, and it is selling at a wider discount, 22½c under January, or 5c lower than a few days ago.

Some Minneapolis advices predicted a decrease in country elevator stocks this month, as some elevator lines are shipping twice as much now as farmers are delivering.

Final arguments in what is known as the "July oats" case will be made before Judge Chytraus Friday afternoon. A decision is expected some time next week.

The directors have rejected the petition of cash grain interests for an advance in the commission rate for car lots of wheat from ½c to 1c.

Two more cargoes of wheat bought by Armour at Duluth to come to this market were reported resold yesterday.

IN THE NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Buying has been more or less restricted in the dry goods market, but the views of agents and manufacturers are increasingly firm. Under the present conditions of the raw material market sellers are not likely to grant concessions, although buyers are still trying to obtain them, and are frequently surprised to find they cannot be secured.

TURKEY PRICES GO HIGHER.

Quotations Reach 16 Cents for Live Fowls—Extras in Creameries Firm—Potato Receipts Light.

Live turkeys were in demand yesterday to an extent that sent the market up 1c per lb. Live sold up to 16c, and dressed readily brought 18c for the best stock. Extras in creameries continued firm; eggs of all grades were good sale and the market held well up. There was a strong demand for potatoes, and the weather conditions being unfavorable for shipment caused holders to keep quotations well up. Arrivals of apples were much in excess of the same period one year ago.

The popcorn crop of 1903 will, it is claimed, be from 25 to 30 per cent smaller than a year ago, owing to bad weather conditions.

TALKS OF CURRENCY BILL

FORMER CONTROLLER CONSIDERS LAMBERT IDEA IMPRACTICABLE.

Unusual Demand for United States Bonds to Secure Circulating Notes of Banks Would Advance Prices to Prohibition Point — Impossible to Make Currency Elastic by Simply Increasing Its Quantity—Process of Redemption Inadequate.

The visit of a Chicagoan to Washington for the purpose of laying before congress a plan for increasing the country's currency to the extent of $500,000,000 by amending the national banking act so as to compel banks of that character to take out in actual circulation not less than eight-tenths of its actual capital stock, and empowering the secretary of the treasury to deposit with national banks all revenues over and above a fair working balance, does not meet with entire indorsement at the hands of Chicago financiers.

John Lambert, formerly of the American Steel and Wire company, is the author of the plan thus briefly outlined, and is already on the way to Washington with the details in his gripsack. E. S. Lacey, former controller of the currency and now president of the Bankers' National bank of this city, a man who has for years made the currency requirements of the country a matter of close study, and who is therefore more than ordinarily well equipped to discuss the subject intelligently, said yesterday:

"The legislation favored by Mr. John Lambert, as set forth in the papers, if adopted would make it obligatory upon the national banks to purchase immediately $300,000,000 of United States bonds and deposit them with the treasurer of the United States to secure circulating notes of like amount. There are several serious objections to this plan:

"In the first place, there is only a limited amount of United States bonds on the market, and it would be well nigh impossible to purchase one-third of the amount named at any price.

"Second, the mere probability of the passage of such an act would advance the price of United States bonds to such an extent as to make the issue of circulating notes thus secured result in a serious loss to the banks.

Effect on Bank Notes.

"Third, the enforced issue of circulating notes at a loss, if persisted in, would undoubtedly lead to the withdrawal of banks from the national system, and eventuate in the curtailment of our present volume of bank notes.

"Fourth, the issue of an additional $300,000,000 of bank notes in the manner proposed would cause inflation and end in greatly aggravating the financial ills that now afflict us.

"Our system of currency is not the best that can be devised, but it is far from being the worst. It lacks chiefly in the quality of elasticity. We cannot make it more elastic by increasing its quantity only. Any rapid or marked increase in its volume will lead to inflation and disaster unless a more complete and active system of redemption is provided.

"In my opinion too much attention has been paid to new methods of issue and too little to increased facilities for redemption. It is not certain that our present volume of circulation is, on the whole, insufficient, but it is capable of demonstration that our present methods of redemption are ridiculously inadequate.

"In my opinion we should begin our currency reforms by evolving a plan that will retire bank notes when redundant, as they always are in the spring months, and thus make practicable an increase in volume during the autumn when the supply is usually insufficient. To this end let us increase the issue of notes to $105 upon each $100 of bonds pledged for their redemption, increase the redemption fund held by the United States treasury to 10 per cent of the note issue, and provide for the redemption of bank notes at the United States subtreasuries in New York, Chicago, and St. Louis. To these might be added from time to time other reserve cities if, after due trial, such a course was found necessary.

"In dealing with the currency of a great commercial nation no rash innovations should be tolerated. All changes should be conservative and tentative. Whenever we have properly solved the problem of bank note redemption we can safely consider means to gradually increase the issue if it shall then appear that the present volume is inadequate.

"Mr. Lambert's proposition, so far as it provides for the deposit of public funds in the banks upon the security of bonds other than those of the United States, is worthy of serious consideration, and some provision of that kind should be enacted by the present congress."

Bills on Currency Legislation.

On the subject of a currency commission the Wall Street Journal says:

"The decision not to enter upon radical currency legislation this winter has been generally accepted as wise under prevailing conditions. But this is no reason why the subject should be dropped altogether. On the contrary, preparations should be made to take up the question later, and this preparation, we think, might properly take the form of a commission, composed in part of members of congress and in part of outside experts appointed by the president, this commission to investigate the whole subject, gather all possible information, obtain views from every interest involved, and then endeavor to draft a bill, sound in principle, and calculated to meet the needs of business in this country."

Optimistic English View.

"Investors on this side will do well to bear in mind that the finances of American railway companies are in a different state to that of the industrial companies. In their early days many of the railroads were overcapitalized, much as industrial companies now are, but owing to their enormous betterment outlays for many years past the water in American railway capital has now been in most cases effectively squeezed out and the properties brought up to their book values. Indeed in many cases the value of the assets is greatly in excess of their book values.

"Further, there has been no great extension of railways in the United States since the eighties, and the population and traffic of the country have grown up to the transport facilities offered by the railways. In some directions the traffic has grown beyond the existing railway facilities and large outlays of capital are now necessary for the purpose of doubling the existing tracks and accommodating the traffic. This is especially the case on the lines running east and south from Chicago, where the traffic has become exceedingly dense.

"Doubtless the history of the great industrial companies of the United States will be similar to that of its railways. Their overcapitalization will cause them to act conservatively in the matter of dividend distributions and devote the greater portion of their profits to getting rid of the large amount of water that is now in their capital. In the course of time, consequently, they will be placed upon a sound basis, and their securities, will then pass from the highly speculative to the investment list."

Local Money Ruling Quiet.

At the moment there is an absence of any special activity in the local money market, although the condition is not in any way significant. Leading bankers report a steady and ordinary demand for money from the usual local sources with going rates in the close neighborhood of 6 per cent. The fact that industrial enterprises are not making much of any increase in output facilities, nor are likely to do so until the beginning of the year or later, accounts in part for the only moderate demand.

There is a fair amount of commercial paper on the market, some of it being of New York origin. Banks in that city have offered local banks their choice of New York paper at 6½ per cent. There is also about the usual amount of Chicago paper being discounted in New York, but these are also the usual conditions.

Local authorities are generally of the opinion that the money movement westward between August and the latter part of December will show a substantial increase over last year. Vice President Moulton of the Corn Exchange bank says his institution has forwarded about $14,000,000 so far this year, as against $12,000,000 for the crop moving season a year ago. Presumably other banks show about the same ratio of increase. With western banks reported as holding far more than ordinary deposits, and the agricultural interest as a whole more than ordinarily prosperous, the fact of a larger money movement westward is indicative of a general business far exceeding that of last year.

Corn Product Gossip.

According to current gossip among western independent starch manufacturers, a careful calculation shows that the independents can produce starch at a less cost than the Corn Products company, one of the reasons being the heavy capitalization of the latter concern. Prices for starch are now on a basis, so it is said, where the independents can show a profit, but the trust is losing money.

If a trade war is precipitated, the course of the independents will undoubtedly be to shut down and wait until the trust is tired of losing money. On a resumption of legitimate prices the independent concerns will resume. Meanwhile the independents claim that conditions are tranquil and that they are willing to do business on a fair basis.

The suggestion of a selling company similar to the United Boxboard affair to regulate prices does not meet with much favor. In the minds of many the bare suggestion of this compromise reveals the presence of a weakness in the corn products situation, such as already exists in the affairs of the Boxboard company.

Financial News Notes.

The Consolidated Tobacco syndicate contract has been extended to Dec. 3, 1904. Subscribers already have paid in 20 per cent in cash and no further payments will be called for. This syndicate was originally formed in 1902, and in December of last year was extended for a year, and the extension now announced is the second one.

A meeting of the directors of the Illinois Brick company is scheduled for Monday next. A semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent is expected, and talk on the street is that it probably will be declared. A director of the company is quoted as saying that the annual dividend of 6 per cent has been fully earned and that the company is doing a large and highly prosperous business.

At a meeting of the directors of the American Shipbuilding company at Cleveland yesterday the directors are reported to have passed the dividend, though no public announcement of the fact was made.

The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows the following changes: Cash on hand, increased $21,580,000; treasury notes, increased $400,000; other securities, increased $6,640,000; notes in circulation, decreased $21,500,000.

On the Local Exchange.

There was continued activity in American Can yesterday, 1,250 shares of the preferred being traded in on a range from 29⅝c to 30⅝c, the market closing strong at the outside. There is more or less uncertainty as to the source of the buying in this property, but it is generally admitted to be of an influential character. If the purpose is to make a market for the stock it has not yet developed. The selling is scattered and not significant. The buying orders are also in the hands of various brokers and do not appear to originate at any concentrated point.

Trading in the general list was good, Diamond Match, National Biscuit preferred, and Swift & Co. being the next active stocks. Diamond Match sold up ⅝ from 129½, to 130¼, and closed at the top.

The bond list was not particularly active and values were inclined to weakness, especially Pearsons-Taft Land credit issues. Other bond sales included Lake Street elevated first mortgage 5s at ½ point advance and Metropolitan gold 4s at former quotations.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Cattle Take Turn for Better, Hogs Have Slump, and Sheep Show Advance of Ten Cents.

Receipts at the stockyards yesterday furnished further evidence that the winter crop of hogs has been started to market and that the country has become reconciled to the lower basis of prices, which has been inevitable for the last three months. Estimates for the day included 17,000 cattle, 35,000 hogs, and 28,000 sheep. Cattle were 10@15c higher; hogs were 10@15c lower, and sheep were steady to 10c higher.

Following is a statement of the movement of live stock at the Chicago stockyards for the period indicated, with comparative figures:

Sheep.

The market for sheep showed a tone decidedly better than on earlier days of the week and sales of the killing grades of both sheep and lambs were higher than on Tuesday. Fancy lambs sold up to $5.50, but sales above $5.25 were not numerous. The bulk of native lambs sold below $5.00, with good fed westerns going at $5.00. Choice yearlings went at $4.25 and good fat wethers at $3.75 to $3.85. Fat heavy ewes brought $3.25. The market for feeding sheep was dull, with prices no more than steady. Quotations:

Fair to choice mixed	2.75@3.50
Western sheep	2.25@4.00
Native lambs	3.75@5.50
Fed western lambs	3.75@5.00

Cattle.

The trade in cattle opened in more active tone than has been displayed for some time, and sellers were able to score an advance of 10c to 15c over Monday's prices. At this advance there was a big volume of business during the forenoon, the only barrier to a good clearance being the straggling manner in which trains got to the yards. The top cattle of the day, a large bunch of 1,400 lb averages from Decorah, Ill., made $5.60, and several lots of prime medium weights went at $5.40 to $5.50, with strictly prime steers weighing nearly 1,700 lbs going at $5.25. The last were here on Monday, and only $5.20 was bid. This bunch was almost good enough for the show ring, and only the extreme weight prevented them from topping the market. Medium and cheap priced dressed beef cattle met an active demand, and showed as large an advance as the higher priced grades. The market for cow and heifer stock was active, with price showing a full recovery of Monday's extreme decline. Quotations:

Poor to medium	3.75@[illegible]00
Stockers and feeders	2.50@4.00
Cows	1.75@4.25
Heifers	2.00@4.75
Canners	1.75@2.40
Bulls	1.7[illegible]@4.20
Calves	2.0[illegible]@2.75
Texas steers	3.[illegible]@3.50
Western steers	2.[illegible]@4.15

Hogs.

Following a declining close on Tuesday, with 35,000 fresh and 7,000 holdover, hog buyers were able to establish the market on a further decline of 10c to 15c. At this decline they sta[illegible] in the field late and bought supplies nearly down to the fresh receipts. Prime butcher mediums sold at $4.85, but sales above $4.75 were scarce. The bulk of all hogs sold within a range of $4.50 to [illegible]5.65. Quotations:

Mixed and butchers	$4.50@4.85
Good to choice heavy	4.60@4.75
Rough heavy	4.25@4.50
Light	4.40@4.65
Bulk of sales	4.50@4.65

Ready Response to Manipulation for Rise Disposes Operators to Record Gains for Nearly All Issues Dealt In—United States Steel and Pennsylvania Easily the Leaders in Amount of Business Done—Money Situation Gives Promise of Betterment.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Such consolation as Wall street derived from today's strength in the stock market was to a certain extent modified by the almost universally expressed opinion that today's market, as its predecessors have been, was made almost entirely by professional traders. They tested the market early in the day, and finding the advances more easily accomplished than further declines, they worked for higher prices, concentrating their efforts upon the last half hour's trading, and giving the market close a stronger appearance.

The transactions were not large, there being only 430,200 shares traded in during the day, of which about 176,000 shares were supplied by Pennsylvania and the two Steel stocks. The street had presented to it the usual batch of disquieting rumors, but paid little attention to them. In conservative quarters the influence which conditions in the money market are likely to have upon the stock market is being given increased attention.

Commission houses are showing more disposition to advise buying of stocks, some of them taking a more hopeful view concerning the future of the market than they have been inclined to do of late.

The selling of Steel preferred, which showed a total of 87,080 shares, was accompanied by the suggestion that there still is a considerable amount of stock to be liquidated, and a further decline might be looked for. Whatever may be the merit of this opinion, there was a sharp rally in the stock from 50⅛ to 51⅝.

Pennsylvania, which was second in activity to United States Steel preferred, was the leader in the market during the advance in the last hour, closing at the top price of the day with a net gain of 1⅝ points. Some large orders were executed in the stock, some of which were said to be covering by shorts put out in the recent decline. Considerable demand for Pennsylvania appeared in the loan crowd, the stock loaning at 3½ per cent, while most issues are loaning at 4 and 4½ per cent.

A moderate display of life by some of the specialties which are almost entirely in the hands of the pools is taken as an indication of an effort to encourage outside buying. The ease with which some of these stocks advance indicates how readily the market for such issues can be marked up.

Close—Money on call firm 5@5½ per cent; closing bid, 5 per cent; offered at 5½ per cent. Time loans easier; sixty days 5@5½ per cent; ninety days and six months 4¾@5 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 6 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 483.85@483.90 for demand, and at 480.10 @480.20 for sixty day bills. Posted rates, 481 and 484½. Commercial bills, 480. Bar silver, 58⅝c. Mexican dollars, 44⅝c. Government bonds weak. Railroad bonds steady.

NEWS OF THE INSURANCE WORLD.

NEW FIRE COMPANY ORGANIZING

Holger de Roode Is Behind the Plan, Backed by a Strong Committee.

Holger de Roode of De Roode, Faulkner & Ettelson is engaged in the organization of a stock fire insurance company for Chicago to have resources of $1,000,000, equally divided between capital and surplus. He is backed by an organization committee, which ultimately will form the nucleus of the board of directors, including business men of Chicago, New York, and Cincinnati. Mr. De Roode today will send out a circular to insurance men outlining the policy of the proposed company, which will be not to act as agent for any other company and not to act as broker or to place any business itself. Liberal lines will be written under conservative methods through board agents. Mr. De Roode has been in the insurance business in Chicago during nearly thirty years, and for ten years was western general agent of the Providence, Washington.

A special meeting of the North American Accident company was held yesterday to take action on the death last week of Ernest E. Crepin, its president. Resolutions were adopted, and E. C. Waller, who has been vice president since the reorganization of the company four years ago, was made president. Arthur E. Forrest, the secretary, also will serve as vice president. President Waller is the lessee of the site of the Rookery building and a large real estate owner.

The Illinois Life explains that the reports from Topeka of dissatisfaction on the part of the policyholders of the Kansas Mutual Life, which was reinsured by it, with the amount of the surplus to be distributed among the policyholders, is due to a misunderstanding of the facts. The Illinois Life pays a reinsurance bonus of $10 a thousand in addition to the surplus distribution. The report of the trustees, mailed to each policyholder last May before the reinsurance, and upon which the bids were based, gave the surplus, after setting aside the guaranty fund apportioned among the old plan policyholders as $13,359.70. The actuaries, who have been going over the books, now have confirmed the showing made by the trustees.

R. G. Tennant & Co. have been appointed western correspondents for the New Brunswick Fire, a stock company organized in 1826, which, heretofore, has restricted its operations to New Jersey, and now is branching out for surplus business. Its capital is $50,000 and its surplus $61,073.

Western managers are sending warnings to their agents in Montana regarding the depressed condition of business there and the moral hazard that probably will ensue in the fire insurance business. Risks in the copper country are carefully watched.

Loss reports were numerous in all the department offices yesterday, the first cold snap of the year giving its usual demonstration of the inadequacy of flues and heating apparatus.

Natl. Hart.	$ 2,000	Queen	$ 2,500
North Brit.	2,000	Germania	2,000
Glen Falls	2,000
Royal	2,000	Total	$14,000
Connecticut	1,500

The Mutual Life of New York, after several years of the policy of having its examining physicians in the large cities on the salary instead of the fee basis, will go back to the fee system everywhere beginning Jan. 1. The change is pleasing to the agents, who assert that the doctors make examinations much more promptly when there is a fee in it.

The Nebraska insurance department has revoked the license of the Royal Tribe of Joseph, the fraternal insurance concern which recently was consolidated with the Cosmopolitan Life Association of Illinois, because of the transfer of its assets without notice to the department and without notice to the members in that state. The Lincoln members of the Tribe of Joseph have called a convention next month to elect supreme officers and continue the organization.

Oregon, Ill., Hardware Store Burns.

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the hardware house and contents of the B. F. Sheets Hardware company at Oregon today. The loss is estimated at $12,000, fully insured.

NEWS NOTES FROM NEW YORK.

Marine Premiums on Pacific Coast Have Fallen Off During Year, While Loss Ratio Is Heavier.

New York, Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Marine premiums on the Pacific coast during the year 1903 have fallen off considerably as compared with last year, while the loss ratio will be heavier. It is anticipated the net result of marine transactions will be worse than that shown by the fire business, notwithstanding the unusual number and size of fire loss claims.

Manager Charles H. Past of the Caledonian Insurance company sailed today on the Oceanic for a short visit to the company's home office in Edinburg.

The Federal Insurance company has been admitted to Tennessee.

Justice Cowing of the Supreme court has, with the assent of the district attorney, dismissed two indictments against Morris Franklin, editor of the Interview, for libeling the Mutual Reserve Fund Life company, and Frederick A. Burnham, its president.

Insurance Commissioner Folk of Tennessee has ordered that the registry companies must hereafter qualify to be licensed before being allowed to do business in Tennessee. While the registry companies are not numerous, those that do exist operate extensively. They pursue the plan of giving a limited liability accident policy with key rings and pocketbooks, and their patrons, in addition to getting meager protection, have a good chance of recovering the lost articles that are stamped with the name of the registry company. The policies issued by such concerns are bought in blocks from organization accident companies.

Kentucky-Tennessee Agents Adjourn.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The Kentucky-Tennessee board of fire underwriters adjourned this afternoon after electing Charlton A. Rogers of Louisville president and C. M. Benjamin of Nashville vice president, and reëlecting C. W. Nelson of Louisville secretary. The board intends to insist upon the coinsurance clause, requiring 80 and 90 per cent. Another important step is the appointment of fire marshals in all incorporated towns in Kentucky and Tennessee. This will be urgently recommended to the legislatures of both states. William T. Benalleck of Detroit delivered an address on "Electrical Equipment and Electrical Hazards," showing examples of defective electrical contrivances.

Iowa Underwriters in Session.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The twenty-third annual meeting of the Iowa Mutual Insurance association began here this morning with sixty companies represented. Fifty-one of the companies are county organizations. President Brooks of Greenfield, in his annual address, advocated two changes in the Iowa laws, one to compel companies to have permanent headquarters and another to prevent the free use of the word "mutual" in the names of companies not entitled to it. He claimed that the reinsurance system was the only one by which small companies could succeed. James Yuill declared the existing laws are all that are wanted.

Receiver May Assess Policy Holders.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The 1,500 policy holders and creditors of the Artisans' Mutual Fire union will probably be called upon by the Circuit court shortly to show cause why the receiver should not be instructed to order an assessment. Receiver F. A. Geiger has petitioned the court for instructions regarding the manner in which he shall proceed, as the estate seems to be hopelessly tangled, largely because of the disappearance of original articles and corporate records. At one time, it appears from Mr. Geiger's petition, the directors of the company hit upon the chain letter plan of assessment.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Today in the Fifty-third District court the hearing of suits against forty-three fractional insurance companies for forfeiture of charter under the Texas anti-trust laws was continued by agreement until the January term. There were originally sixty-four of these suits, but the other companies have settled by compromise agreements and conformed to the law, and it now remains to go through the technical prosecuting steps with the forty-three remaining, who show no signs of wanting to compromise.

IN THE BOSTON MONEY MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The Boston market today was strong, with a moderate resumption of buying in some of the more active specialties. Coppers, including Amalgamated and Copper Range showed a confident tone. Amalgamated was bought for the New York account, and scored an advance of a point. New York was a buyer of Sugar and American Telephone, Dominion Coal and Dominion Iron showed fair recoveries from Tuesday.

IN FOREIGN MONEY MARKETS.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Money was in increased supply in the market today, but the demand was moderate. Discounts were steady, being strengthened by the new issue of $10,000,000 of three months' treasury bills next week, this offsetting the effect of the rally in the New York exchange and lessening the fear of gold exports to America. Business on the stock exchange was cheerful. Consols were buoyant on some investment demand and bear covering consequent on the improved monetary conditions and relief at the prospect of no change being made in the bank rate. Americans opened dull, but rallied to above parity.

MRS. TREE'S ESTATE $1,187,500

The will of Annie J. Tree, wife of Lambert Tree, filed in the Probate court yesterday afternoon, disposes of an estate of $1,187,500. The real estate is valued at $1,042,000. Mrs. Tree died at sea on Oct. 8 while returning from Europe. Her only heirs are her husband and son, Arthur M. Tree. Their temporary residence is given as Leamington, Eng., and their permanent home as 94 Cass street. The will bequeaths $100,000 to the son, and $3,000 is given to the endowment fund of St. Luke's hospital. The remainder of the estate is bequeathed to the husband.

NEWS OF THE RAILWAYS.

EASTERN AND GULF LINES QUARREL OVER TRAFFIC.

Series of Meetings Without Result, as Latter Companies Hold That Missouri River Traffic Naturally Belongs to Them—Atlantic Seaboard Roads Meet Cut of the Mallory Route—New Mileage Ticket May Be Adopted for Far West.

Diversion of the grain business from Missouri river and Kansas territory to the gulf ports threatens serious trouble between the roads leading to the gulf and those running to the Atlantic seaboard.

Not only are the gulf roads allowed a large differential but they are also accused of manipulating the rates which give them such advantage over the east bound lines that the latter find it almost impossible to secure any grain traffic from Missouri river points. Several meetings have been held here for the purpose of bringing about an agreement, but the roads running to the gulf are not inclined to make any concessions. They have a large advantage in mileage and can afford to haul the business at rates which the east bound lines cannot touch. The trend of the export business from those points, they say, naturally is to the gulf.

Demand to Reduce Differential.

A demand was made by the Chicago and Alton at one of the meetings this week that the differential rate of 7 cents enjoyed by the gulf roads for some time be reduced to 3 cents a 100 pounds. The gulf lines contend that there is no reason why they should accept the proposition. Even if they were generous enough to make such a concession, the business, they contend, would not go to the Atlantic seaboard, because the rate from interior points in Kansas would have to be added to the through rate from Kansas City.

An official of one of the lines from the Missouri river to the gulf produced figures to prove that under the most favorable circumstances the rate to the gulf would be 15 cents lower from Wichita, Kas., and other interior Kansas points than the rate from Kansas City to the Atlantic seaboard.

Meet Mallory Line Cut.

The Atlantic seaboard lines, after repeated threats, have met the cut rates of the Mallory lines to the Missouri river. The initiative was taken by the Savannah line. The others had no alternative and are now all in the procession with a tariff reduced from $1.42 to the Mallory's rate of $1.37. The Mallory lines' railroad ally in this instance is said to be the Mobile and Ohio and the Southern railway, which controls the Mobile and Ohio, is placed in a position of meeting its own competition through the Old Dominion line.

Transportation Notes.

George W. Ristine, formerly president of the Colorado Midland railway, and lately superintendent of transportation of the St. Louis world's fair, has opened an office in this city for the examination of railroad properties, embracing financial, physical, and traffic conditions.

R. L. Porter has been appointed division superintendent of the Galesburg division of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway, with headquarters at Galesburg.

Traffic officials of the transmissouri lines were in session here during the day, considering the advisability of adopting the same kind of a 2,000 mile interchangeable ticket, good on trains, as has just been adopted by the Western Passenger association lines east of the Missouri river.

MICHIGAN AVENUE SALES ARE PLACED ON RECORD.

Transfer of the Bucklen Property to Otto Young and of University's Land to Latter—Sale in Hyde Park.

Another of the Otto Young deals in Michigan avenue was placed on record yesterday. This was the transfer of the property at 264-5 Michigan avenue, 60x173 feet, from Herbert E. Bucklen to Mr. Young. The consideration was $160,000. The transfer of the property at 281-2 from the University of Chicago to Herbert E. Bucklen was also recorded. This property is 40x180 feet.

Frank Gustafson transferred to Mrs. Eliza D. Jameson, widow of John A. Jameson, title to the property at 79-81 East Forty-eighth street, 50 by 125 feet, valued at $50,000, subject to an incumbrance of $20,000. The property is improved with three story apartment building and is situated next to the old Jameson homestead.

In exchange Mr. Gustafson took a deed to the southwest corner of Cornell avenue and Fifty-third street, 150x150 feet, valued at $30,000. This property is vacant. It is the intention of Mr. Gustafson to improve it with an apartment building at a cost $100,00.

SELL FARMS AND FANCY WORK.

Four wagons loaded with baled hay, sugar beets, potatoes, and other farm products of western Kansas went astray yesterday and caused delay in opening the bazaar at the Great Northern hotel by the Kansas Equal Suffrage association. Late in the day three of the vehicles were discovered at the Grand Pacific hotel. The other, after encountering vicissitudes of the strike, was found in front of a south side feed store.

Mrs. Helen Kimber, president of the association, is hard at work.

"We are going to sell Kansas farms here," she explained—"Kansas farms and fancy work. We get paid for it, and we shall devote the proceeds to propagating the cause of women's suffrage."

When it was 10 o'clock and no wagons had appeared Mrs. Kimber and her assistants became anxious. Another hour passed. Two young women from the Kansas Agricultural college, who were to give a demonstration in bread made from Kansas flour, were ready to cry.

"Perhaps the drivers innocently interfered with the street cars and were arrested," ventured Mrs. Sadie P. Gresham.

Late in the evening the fourth wagon appeared. The driver had lost the address. He consulted the directory and delivered several bales of hay at a south side feed store. On the way there he had three times accidentally gotten in the way of Wentworth avenue cars and barely escaped arrest.

ELECTION CRIMES PUNISHED.

Two St. Louis Politicians Sentenced to Penitentiary for Fraudulent Naturalization.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—John P. Dolan, chairman of the democratic city central committee, and Frank Garrett, a policeman, were sentenced to the penitentiary for five years and ordered to pay fines of $1,000 each for complicity in wholesale naturalization frauds.

The sentencing of Thomas E. Barrett, former marshal of the Court of Appeals, for the same offense was deferred until after his trial on other indictments for the same offense.

Judge Adams of the United States court committed the two sentenced men to jail pending a motion for a new trial and refused to accept bonds.

WILL AID STATE'S ATTORNEY.

E. C. Lindley Is Appointed to Fill the Vacancy Caused by Howard O. Sprogle's Resignation.

The vacancy in the state's attorney's staff caused by the resignation of Howard O. Sprogle was yesterday filled by the appointment of E. C. Lindley. It is expected that Mr. Lindley will take charge of grand jury work next Monday, and with Mr. Olson, will conduct the investigation into the "graft" evidence prepared by the Citizens' association and the aldermanic committee.

The new appointee was born in Indiana. He was graduated from the University of Michigan and was ensign in the Illinois naval militia when the Spanish American war began. Enlisting in the United States navy he saw service in the Santiago blockade.

Since 1896 Mr. Lindley has practiced law in Chicago, being first with the firm of Tenney, McConnell & Coffeen, and recently with Walker & Payne. He is a republican leader in the Sixth ward and a brother of Frank Lindley of Danville, Ill., chairman of the congressional committee of Speaker Cannon's district.

BUSINESS PERSONALS.

PERSONAL—WHY WAIT UNTIL 5 P. M. DEC. 24, to select the loved one's Christmas gift? You always get something that is not appreciated or wanted and you are as much disappointed as the recipient. Why not step in and select a diamond ring, brooch, locket, or a diamond studded watch? It only requires $5 or $10 to handle a diamond proposition. We want a small first payment, then you can pay along monthly as you can spare the money. Better step in and look things over. If you see just what you want we would be glad to lay it aside for Christmas delivery. We are open until 6:30 daily; Saturdays until 10 p. m. Catalogue of Christmas goods sent free on request. LOFTIS BROS. & CO., 92 to 98 State-st. Diamonds, Watches, and Jewelry.

Employment Agencies.

HAVE YOU INVESTIGATED

Our special system of finding the right place for the right man?
We give each man individual attention.
We do not follow "employment agency" methods, which require most of the work to be done by you.
Our system is different—original with us—and WE DO THE WORK.
The best men secure the best results from us.

CLAIRVOYANTS.

CLAIRVOYANTLY GIFTED.
READINGS REDUCED TO $1.00 FOR SEVEN DAYS.
PROF. C. J. ROMANE'S extraordinary clairvoyant powers, combined with his superior knowledge of occult forces, enables him to read human life with unerring accuracy from infancy to old age. His powers are wonderful and indisputable, his advice is reliable, his information clear, concise, and to the point in love, courtship, marriage, divorce, sales, wills, patents, journeys, pensions, investments, speculations, property, insurance, mortgages, oil and mining claims, diseases, etc.
WITHOUT ASKING A QUESTION, without any previous knowledge, and having no natural means of knowing who you are, whence or for what you came, he tells your name, age, occupation, where you live, the number of your house, and the street you live on. He tells you names of friends and enemies, who is true and who is false. Tells whom and when you will marry, giving names, dates, facts, and location, taking no fee in advance, accepting none unless satisfaction is given.
SPECULATIONS AND INVESTMENTS.
His advice is much sought for by those contemplating investing and speculating. The dollar properly invested today has seldom failed to make the poor man rich.
When and where others fail, he never fails to teach you how to fascinate any one you desire, how to make your enemies your friends, cause a speedy marriage with the one of your choice, give you good luck, remove evil influences, reunite the separated, give lucky numbers, locate the earth's buried treasures, settle the old estates that time has placed beyond the lawyer's shrewdness, make you successful in your business, and positively complete your business.

WATCHES, JEWELRY, ETC.

OF ALL THE DIFFERENT ARTICLES DISplayed for Christmas shoppers, diamonds are the most desired and popular. They are expensive, but they are the only things that are always worth what you pay for them in hard cash. Diamonds do not wear out or become second hand property, hence a diamond purchase is an investment, not an expenditure. They have increased in value steadily for ten years—in fact, they have more than doubled in value in that time. You can buy one by making a small first payment when you get the diamond and the balance you can pay in a series of monthly payments arranged to suit your earnings or convenience. We are open until 6:30 daily; Saturdays until 10 p. m. Step in, get particulars of the popular Loftis System. Catalogue mailed free on request. LOFTIS BROS. & CO., 92 State-st. DIETRICH CASE PUSHED BY KNOX.

Attorney General Censures W. S. Summers for Checking First Grand Jury.

LETTER IS MADE PUBLIC.

Correspondence Designed to Show That Malice Did Not Lead to Indictment.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Attorney General Knox himself was the man who directed United States District Attorney Summers of Nebraska to lay the charges against Senator Dietrich before the grand jury.

This fact was shown today by publication of letters between the attorney general and the district attorney. The letters show that when a former grand jury took up the investigation District Attorney Summers stopped all proceedings and laid the facts before the attorney general. The latter, in reply, criticized the Nebraska attorney for checking the investigation and ordered him to lay it before another grand jury.

Dietrich Calls on Roosevelt.

Senator Dietrich called at the White house today and had a long interview with the president concerning the action instituted against him by the federal grand jury at Omaha. He declined to discuss his interview as he left the executive offices, but said that he would go to Nebraska in a few days to meet the charges brought against him.

The first letter from the district attorney to Attorney General Knox was dated June 23 last. The letter stated that testimony given by Leopold Hahn of Nebraska implicated Senator Dietrich in the Hastings postoffice scandal and told of the action of the district attorney in stopping the grand jury's investigations as soon as he learned that a United States senator was involved. At the same time the district attorney said he held himself in readiness to follow any direction the attorney general might give.

Knox Censures Summers.

In his reply, dated four days later, the attorney general said in part:

"You should not have requested a discontinuance of the investigation against the grand jury's insistence, because of the fact that the conduct of a United States senator was involved. From the copy of the proceedings before the grand jury it appears that at the time the testimony closed a most extraordinary and incriminating story had been told by the witness, Hahn, in which Senator Dietrich was criminally involved, but the facts which formed the basis of this talk were not of the witness' own knowledge.

Fairness Is at Stake.

"Fairness to the person thus incriminated, as well as other considerations of duty, should have caused you to refrain from interfering with the desire of the jury to probe the matter to the bottom.

"I especially disapprove of your carrying your interference with the proper functions of the jury to the extent of using your promise to submit the matter to this department for direction in the premises as an argument in your effort to persuade the jury to discontinue their investigation.

"Upon the whole, your action in the matter, the end accomplished, and the means employed were astonishing, unwarranted, and highly improper."

Omaha Attorney Pleased.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 18.—"I am glad," said District Attorney Summers today, "that this correspondence has been made public. I think it will explain, better than I possibly could do, whether or not it is 'malice' that prompted me to bring this matter to the attention of the grand jury at this term."

District Attorney Summers explained the reasons for checking the first investigation by saying that he did not do so in order to escape a disagreeable duty, but because he had not been permitted to take certain Indian land fraud cases before the grand jury, the attorney general advising him that the department of the interior wished to complete its own investigation first.

The postoffices at Alma, Oxford, Orleans, and Arapahoe are now being investigated. Some testimony has been heard in connection with the appointments of postmasters at Alma and Orleans, but important witnesses were called out of the city. It is stated that more indictments may result from other investigations now in progress.

W. C. T. U. ATTACKS THEORY THAT ALCOHOL IS A FOOD.

Compulsory Instruction in Temperance Physiology and Hygiene in Public Schools Is Defended.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The closing day of the national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union was devoted largely to the formulation of a protest against recent attacks upon compulsory teaching of temperance and physiology in the public schools. The preamble of the resolutions finally agreed upon recites that "the committee of fifty" for the investigation of the liquor problem has circulated unwarranted accusations against the legislation which requires the study of temperance physiology in the public schools. The resolutions attack the report in the following paragraphs:

First—The committee of fifty misrepresented the amount of time required for this subject, making it appear that 250 hours are required in the study of alcohol, while, in fact, only 330 lessons (the equivalent of about 140 hours), distributed through nine years, is the maximum requirement.

Second—The committee of fifty charges that the laws restrict teachers as to the methods to be used in teaching this subject. This, again, is a misrepresentation. The most specific laws simply require that the subject shall be taught all pupils in all schools.

Alcohol Not a Food.

Third—The committee's main points of criticism of this school literature are that it teaches that alcohol is not a food but a poison, and that it teaches total abstinence. An examination of the 800 pages in the report of the committee shows that the committee presents no evidence to prove that alcohol is a food in the sense in which the word is commonly understood. They are contradicted by such physiologists as Profs. Abel of Johns Hopkins, Van Voit of Munich, and Kuhne of Heidelberg universities.

Fourth—The public was led to expect that the teachings of the indorsed school physiologies were to be tested by the experiments conducted under the auspices of the committee of fifty, but, instead, they are compared with the conclusion of Dr. Fothergill, an opinion written twenty-three years ago, which Dr. Fothergill left when he died, fifteen years ago.

Fifth—The recommendation that this instruction should be confined to the upper grades would be to postpone it until after the cigaret and other bad habits have been formed, and would deprive great numbers who have to go to work before they reach the upper school grades of any warning instruction on this subject.

The concluding resolution protests against the attack upon temperance education and insists that the mothers and best citizens will contend for temperance education.

Work Among Railway Employes.

The report of Mrs. E. N. Graham of Maryland, general superintendent of the department of work among railroad employés, showed substantial and encouraging results. Twenty-five saloons in Cheyenne were closed by reason of the order of the Union Pacific railway forbidding employés to enter saloons. The Wabash railway officers gave orders for the discharge of employés addicted to the use of intoxicants, on or off duty. Over 200,000 railroad employés are now wearing the railroad temperance button.

ASKS $2,000,000 FOR ZION.

"COMMAND" IS ISSUED BY "DR." DOWIE IN LETTER.

"General Overseer" Declares Capital Is Needed to Extend the Industries at His City—Demand for Products Greater than Producing Power, He Says—Members of Church Are Told to Sell Everything and Invest—"Divine Healer" Guarantees Safety.

John Alexander Dowie, general overseer of the Christian Catholic church, has issued a call for $2,000,000. The head of the Zion industries does not make the call in the form of a request for money or advice to his followers to take up that amount of additional stock which he is attempting to float.

"This is not my advice to you—whom God has committed to my care—it is my 'command' as God's messenger and your leader," says the letter which is published in the recent number of Leaves of Healing.

Sell Everything and Invest.

"Realize by immediate sale the cash proceeds of all your properties, invest in Zion securities or Zion land, and come with all your house to Zion City," is the command. The general overseer declares that the need of capital is not due to a depression of the business of the Zion industries, but because the demand for Zion products is greater than the producing power of its present capital.

In an editorial comment on the letter "Dr." Dowie says:

"The same national financial conditions which caused us temporary embarrassment last year again have affected us, and, while we believe that the total value of Zion's estate has increased during the year by at least $5,000,000, yet we are in need of immediate cash resources for our ever growing institutions."

Letter Is in Facsimile.

Beloved in Christ our King:

Recognizing my solemn responsibility to God, to Zoin, and to you, I now address you as the prophet of whom Moses spake (Deut. xviii., 15; Acts iii., 22), and as Elijah the Restorer, whom the Christ declared should "first come and restore all things" (Mat. xix., 11.)

Herewith I send you under separate cover the full reports of two conferences on Zion's business institutions, setting forth the need of $2,000,000 of new capital, to be used in the extension and development of the financial, commercial, and industrial undertaking of Zion City. That need arises from our profitable business and the immense demand for our products, which it is far beyond our power to supply. Pray, read, and pray again.

"God has a right to your immediate obedience, and I have as his messenger and your chosen leader," is the closing admonition.

Creditors Still Suing Dowie.

Dowie's financial troubles continue, and the filing of new suits for debts keeps the road from Waukegan to Zion City busy with deputy sheriffs serving summonses on Elijah II. Hart, Schaffner & Marx have sued to recover $6,000, alleged to be due for clothing sold to the Zion City general stores. F. G. Hartwell & Co. have sued for $500 and the J. W. Butler Paper company for $700.

SAYS JUNK PILE HAD A CORE.

A pile of steel twelve feet high, sixteen feet long, and sixteen feet wide contains raw material valued at $3,000. If the pile appears solid, but contains "fillings" of empty boxes and worthless material, what is the value of the pile?

This is an abridged form of a problem which Justice Everett must solve for Louis Turnivas, agent for the Western Iron and Steel company, who accuses Jacob Williams, 403 South Canal street, of obtaining $3,000 upon false pretenses.

Turnivas alleges that he contracted for 3,072 cubic feet of scrap iron and steel, and upon seeing the pile he took the junk dealer's word that it was solid. When the heap was shoveled up, Turnivas says, he found it was packed like a basket of peaches from a down east fruit farm.

FORESTERS TO GIVE A DANCE.

The Holy Family court, Catholic Order of Foresters, will give a dance for charity tomorrow in the Second Regiment armory. The proceeds will be used to assist the sick and destitute members and their families during the winter. The Holy Family court is the oldest one in the order. City Prosecuting Attorney Thomas J. Johnson is chief ranger and John G. Keenan is chairman of the entertainment committee. The society has sent more than 10,000 invitations to the members and their friends.

WRESTLING ENDS IN DEATH.

It Was All Friendly, Walter Holberg Says, When Ericson's Skull Was Fractured.

Walter Holberg, Union and Kinzie streets, is held by the police pending the result of an inquest into the death of Henry Ericson, 1860 Washington boulevard. Ericson died yesterday at the county hospital after being unconscious two days at the residence of Ernest Edder, 77 North Ashland avenue. At the station Holberg declared he and Ericson had engaged in a friendly wrestling bout. The man had been thrown to the ground, and when he struck the floor his skull was fractured.
